77 Killed When U.S. Plane Crashes Into Hill On Guam

AGANA, Guam (AP)—At least 77 persons, most of them American military personnel and their wives and children homeward bound, died today in the thundering explosion and crash of a World Airways transport plane on a jungle-matted hill of this western Pacific island.

Seventeen persons were alive when rescuers got to the twisted shell of the plane but one of them died a few hours later.

The DC6B, on a contract flight for the U.S. Military Air Transport Service, crashed three minutes after takeoff from a refueling stop.

The wings were ripped off the giant plane as it plowed a 100-yard path through dense growth on the side of a 640-foot hill called Mt. Barrigada.

There were conflicting theories on what occurred. Some military sources said an explosion blew apart one of the four engines just before the crash. Others said the explosion came on the impact.

Military and civilian rescue units slashed their way up the dense hillside greenery with machetes and bolo knives.

The survivors were rushed to the U.S. Naval Air Station hospital in Agana. Two were reported in critical condition and 14 seriously hurt.

The plane left Clark Air Force Base north of Manila at 11:46 p.m. Sunday, Manila time, with an undisclosed number of passengers. It landed on Guam about 4 a.m. Monday, Guam time, refueled and took off at 6:02 a.m. It crashed three minutes later.

Those who boarded at Clark Air Force Base were mainly American military personnel from various posts in Asia. The plane was destined for Travis Air Force Base north of San Francisco.

Authorities here announced the plane carried 86 passengers and a crew of eight. But World Airways headquarters in Oakland, Calif., gave the crew total as seven. The navigator, Edgar W. Schwoyer of San Leandro, Calif., was the only crew member who survived.

Red Premier Reaches U.S. For UN Talk

K Cites Armaments Control As Greatest Problem In World

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived here today amid boos of anti - Communist demonstrators and called at once for "serious negotiations" with President Eisenhower on disarmament.

Khrushchev encountered an official chill — no top United States or other Western dignitaries were on hand — as he stepped from the Soviet liner Baltika for an historic United Nations General assembly session. Pelting rain and lowering skies darkened the scene.

About 150 officials of Communist nations were at the dilapidated East River pier where the Baltika docked to welcome the Soviet leader.

Their ovation could not drown out the boos and cries of "murderer, murderer!" from demonstrators held back by police at some distance from the pier.

Khrushchev smiled and waved from the deck as the ship docked but appeared impatient at the time it took to moor and set up the gangplank.

Scarcely was he ashore than he whipped out a 3½-page, single-spaced typewritten statement and began to read.

The Soviet said he did not understand Eisenhower's recently announced intention to address the United Nations on Thursday.

"If this does not mean a fancy speech but really constructive participation in the work of the assembly, we would welcome such a decision," Khrushchev said.

"The United States have perhaps reappraised their attitude on the assembly meeting and have also come to the conclusion that serious negotiation can be undertaken in the U.N. to reach a disarmament agreement."

Eisenhower already has served notice he has no intention of meeting with the Soviet leader unless he frees two imprisoned American RB47 fliers.

The President in announcing his intention to speak before the U.N. Thursday—a day ahead of Khrushchev—has made it clear it was a one-shot performance and that he has no intention of leading the American delegation.

Khrushchev voiced what he called his "profound respect" toward the American people.

"I retain the very best feelings from my visit to the United States last year, from my meeting with the American people," he went on. "And I have not forgotten the good impressions that I gained from talking with public and state leaders, with representatives of the U.S. business circles, with ordinary American workers, farmers, intellectuals."

Khrushchev termed "the problem of general and complete disarmament under the appropriate strict international control" as the cardinal question of international relationship.

He said "The evil forces who want to poison the atmosphere in relations between our countries

Assembly Planning Meetings Today On Issues Over Africa

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Sixteen African and Asian countries urged the General Assembly today to back Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's mission in the Congo.

They pushed their resolution in the face of the Soviet Union's campaign against Hammarskjold and its expressed determination to send the Congo help outside U. N. channels whenever it pleased.

The 82-nation Assembly, in emergency session on the Congo since Saturday, scheduled morning, afternoon and evening meetings today.

There were prospects it might adopt the resolution tonight, within hours after the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for the regular session opening Tuesday.

Assembly President Victor Andres Belaunde of Peru was ready to call another meeting Tuesday morning if necessary to finish with the issue in time to open the regular session on schedule at 3 p. m.

Besides Khrushchev, Presidents Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U. A. R., Tito of Yugoslavia and Sukarno of Indonesia, prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba and seven satellite and Soviet republic leaders will attend the regular session. President Eisenhower will speak Thursday.

En route to New York aboard the Soviet liner Baltika, Khrushchev said in a ship-to-shore interview that Hammarskjold was backing the Belgian colonialists in the Congo. He also said, "The Soviet Union has helped and will help the Congolese people in their struggle for independence."

The Asian-African resolution, introduced Sunday night, asked Hammarskjold "to continue to take vigorous action" to help the Congolese government keep law and order.

Hammarskjold has put an 18,000 man U.N. force in the Congo for that purpose. Without mentioning the force, the proposal called on all countries to refrain from sending war materials and military personnel to the Congo at this time "except upon the request of the United Nations through the secretary-general."

This appeal, the resolution said was "without prejudice to the sovereign rights of the Republic of the Congo"—whose sometime Premier Patrice Lumumba has accepted Soviet planes and trucks in his fight against secession movements and has insisted he is entitled to get aid outside the U.N.

Diplomatic sources, said this qualification was inserted to get Ghana and Guinea to become sponsors.

The other sponsors were Ceylon, Indonesia, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Liberia, Libya, Morocco, Nepal, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Tunisia, the United Arab Republic and Yemen.

Beaver Valley Steel Cutback Cited By USW

Unemployed Total Estimated At 4,500, Area Director Says

ATLANTIC CITY — Growing unemployment and part-time employment in steel centers of the industrial Beaver Valley have been cited as part of the overall national slowdown in employment attacked by the United Steelworkers of America at its 10th constitutional convention.

More than 3,500 delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada heard the keynote address by President David J. McDonald, who has repeatedly expressed grave concern over the growing unemployment cutbacks not only in steel but also in automobile manufacturing, mining and allied fields.

Kay Kluz, acting director of USW District 20, told delegates here that unemployment in the Beaver Valley has reached more than 4,500 in recent weeks and that "there is no significant increase in production expected to relieve the situation". With other United Steelworker leaders, Kluz agreed with McDonald's contention that the chief solution lies in a short work week—possibly 32 hours in steel — with the same take-home pay.

A Congressional amendment to the present 40-hour work week would be needed in any event and the convention was expected to call for legislative action from the new Congress to set the stage for the change.

Delegates here indicated that increased mechanization and automation in industry make early action imperative.

McDonald, who said that the United Steelworkers' program is aimed at helping not only the steelworkers but all the people who work for a living repeated his "theme for national economic recovery" — purchasing power in the hands of consumers.

"The best machine made cannot buy one loaf of bread," McDonald said. "Only human beings have purchasing power and the sooner this basic fact is recognized, the sooner will prosperity return to our communities, to our stores and shops and to the thousands of retail outlets that depend on consumer purchasing power."

He cited the need for new housing, new roads, new hospital facilities and adequate schools for a growing population.

Indicating that the depression already has arrived for many steelworkers and their families, McDonald emphasized that "the sooner federal leadership recognizes the needs of the people, the sooner will the nation be on the road to economic recovery."

The alternative, he said, is "economic chaos and national disaster."

District 20 members of the United Steelworkers have important roles in this week's convention and have been assigned to posts on some of the top committees.

Joseph D'Alosio of Midland Local 1212 is president of the constitution committee while John Palma of Aliquippa Local 1211 is a member of the officers report committee.

Robert Whorton of Monaca Local 1137 heads the ushers' committee. John Licker of Ambridge Local 1270 is an official of the appeals committee.

Charles Huntington of Beaver Falls Local 3437 is presiding on the resolutions committee while Director Kluz has been named to the constitution appeals and rules of order committees.

Pete Pietrandea, District 20 staff representative and legislative director, attended pre-convention legislative meetings which were headed by USW Legislative Director Frank N. Hoffman of Washington.

Florida Eyes Storm Center Nearing Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Florence followed her destructive sister's path westward through the Atlantic today, but she has not yet built up to Donna's dangerous proportions.

A morning bulletin from the Miami Weather Bureau placed the storm about 540 miles southeast of Miami and near Great Inagua Island in the Bahamas.

Florence's highest winds are estimated at 50 to 55 m.p.h. in a few squalls near and north of the center. Winds of 30 to 45 m.p.h. whirled out about 175 miles in the northeast semicircle.

A gradual turn to the north from the westerly course is expected to take the center near the northeast coast of Cuba.

Buildings Hit By Burglaries

Neighbors' Warning Interrupts One Case

Would-be burglars broke into the office of an oil company, an appliance store and a city school over the weekend, but apparently left empty-handed, police reported.

Thieves broke into the Central Appliance store on Dresden Ave. Sunday afternoon, but left when an alert neighbor heard footsteps and called the owner, who notified police.

Police said Mrs. Ruth Mosher, 628½ Dresden Ave., heard footsteps on the second floor of the old Faulk building and investigated. When she went downstairs, brake lights on a vehicle in the garage came on. She notified Basil Mangano, the owner, who went to the store and then called police.

Police said the thieves tore a hasp from a large door near an elevator shaft, went up to the second floor and removed boards barring a door leading to a chute into the rear of the appliance store. Holes were punched in some sheetrock and the thieves reached through and unlocked two bolts leading into the main storeroom, officers said.

The office of the Standard Oil Co. bulk plant on Gaston Ave. was ransacked Saturday night and an attempt was made to pry open a safe, police said.

Police said the attempt to pry open the floor safe was unsuccessful but a desk drawer had been forced open and the desk and office ransacked. Nothing apparently was taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a 16-x-20-inch window on the south side of the building, police said.

A window at Westgate School was broken and two other windows were unlocked Saturday night or early Sunday but apparently nothing was taken, police said.

Officers said a woman notified them of the broken window at the rear of the school. Investigation showed the window was broken near the catch and two other windows had been unlocked from the inside, they said.

Ohio Rights Unit Plans Steubenville Meeting

Ohio's Civil Rights Commission will conduct a series of fact-finding conferences during the next two weeks — including one in Steubenville Sept. 29.

Officials say the purpose is to gather information about the extent of discrimination in public accommodations. A spokesman said the cities are not considered trouble spots, but were selected to get regional representation and views in the fact-finding program.

Liquor Agent Slays Man In Raid On Joint

Clevelander Killed By Officer Who Was Fearful For His Life

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first Ohio liquor enforcement agent to kill a man during a raid said he did it because he feared for his own life.

The state agent, Paul Cotton, 33, told police he shot Charles S. Reed, also 33, after the man had pushed him into the corner of a kitchen and attacked him.

The shooting occurred early Sunday at the Hound Dog Club, an after - hours establishment catering to gambling and liquor customers.

Cotton fired his service revolver hitting Reed in the head. The agent said he used his gun when he noted Reed had put his hand into a pocket as if to draw a weapon. Several knives were found on the floor after the raid. Reed was a customer at the place.

Ivan W. Smith, Ohio liquor enforcement chief, was due here today from Columbus to check into all the details in the raid and fatal shooting. Smith placed Cotton on "sick leave."

He described the agent, who was shot at and almost killed in another raid two weeks ago, as "most imaginative" in his work. Smith added:

"Twice in two weeks he has risked his life and proved exceptional courage" and "should not be required to return to work as soon after such critical experiences. He should have a rest."

In regard to carrying of firearms by agents, Smith said they are under orders never to use them except for defense. "We would rather a prisoner escaped because we are dealing mostly with misdemeanors rather than felonies," the liquor chief explained.

At 3:30 a. m., Cotton and another liquor agent, Edward Payne, 40, visited the second-floor liquor and gambling spot. Cotton said he played at the dice table and was served beer and whisky. He said 30 to 35 persons were in the place.

A half hour later, Payne, who had been waiting in the car downstairs, attempted to follow Cotton inside. However, he was stopped by the doorman, who apparently recognized him, and they scuffled. A warning was shouted to the group upstairs.

Cotton said one of the owners grabbed up several bottles of whisky from the kitchen and dashed into the bathroom. Customers scurried for an escape route.

Cotton said he found himself surrounded by eight persons, including the muscular Reed, who was a machine operator for a noodle company. "One of the people turned me around and Reed began cursing me and said he was going to kill me," Cotton related.

"He pushed me hard and shoved me against the kitchen cabinets. Then he pushed me again," Cotton continued. The agent said it was then that he noticed Reed, still threatening, had put his hand into his pocket.

Police arrested 23 persons, but held only four. Those held included Charles Wright, 32, and James Harris, 39, who admitted owning the spot. Wright has worked 13 years with the Cleveland Street Department, while Harris has been employed for 15 years by the Cleveland Garbage Department.

Tighter Check On Closing Set At Beer Spots

Sheriff In Hancock Acts After Arrest Of 2 Outside Bar

Hancock County Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs today warned tavern owners that the 1 a. m. closing time will be enforced more strictly after two Pennsylvania youths were arrested early this morning on the grounds outside a Route 30 bar.

Hearings were scheduled at noon today before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for the two youths arrested outside the Cactus Bar in back of Chester at 5:40 a. m.

Sheriff's deputies also acted on a complaint and silenced a juke box in a Newell tavern at midnight Sunday.

The sheriff's office in New Cumberland said Wayne Petrosky, 18, of 840 Virginia Ave., Midland, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated and Donald E. Noel, 19, of Washington R. D. 1 was cited on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Deputies were called to the tavern area about 3 a. m. to disperse a group of patrons and returned at 5:40 and made the arrests. The tavern was closed when deputies arrived each time, the sheriff's office said.

"A bunch of Ohio and Pennsylvania boys come over here looking for trouble," Sheriff Hobbs declared. "The next time my deputies will bring them all in instead of breaking up the melee," he added.

Mobutu Foils Killer, Keeps Congo 'Quiet'

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo's reigning strongman, told today how he foiled an assassination plot, personally overcoming the gunman sent to kill him.

Mobutu charged army supporters of Patrice Lumumba with plotting the assassination attempt Sunday at about the same time the deposed premier came out of hiding.

Mobutu claimed he had been tipped off and was ready for the assassin, identified as Congolese army Maj. Vital Bakasa.

Mobutu told U.N. security officers that he was on guard when Bakasa entered his office with one hand in his pocket. Mobutu pounced on the major and managed to wrest from him a loaded and cocked revolver.

U.N. Moroccan soldiers doing guard duty outside Mobutu's office in Camp Leopold II rushed into the room on hearing the commotion and found the two men grappling on the floor.

Bakasa was overpowered and handed over to the Congolese army.

Mobutu, who seized control of the government in a bloodless coup last Wednesday, said Bakasa had made a full confession.

Mobutu said "the army will know how to deal with Bakasa" and the other officers he said were in the plot.

Congolese forces invading secessionist Katanga province meantime agreed to withdraw, dealing Lumumba another blow in his struggle for power.

The United Nations peace mission said the commander of Lumumba's striking forces Sunday approved creation of a 60-mile wide no-man's-land along the Katanga-Kivu border.

Castro Vows Silence Until U.N. Session

Cuban Leader Gets Boos, Cheers Upon Reaching New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Garrulous Fidel Castro says he will keep quiet until he addresses the United Nations General Assembly.

The revolutionary Prime Minister flew into New York Sunday to a boisterous welcome from his supporters, mixed later with boos and catcalls from his opposition.

He smiled and waved as he left the plane and said hoarsely: "I want to salute the people of the United States."

He added: "My English, the same as the last time, is not so good. All I have to say I will say to the United Nations."

A crowd of 3,000 at Idlewild Airport was waiting to greet the strapping 34 year old lawyer. Police kept all but a few hundred at the main gate, nearly two miles from where his plane stopped. They carried banners reading "Welcome Fidel, give them hell," "With Castro until I die—Cuba free," and the like.

As a 50-car motorcade left the airport, Castro tried to stop his car to greet those at the gate, but police hustled it along.

Raul Roa Jr., son of Cuba's foreign minister, said Castro will hold no news conferences before he addresses the United Nations.

"He will explain everything when he speaks on the 26th," Roa said. Castro is expected to join in Soviet denunciations of alleged U. S. aggression in Cuba and other Latin American nations, and to urge admission of Communist China to the U.N.

$2,000 Fire Destroys House Near Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A family of five was left homeless by a fire which swept through their four room home about a half mile southeast of here Saturday night at 7.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burke and three children were not at home when the fire broke out. East Palestine firemen said the entire house was in flames when they arrived.

The 80-year-old one-story building was owned by John Davies, who lives nearby. The loss to the house was estimated at $1,000, while the loss to the contents was more than $1,000. The cause was not known, firemen said.

Arson Blamed In Fire In 2 Empty Apartments

Arson was blamed in a fire which damaged two unoccupied apartments and a barbershop in the Peake Apartments at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. Sunday afternoon.

Firemen said a fire was set in a clothes closet in a second floor apartment.

Flames damaged a kitchen and three other rooms in the apartment and the bathroom of an adjoining unoccupied apartment. There was water damage in the Hargreaves barbershop on the first floor of the brick structure, firemen added.

The alarm was received at 2:55 p. m. The building, which is owned by the state, is expected to be removed for the right-of-way for the new city expressway, firemen said.

Firemen At Wellsville Cancel Annual Parade

After having been plagued all week by cold weather, Wellsville volunteer firemen had to cancel their homecoming parade Saturday night because of rain.

The firemen met Saturday afternoon and decided about 5 to call off the event. Various out-of-town units then were called and notified not to make the trip.

Cold weather last week held down the attendance at the carnival at Central Park.

The homecoming celebration in former years always was held in July, but had to be delayed this year because the firemen were unable to obtain a carnival.

Buildings Hit By Burglaries

Neighbors' Warning Interrupts One Case

Would-be burglars broke into the office of an oil company, an appliance store and a city school over the weekend, but apparently left empty-handed, police reported.

Thieves broke into the Central Appliance store on Dresden Ave. Sunday afternoon, but left when an alert neighbor heard footsteps and called the owner, who notified police.

Police said Mrs. Ruth Mosher, 6200 S. Dresden Ave., heard footsteps on the second floor of the old Faulk building and investigated. When she went downstairs, brake lights on a vehicle in the garage came on. She notified Basil Mangano, the owner, who went to the store and then called police.

Police said the thieves tore a hasp from a large door near an elevator shaft, went up to the second floor and removed boards barring a door leading to a chute into the rear of the appliance store. Holes were punched in some sheetrock and the thieves reached through and unlocked two bolts leading into the main storeroom, officers said.

The office of the Standard Oil Co. bulk plant on Gaston Ave. was ransacked Saturday night and an attempt was made to pry open a safe, police said.

Police said the attempt to pry open the floor safe was unsuccessful but a desk drawer had been forced open and the desk and office ransacked. Nothing apparently was taken. Entrance was gained by breaking a 16-a-20-inch window on the south side of the building, police said.

A window at Westgate School was broken and two other windows were unlocked Saturday night or early Sunday but apparently nothing was taken, police said.

Officers said a woman notified them of the broken window at the rear of the school. Investigation showed the window was broken near the catch and two other windows had been unlocked from the inside, they said.

Ohio Rights Unit Plans Steubenville Meeting

Ohio's Civil Rights Commission will conduct a series of fact-finding conferences during the next two weeks — including one in Steubenville Sept. 29.

Officials say the purpose is to gather information about the extent of discrimination in public accommodations. A spokesman said the cities are not considered trouble spots, but were selected to get regional representation and views in the fact-finding program.

Liquor Agent Slays Man In Raid On Joint

Clevelander Killed By Officer Who Was Fearful For His Life

CLEVELAND (AP) — The first Ohio liquor enforcement agent to kill a man during a raid said he did it because he feared for his own life.

The state agent, Paul Cotton, 33, told police he shot Charles S. Reed, also 33, after the man had pushed him into the corner of a kitchen and attacked him.

The shooting occurred early Sunday at the Hound Dog Club, an after - hours establishment catering to gambling and liquor customers.

Cotton fired his service revolver hitting Reed in the head. The agent said he used his gun when he noted Reed had put his hand into a pocket as if to draw a weapon. Several knives were found on the floor after the raid. Reed was a customer at the place.

Ivan W. Smith, Ohio liquor enforcement chief, was due here today from Columbus to check into all the details in the raid and fatal shooting. Smith placed Cotton on "sick leave."

He described the agent, who was shot at and almost killed in another raid two weeks ago, as "most imaginative" in his work. Smith added:

"Twice in two weeks he has risked his life and proved exceptional courage" and "should not be required to return to work as soon after such critical experiences. He should have a rest."

In regard to carrying of firearms by agents, Smith said they are under orders never to use them except for defense. "We would rather a prisoner escaped because we are dealing mostly with misdemeanors rather than felonies," the liquor chief explained.

At 3:30 a. m., Cotton and another liquor agent, Edward Payne, 60, visited the second-floor liquor and gambling spot. Cotton said he played at the dice table and was served beer and whisky. He said 30 to 35 persons were in the place.

A half hour later, Payne, who had been waiting in the car downstairs, attempted to follow Cotton inside. However, he was stopped by the doorman, who apparently recognized him, and they scuffled. A warning was shouted to the group upstairs.

Cotton said one of the owners grabbed up several bottles of whisky from the kitchen and dashed into the bathroom. Customers scurried for an escape route.

Cotton said he found himself surrounded by eight persons, including the muscular Reed, who was a machine operator for a noodle company. "One of the people turned me around and Reed began cursing me and said he was going to kill me," Cotton related.

"He pushed me hard and shoved me against the kitchen cabinets. Then he pushed me again," Cotton continued. The agent said it was then that he noticed Reed, still threatening, had put his hand into his pocket.

Police arrested 29 persons, but held only four. Those held included Charles Wright, 32, and James Harris, 38, who admitted owning the spot. Wright has worked 13 years with the Cleveland Street Department, while Harris has been employed for 15 years by the Cleveland Garbage Department.

Tighter Check On Closing Set At Beer Spots

Sheriff In Hancock Acts After Arrest Of 2 Outside Bar

Hancock County Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs today warned tavern owners that the 1 a. m. closing time will be enforced more strictly after two Pennsylvania youths were arrested early this morning on the grounds outside a Route 30 bar.

Hearings were scheduled at noon today before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for the two youths arrested outside the Cactus Bar in back of Chester at 5:40 a. m.

Sheriff's deputies also acted on a complaint and silenced a juke box in a Newell tavern at midnight Sunday.

The sheriff's office in New Cumberland said Wayne Petrosky, 18, of 840 Virginia Ave., Midland, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated and Donald E. Noel, 19, of Washington R. D. 1 was cited on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Deputies were called to the tavern area about 3 a. m. to disperse a group of patrons and returned at 5:40 and made the arrests. The tavern was closed when deputies arrived each time, the sheriff's office said.

"A bunch of Ohio and Pennsylvania boys come over here looking for trouble," Sheriff Hobbs declared. "The next time my deputies will bring them all in instead of breaking up the melee," he added.

Mobutu Foils Killer, Keeps Congo 'Quiet'

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu, the Congo's reigning strongman, told today how he foiled an assassination plot, personally overcoming the gunman sent to kill him.

Mobutu charged army supporters of Patrice Lumumba with plotting the assassination attempt Sunday at about the same time the deposed premier came out of hiding.

Mobutu claimed he had been tipped off and was ready for the assassin, identified as Congolese army Maj. Vital Bakasa.

Mobutu told U.N. security officers that he was on guard when Bakasa entered his office with one hand in his pocket. Mobutu pounced on the major and managed to wrest from him a loaded and cocked revolver.

U.N. Moroccan soldiers doing guard duty outside Mobutu's office in Camp Leopold II rushed into the room on hearing the commotion and found the two men grappling on the floor.

Bakasa was overpowered and handed over to the Congolese army.

Mobutu, who seized control of the government in a bloodless coup last Wednesday, said Bakasa had made a full confession.

Mobutu said "the army will know how to deal with Bakasa" and the other officers he said were in the plot.

Congolese forces invading secessionist Katanga province meantime agreed to withdraw, dealing Lumumba another blow in his struggle for power.

The United Nations peace mission said the commander of Lumumba's striking forces Sunday approved creation of a 60-mile wide no-man's-land along the Katanga-Kivu border.

$2,000 Fire Destroys House Near Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A family of five was left homeless by a fire which swept through their four room home about a half mile southeast of here Saturday night at 7.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burke and three children were not at home when the fire broke out. East Palestine firemen said the entire house was in flames when they arrived.

The 60-year-old one-story building was owned by John Davies, who lives nearby. The loss to the house was estimated at $1,000, while the loss to the contents was more than $1,000. The cause was not known, firemen said.

Castro Vows Silence Until U.N. Session

Cuban Leader Gets Boos, Cheers Upon Reaching New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Garrulous Fidel Castro says he will keep quiet until he addresses the United Nations General Assembly.

The revolutionary Prime Minister flew into New York Sunday to a boisterous welcome from his supporters, mixed later with boos and catcalls from his opposition.

He smiled and waved as he left the plane and said hoarsely: "I want to salute the people of the United States."

He added: "My English, the same as the last time, is not so good. All I have to say I will say to the United Nations."

A crowd of 3,000 at Idlewild Airport was waiting to greet the strapping 34 year old lawyer. Police kept all but a few hundred at the main gate, nearly two miles from where his plane stopped. They carried banners reading "Welcome Fidel, give them hell," "With Castro until I die—Cuba free," and the like.

As a 50-car motorcade left the airport, Castro tried to stop his car to greet those at the gate, but police hustled it along.

Raul Roa Jr., son of Cuba's foreign minister, said Castro will hold no news conferences before he addresses the United Nations.

"He will explain everything when he speaks on the 26th," Roa said. Castro is expected to join in Soviet denunciations of alleged U. S. aggression in Cuba and other Latin American nations, and to urge admission of Communist China to the U.N.

Arson Blamed In Fire In 2 Empty Apartments

Arson was blamed in a fire which damaged two unoccupied apartments and a barbershop in the Peake Apartments at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. Sunday afternoon.

Firemen said a fire was set in a clothes closet in a second floor apartment.

Flames damaged a kitchen and three other rooms in the apartment and the bathroom of an adjoining unoccupied apartment. There was water damage in the Hargreaves barbershop on the first floor of the brick structure, firemen added.

The alarm was received at 2:55 p. m. The building, which is owned by the state, is expected to be removed for the right-of-way for the new city expressway, firemen said.

Firemen At Wellsville Cancel Annual Parade

After having been plagued all week by cold weather, Wellsville volunteer firemen had to cancel their homecoming parade Saturday night because of rain.

The firemen met Saturday afternoon and decided about 5 to call off the event. Various out-of-town units then were called and notified not to make the trip.

Cold weather last week held down the attendance at the carnival at Central Park.

The homecoming celebration in former years always was held in July, but had to be delayed this year because the firemen were unable to obtain a carnival.

Backing Auto Hurts Woman On City Street

An East End woman suffered a sprained neck when she was knocked down by a backing auto Saturday afternoon, one of 7 mishaps reported by police over the weekend.

Mrs. Jean Franklin, 42, of 2001 Michigan Ave. was released from City Hospital after being treated for the sprained neck and contusions of the left ankle after she was knocked to the pavement by a backing car operated by Anne Picklesimer, 38, of Chester R. D. 1.

The Chester woman said she had halted at E. 6th St. and Crook Alley to let some children out of the car. She said she looked to the rear, saw no one and started to back when she heard a scream. Mrs. Picklesimer said she halted, went to the rear of the car and found Mrs. Franklin on the street writing down the license number of the car.

A dog was blamed for a mishap Sunday at 5:21 p. m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Sylvan St. which caused slight damage to cars operated by Robert Heacock, 30, of 826 Lincoln Ave. and Ellis McMillen, 49, of 2205 Michigan Ave.

Heacock told police he was headed west in a car owned by Orland Cunningham, 416 Grant St., when the dog ran in front of his car.

When he applied his brakes to avoid striking the dog, the sudden halt knocked his child to the floor and he reached for her. When he picked her up the child bumped him and caused the car to swerve, striking the McMillen auto.

A 2-x-6-inch board bracing an advertising billboard was damaged early Sunday when the brakes on his car grabbed, Earl E. Jackson, 30, of 454 1st Ave. told police.

Jackson said he had pulled from Pennsylvania Ave. into a driveway and applied his brakes. The car swerved to the right striking the board, he said.

Wet pavement was blamed for a collision Saturday afternoon at Park Way Ext. and Macrum St., police said.

Cars operated by Raymond Betteridge, 29, of Dixonville and Bertram Wakefield, 23, of 945 McKinnon Ave. were unable to stop at the intersection, the drivers told police.

Claire S. Halstead of Hookstown R. D. 1 told police she was driving south on Broadway when an unidentified motorist backed from a parking space and struck her car. She reported the license number of the Ohio car to police.

Minor damage was caused Saturday at 3:47 p. m. at Jackson St. and Summit Ln. when Esther C. Clinton, 67, of 918 Avondale St. backed from a parking space and struck a westbound car operated by Ted L. Smith, 421 Wells Hollow Rd., Wellsville.

Thomas P. Crawford Jr., 17, of Glenmoor reported to police late Saturday afternoon that two pieces of siding at the home of Dr. J. L. Ward, 2103 St. Clair Ave., were damaged when he backed into the house while turning his car late Friday night.

Physicist Says Black Coffee Cools Fastest

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Roy W. Carlson, a physicist and engineer, says your coffee will cool faster if you let it stand a few minutes before adding cream.

Dr. Carlson says this is why:

1. Before the cream is added, the coffee is cooling from a higher temperature and hence faster.
2. The coffee is darker in color without the cream and therefore radiates heat faster.
3. Adding the cream, with its fat molecules, slows the evaporation of the water in the coffee.

Dr. Carlson, whose home is Berkeley, Calif., was here as a consulting engineer.

He has a hobby of applying physics to everyday life — for example, how to cool coffee faster.

Judge Fines Own Wife For Parking Violations

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton Jr. fined his wife $20 for two overtime parking tickets and said:

"I hate to do this because it probably will come out of my own pocket."

Mrs. Glanton, an attorney, said she had not been in her office for eight weeks and had not received the notices.

Boy Driver Fined

LISBON — James E. Rice, 14, of Columbiana R. D. 2 was fined $25 for driving without an operator's license at a hearing at the Courthouse. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Khrushchev

will invariably sustain a defeat."

Khrushchev spoke into a public address microphone. He paused after each sentence or two while a translator put his words into English. The complete procedure took 35 minutes.

The Communist chiefs of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria also addressed the gathering on the pier.

After the speeches, Khrushchev was sped in a black limousine, surrounded by police car escort, to the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, at Park Avenue and 68th Street.

A continuing downpour of rain kept thoroughfares along the 2½-mile route virtually deserted.

Khrushchev said the Soviet delegation is coming to the United Nations "in the name of consolidating peace and solving complicated international issues."

"It is, after all, known that however dark the night, the dawn invariably breaks," he declared.

The premier was welcomed enthusiastically by 100 or so Soviet greeters, including several girls bearing flowers. He waved heartily as he walked down the gangplank, and smiled broadly.

Hardly audible on the pier was the chorus of boos from a crowd kept by police lines across East River Drive, several hundred feet away. There cries of "Murderer!" from the crowd.

The Soviet leader denounced as "a strange sort of logic" the recent criticism by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter of his visit as propaganda.

"If certain individuals declare that Khrushchev has come to the United Nations General Assembly to indulge in propaganda, it only remains for me to take pride in such a propaganda mission for the good of peace," he said.

"I shall spare no effort in making such propaganda until even the thick-skulled convince themselves of the necessity to reach agreement on general disarmament and thereby assure world peace."

Boos and catcalls greeted the Soviet leader when his ship Baltika arrived.

The white hulled ship, a red stripe around her single stack, came in view of the Battery at 8:40 a.m. but only commuters arriving aboard the Staten Island Ferry noted the ship as it moved slowly though light fog.

As the Baltika swung out of the main channel into the East River, absent was the 21-gun salute from Governors Island Army headquarters customarily accorded a visiting head of state.

A boatload of longshoremen gave the Baltika a seagoing Bronx cheer, but all vessels were prevented from getting closer than 500 feet to the Baltika.

At the leaky pier where the ship docks, the red carpet which had been rolled out already was soggy as rain fell through holes in the roof.

Many of the dignitaries there to greet Khrushchev were forced to raise umbrellas even though they were under cover.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Janos Kadar, Hungary, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-dej of Rumania, Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria and other Communist leaders.

Hundreds of police and security officials watched as Soviet officials lined up cars at the pier to take the Khrushchev party to the Soviet U.N. delegation on Park Avenue.

Pier, 73, at E. 25th St., one of the city's most dilapidated, was under heavy guard all night.

On East River Drive, more than 150 anti-Communist pickets marched and jeered. Their ranks grew by the minute.

At the end of pier 73, the flags of the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania flew in a light drizzle.

Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro was the first of a procession of anti-American foreign leaders to arrive Sunday. Wladyslaw Gomulka, Communist leader of Poland, and Czechoslovakian President Antonin Novotny flew in later.

President Eisenhower has called for calm and reasonable conduct by Americans during the visits. But the appeal did little to dampen Sunday's noisy, brawling demonstrations.

Mounted and foot policemen clashed with 2,000 anti-Khrushchev demonstrators who tried to force their way into the Park Avenue headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations.

They carried placards and screamed: "Khrushchev is a murderer" and "Butcher of the Ukraine."

An emergency call went out, and police reinforcements arrived to disperse the crowd. Most of the demonstrators were of Baltic and Ukrainian backgrounds. Several were arrested.

Police were prepared for trouble during Castro's arrival at Idlewild airport. Instead, the Cuban leader was cheered by about 3,000 supporters when he stepped from a Cubana airliner.

"I salute the American people," he said in English. "Anything I will have to say I will say at the United Nations."

Castro, dressed in his customary olive green uniform with open collar, was escorted by a dozen bearded bodyguards. At his hotel on Manhattan's East Side he was booed and jeered. But the boos were drowned out by the cheers of about 1,000 pro Castro forces.

Police arrested two Cubans who swapped blows.

Anti-Castro demonstrators also paraded in front of the U. N. building. A man and woman who chained themselves to a lamp post to protest the Castro visit were cut free by police — then hauled off to jail.

There were no demonstrations, however, for the Czech and Polish leaders, who flew in together in a Swiss airliner.

Men 14 Stories Up See 'Low-Down' Theft

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What happens when men up high see a low theft?

Here they called police — and their voices were heard from the 14th floor of a new building on which they were working. They saw a young boy get into a car parked by a man and drive away. They shouted to police its route which they could see from their vantage point. The car was found abandoned. The boy had disappeared.

Band Uniforms Found, Employe Still Missing

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — John G. Miller, who runs a musical instrument company, frantically called police when a special order of 12 band uniforms valued at $900 turned up missing.

An employe had been instructed to ship the uniforms by air. But neither the uniforms nor employe showed up at the airport.

Miller checked every junk and garbage collector in town and went through 100 bus station lockers. Then he found them in a vacant room in his own shop. The employe is still missing.

Backing Auto Hurts Woman On City Street

An East End woman suffered a sprained neck when she was knocked down by a backing auto Saturday afternoon, one of 7 mishaps reported by police over the weekend.

Mrs. Jean Franklin, 42, of 2001 Michigan Ave. was released from City Hospital after being treated for the sprained neck and contusions of the left ankle after she was knocked to the pavement by a backing car operated by Anne Picklesimer, 38, of Chester R. D. 1.

The Chester woman said she had halted at E. 6th St. and Crook Alley to let some children out of the car. She said she looked to the rear, saw no one and started to back when she heard a scream. Mrs. Picklesimer said she halted, went to the rear of the car and found Mrs. Franklin on the street writing down the license number of the car.

A dog was blamed for a mishap Sunday at 5:21 p. m. at Pennsylvania Ave. and Sylvan St. which caused slight damage to cars operated by Robert Heacock, 30, of 826 Lincoln Ave. and Ellis McMillen, 49, of 2205 Michigan Ave.

Heacock told police he was headed west in a car owned by Orland Cunningham, 416 Grant St., when the dog ran in front of his car.

When he applied his brakes to avoid striking the dog, the sudden halt knocked his child to the floor and he reached for her. When he picked her up the child bumped him and caused the car to swerve, striking the McMillen auto.

A 2-x-6-inch board bracing an advertising billboard was damaged early Sunday when the brakes on his car grabbed, Earl E. Jackson, 30, of 454 1st Ave. told police.

Jackson said he had pulled from Pennsylvania Ave. into a driveway and applied his brakes. The car swerved to the right striking the board, he said.

Wet pavement was blamed for a collision Saturday afternoon at Park Way Ext. and Macrum St., police said.

Cars operated by Raymond Betteridge, 29, of Dixonville and Bertram Wakefield, 23, of 945 McKinnon Ave. were unable to stop at the intersection, the drivers told police.

Claire S. Halstead of Hookstown R. D. 1 told police she was driving south on Broadway when an unidentified motorist backed from a parking space and struck her car. She reported the license number of the Ohio car to police.

Minor damage was caused Saturday at 3:47 p. m. at Jackson St. and Summit Ln. when Esther C. Clinton, 67, of 918 Avondale St. backed from a parking space and struck a westbound car operated by Ted L. Smith, 421 Wells Hollow Rd., Wellsville.

Thomas P. Crawford Jr., 17, of Glenmoor reported to police late Saturday afternoon that two pieces of siding at the home of Dr. J. L. Ward, 2103 St. Clair Ave., were damaged when he backed into the house while turning his car late Friday night.

Physicist Says Black Coffee Cools Fastest

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Roy W. Carlson, a physicist and engineer, says your coffee will cool faster if you let it stand a few minutes before adding cream.

Dr. Carlson says this is why:

1. Before the cream is added, the coffee is cooling from a higher temperature and hence faster.

2. The coffee is darker in color without the cream and therefore radiates heat faster.

3. Adding the cream, with its fat molecules, slows the evaporation of the water in the coffee.

Dr. Carlson, whose home is Berkeley, Calif., was here as a consulting engineer.

He has a hobby of applying physics to everyday life — for example, how to cool coffee faster.

Judge Fines Own Wife For Parking Violations

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton Jr. fined his wife $20 for two overtime parking tickets and said:

"I hate to do this because it probably will come out of my own pocket."

Mrs. Glanton, an attorney, said she had not been in her office for eight weeks and had not received the notices.

Boy Driver Fined

LISBON — James E. Rice, 14, of Columbiana R. D. 2 was fined $25 for driving without an operator's license at a hearing at the Courthouse. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Khrushchev

will invariably sustain a defeat."

Khrushchev spoke into a public address microphone. He paused after each sentence or two while a translator put his words into English. The complete procedure took 35 minutes.

The Communist chiefs of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria also addressed the gathering on the pier.

After the speeches, Khrushchev was sped in a black limousine, surrounded by police car escort, to the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, at Park Avenue and 68th Street.

A continuing downpour of rain kept thoroughfares along the 2½-mile route virtually deserted.

Khrushchev said the Soviet delegation is coming to the United Nations "in the name of consolidating peace and solving complicated international issues."

"It is, after all, known that however dark the night, the dawn invariably breaks," he declared.

The premier was welcomed enthusiastically by 100 or so Soviet greeters, including several girls bearing flowers. He waved heartily as he walked down the gangplank, and smiled broadly.

Hardly audible on the pier was the chorus of boos from a crowd kept by police lines across East River Drive, several hundred feet away. There cries of "Murderer!" from the crowd.

The Soviet leader denounced as "a strange sort of logic" the recent criticism by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter of his visit as propaganda.

"If certain individuals declare that Khrushchev has come to the United Nations General Assembly to indulge in propaganda, it only remains for me to take pride in such a propaganda mission for the good of peace," he said.

"I shall spare no effort in making such propaganda until even the thick-skulled convince themselves of the necessity to reach agreement on general disarmament and thereby assure world peace."

Boos and catcalls greeted the Soviet leader when his ship Baltika arrived.

The white hulled ship, a red stripe around her single stack, came in view of the Battery at 8:40 a.m. but only commuters arriving aboard the Staten Island Ferry noted the ship as it moved slowly though light fog.

As the Baltika swung out of the main channel into the East River, absent was the 21-gun salute from Governors Island Army headquarters customarily accorded a visiting head of state.

A boatload of longshoremen gave the Baltika a seagoing Bronx cheer, but all vessels were prevented from getting closer than 500 feet to the Baltika.

At the leaky pier where the ship docks, the red carpet which had been rolled out already was soggy as rain fell through holes in the roof.

Many of the dignitaries there to greet Khrushchev were forced to raise umbrellas even though they were under cover.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Janos Kadar, Hungary, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-dej of Rumania, Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria and other Communist leaders.

Hundreds of police and security officials watched as Soviet officials lined up cars at the pier to take the Khrushchev party to the Soviet U.N. delegation on Park Avenue.

Nixon For President

We have reread a passage in Vice President Nixon's acceptance speech at Chicago that said:

"I am sure you will understand why I do not say that I alone am the man who can furnish . . . leadership. That question is not for me to decide, but for you—and I only ask that the thousands of you in this hall and the millions of you listening to me on television make that decision in the most thoughtful way you possibly can, because what you decide this November will not only affect your lives and your future, it will affect the future of millions throughout the world."

This appeal for personal consideration by voters has been repeated within the last few days by Richard Nixon. It is a vital point in his campaign.

It is Mr. Nixon's way of saying that his chance of winning the 1960 election depends on the thoughtfulness of his fellow citizens over and above political partisanship.

He has special reasons for thinking this.

His opponent is the favorite on a partisan basis. The Democratic party has not only an edge in the South and the Border States but is the majority party in big-city registration and in industrial-state voting.

If Vice President Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge cannot convert voters otherwise inclined to favor Democratic candidates, they haven't a chance.

They must persuade great numbers of men and women to be thoughtful enough, long enough, to compare them with Sen. Kennedy and Sen. Johnson.

WHAT DO VOTERS need to think about?

In behalf of Vice President Nixon, whom it is our privilege to endorse, and in behalf of his running mate, Ambassador Lodge, we suggest these special points for thoughtfulness by voters:

1. PRESIDENT EISENHOWER gave Vice President Nixon the first opportunity in the history of the American presidency to understudy the job. For the first time, Americans have a man groomed for acceptance of presidential responsibility.

If this precedent is spurned by voters, it is not likely to be followed by future presidents. The only reason for spurning it would be widespread dissatisfaction with the administration that made it possible. We do not believe there is widespread dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Kennedy and his fellow campaigners are dissatisfied with it, as could be expected when their purpose is to discredit it. But their dissatisfaction is beginning to sound so much like the dissatisfaction expressed by Premier Khrushchev, Prime Minister Castro and their kind that voters are beginning to resent the similarity of complaints.

2. VICE PRESIDENT Nixon reacted to his opportunity to understudy President Eisenhower with intelligence, tact and a degree of political savvy that have restored the respectability which professional politics lost during the Truman administration. Sen. Kennedy, too, has a professional touch, but he is by no means the "old pro" that Nixon has become in the last eight years.

3. MR. NIXON is the nominee of an integrated political party, whereas Mr. Kennedy is the nominee of a coalition of irreconcilable minorities.

Mr. Nixon does not have to appease such weirdly assorted backers as AFL-CIO executives who want Mr. Kennedy in the White House for their purposes and conservative southerners who want him in the White House so they may continue to dominate the Democratic politics of their one-party state.

We do not believe Sen. Kennedy's coalition deserves a popular mandate. It has done nothing to prove it was worthy of a mandate to control Congress. We do not think Kennedy or any other Democrat can pull together its separate and quarreling elements.

4. VICE PRESIDENT Nixon, next to President Eisenhower and former President Truman, is the best known American in the world today. Millions have seen him, in the countries he has visited while he was vice president. He is identified with a point of view that has won respect for the United States as the bastion of defense against communism.

Sen. Kennedy would be just as zealous as Mr. Nixon in his fight to save mankind from oppression by the self-appointed god-men of the Communist Conspiracy. But the fact is, Mr. Kennedy is a comparative stranger to a world that already knows what Mr. Nixon stands for. He would be at a disadvantage in a nip-and-tuck fight that doesn't let the contestants take time out to catch their breath.

5. IN DOMESTIC POLICY, where Americans will make the ultimate decision whether to chase the Old World down the road of collectivism or keep blazing a New World trail to new heights of individualism and dignity, there simply is no comparison between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy. Kennedy has sold out to the American socialists in all their assorted disguises. He has prettied up socialism with bright voter-baiting promises. But there is nothing bright about the dismal prospect of more federal power, more federal debt, more controls and finally the ultimate end of all socialism — seizure of all private enterprise by political grabsters.

We do not believe Socialism is the New Frontier for Americans.

We cannot believe that the way to beat communism is to imitate it.

We believe the way to beat communism is to renew our dedication to the ideals of the American Revolution. Vice President Nixon called it, in his acceptance speech at Chicago, the revolution that "caught the imagination of the world 180 years ago and still lives in the minds and hearts of people everywhere."

RICHARD NIXON has shown himself to be a true product of the American heritage.

Like most of us in America, he has had to earn his place with his own efforts. Like most of us in America, he is not contemptuous of the opportunities that gave him the privilege of rising out of obscurity.

Unlike most of us, he has risen to political eminence.

For his countrymen to repudiate him at the climax of his career would be to repudiate their own ideals of opportunity.

These are the things voters should think about before Nov. 8.

Which presidential candidate comes closer to being the reflection of the American dream?

Which man has earned the greater right to political leadership?

Which one — Richard Nixon or John Kennedy — has shown the greater promise of political leadership?

And because in 1960 the presidential ticket is being hyphenated in voters' thoughts, is Nixon-Lodge to be preferred over Kennedy-Johnson?

If Democratic voters in the South and the machine-bossed cities of the East, North and West answer these questions objectively, Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge will be the next president and vice president of the United States.

The turning point of the campaign will be the ability of the Nixon-Lodge campaign to persuade Democratic voters to put national interest ahead of partisanship.

Reply of a railroad worker to the recent request of New Haven R.R. for a loan of 10 per cent to help it for next six months:

Dear President: Well, I got your request that I lend you some dough to help make both ends meet and I was just about to ask something from the road to help me out of my own economic problems.

I have been in a hole before but this is the first time a railroad has been in it with me. It makes me dizzy. I would like to help as we are old friends but if you think you have financial troubles you should look at mine.

You have no grocery, drugstore, gasoline or TV repair bills. A railroad has no dentist hounding it for money.

Then there is my wife who runs the budget. You should of heard her when I told her "Sweety Pie, the railroad wants to borrow money from us." She made sounds like an old steam locomotive trying to haul a long freight up an icy slope.

I tried to explain it was the first time the railroad had rattled the cup in front of us, but no dice.

She yelled "You signed up as a brakeman, not as Santa Claus. I bet the road wants you should pay for your own Santa Claus costume and bring your own reindeer."

Well, one word led to another and she went home to her mother, taking along all the loose change and piggy-bank money. So you will have to take the whole matter of borrowing our money up with her. Yours truly, Benny, the brakeman.

Some new medicines are called wonder drugs because it's a wonder anybody can pay for them except on the installment plan.

In these days of troubled marriages and divorces, it's cheering to toast Lawrence Langner and Armina Marshall, celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary. He has been top man behind the Theater Guild since its origin and his wife has been helpmate all the way. She is an Oklahoma gal who came to Broadway barely out of her teens to seek a stage career. Langner dashed off a helpful note, "Please do what you can for this girl," to Theresa Helburn. A job as extra followed and it wound up in romance and happy marriage.

Kennedy-Nixon TV debate will be as far from a debate as "Queen For A Day" from "Wagon Train." It's really not a debate at all, but a high-speed quiz hour with time limit answers, time keepers, stop watches and a half dozen question shooters.

It could have the tempo of a ten-inning ball game or a TV pro wrestling hour.

Lincoln-Douglas debates were in age when it took days and even weeks to get the full details. Abe and Stephen had no pushbutton routines.

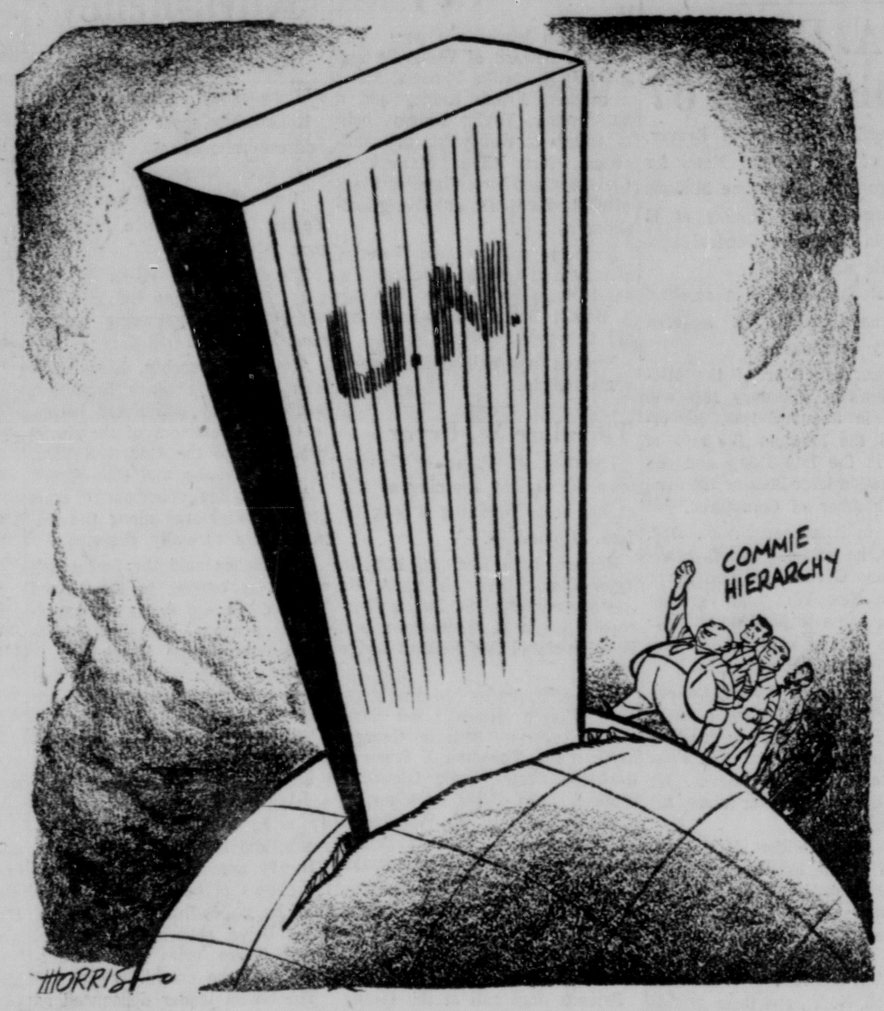
It wasn't important that they have the facial make-up and the right-colored shirt to get their views across on vital issues. Had there been TV in their day, our history book comment might have carried press clipping, "Neither man got a good rating due to the Harriet Beecher Stowe Hour and her Uncle Tom's Cabin show on rival stations."

We think Nixon would be smart to bring a guitar or ukelele and some folk songs. And if we were Kennedy, we would show up with a clarient and bring along Jacqueline, the wife.

This is an eating campaign. A really smart candidate should carry a "double" or "stand-in," some fellow with iron stomach, to whom he can slip some of the hot dogs, lobster rolls, fried clams, knockwurst and blintzes.

This is a fight in which to take the bicarbonate of soda before and after eating prevents major problems. (There is just a possibility Dick Nixon's bad knee will prove an advantage. It kept him out of the early digestion-tract tests in the race for the presidency.)

The Would-Be World Splitters



Steel Union Chief Faces Conflict

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY

No one should shout "Oh, Mister" in this convention town at silver-haired, 57-year-old David McDonald, leader of the steel strike which shook the globe and made national politics last year.

Victor Riesel

"Oh, Mister" is a warning, not a welcome. It is the war cry of a group of Steelworkers now concentrating on the presidential election — of 1961.

The "Oh, Mister" band is out to topple McDonald from the United Steelworkers leadership late next winter.

The fighting slogan is made up of the call letters of the opposition "inside Steel" — an opposition which says that McDonald has been fraternizing too closely with the land's social and industrial elite.

In view of the 116-day steel shutdown led by McDonald, this criticism could be a sign of the return of the turbulence of the 30s, should the anti - McDonald grass root movement win in the February 1961 union presidential balloting.

THE "OH, MISTER" battle cry springs from the letters OMR—the Organization for Membership Rights — a new name picked by the group this past May. At that time 75 rank-and-file leaders—some of them the heads of powerful Steel Union locals in the Pittsburgh area —ran a two - day anti-McDonald conference.

Now, four months later, at the Steelworkers biennial convention, the "Oh, Mister" coalition appears to have considerable support among the thousands of delegates.

Every convention has its built-in rumors. The scuttlebut here is that Don Rarick, the fellow who rolled up hundreds of thousands of votes against McDonald in the 1957 race, will run again against the urbane Steel Union leader in February.

But Rarick will have an additional ally this time. The son of the late CIO chief, Phil Murray, by the name of Joe, will be running for vice president.

This is not just union politics, this is a story involving the state of the union known as the United States.

Certainly, the story is obscured by the Nixon - Kennedy race. But some of us up close see far more than a contest between rank-and-filers and the man who loves to drop into New York's Colony Restaurant for a drink with Ben Fairless, head of the Iron and Steel Institute.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that Dave McDonald administers his 1.25 million - member union with IBM efficiency. But that has not kept foreign competition and automation from chopping over 130,000 steel workers from their jobs and shoving 350,000 on part time.

That's why McDonald has been pounding away at Dick Nixon, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John Kennedy for support of a 30-hour week.

The "Oh, Mister" opposition says that's fine but it's away in the distance. What they want now, say Don Rarick and his allies, is a real get-tough-with-management policy.

And they are being listened to by many regional leaders who still remember and love Phil Murray and psychically resent McDonald's stepping into his place.

The importance of this sentiment is that it might actually beat or come close to beating McDonald and trigger a chain reaction in other unions hit by automation.

Pressure from below would force the more cautious national union chiefs to reach back into their youthful militancy. Typical is what Mike Quill did with his private war on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Everywhere the issues are the same.

THE OPPOSITION inside steel, for example, has a six-point program demanding in part, a ban on something called "contracting out."

Steel industrialists take a dim view of this, for it would mean that they would have to use only Steelworkers on extension of buildings, repairs, etc., instead of simply going to a contractor and saying, the job and its headaches are all yours.

Also the "Oh, Mister" coalition wants a six-hour day at eight hours pay; local ratification of contracts by some 2,995 locals (McDonald's international headquarters now makes these pacts); contractual guarantees on hiring members of minority groups; easier and earlier retirement rights; changes in grievance procedures which would give local leaders greater power in dealing with management and a veto over the decision of the new Human Relations Committee set up after the last strike to avert future walkouts.

Remember, on this front it is also true that as steel goes so goes the nationa.

Topsy-Turvy Politics

By Raymond Moley

Like the late hurricane Donna and her many sisters before her, political directions have unpredictable, capricious ways.

Of all campaigns of recent years, this one offers the most in novelty. Whether the present indications will prevail in November involves entering an area of speculation which this writer is too experienced to enter.

My correspondent in Chicago, who is a close observer of politics in the Midwest, writes this in a letter:

"Last night I talked with some of the Evanston workers in what is called 'Non-Partisans for Nixon.' One of them said, 'I am for Nixon. I am not for the rest of the Republican ticket.' Probings in Wisconsin indicate the same trend.

In Indiana and Illinois there are incumbent Republican governors, one of whom, Gov. Stratton of Illinois, is a candidate for re-election.

THE ODDS are that, if the election were held now, both state houses would be carried by Democrats. But Nixon would carry both states.

A fine, stalwart Republican newspaper, the Rockford (Ill.) Morning Star, recently editorially urged the defeat of Gov. Stratton. But it is strongly supporting Nixon-Lodge.

The Indianapolis Star has charged that the Democratic national committeeman is trading off his national ticket for support of the state ticket, including the candidate for governor.

The word is being passed among Democrats that while certain Democratic candidates for high state offices voted for the Democratic platform in Los Angeles, they really don't believe in all that socialistic stuff.

In Iowa the situation is similar. In the usually reliable poll by the farm paper Wallace's Farmer, the latest returns show that among farmers Gov. Loveless, a Democrat running for the Senate, is ahead and Nixon is ahead of Kennedy.

In the South there seems to be no defection in support of Democratic candidates, from sheriff to governor. But in several areas Nixon-Lodge seems more appealing than Kennedy-Johnson.

In Texas, if the arrangements hold by which Johnson runs for vice president and Senate too, the tall man from Johnson City may well remain the majority leader in January.

In Oregon the switch is the other way. The Republican governor, while not a candidate this year, is quite popular but the Nixon forces are badly organized.

IN EARLIER YEARS a successful presidential candidate carried through the bulk of his ticket. But the days of the coat-tails are gone. That was shown in 1948 when Truman ran behind his candidates for Congress.

It is difficult to generalize about this situation. Some may believe that party loyalty is in the decline with a new generation.

If so, it is regrettable, because a strong two - party system is an essential to a stable political system. But what some believe as a principle may not be understood by the mass of voters.

A Citizens for Nixon or for Kennedy organization is a direct invitation to split the ticket. But those who wish it that way cannot be stopped and since it is their right to organize as they choose, they will continue regardless of what happens to the party as a whole.

On the Republican side the weakness of so many state and local organizations seems to make such groups necessary. A candidate for president is a material fact easily understood.

The party may be, to many, a vague abstraction. But there is a danger there, because without hard work by the regulars, Nixon might lose some vital states.

It may be, as one shrewd observer has it, that this year the presidency is being weighed on different scales than candidacies for lesser offices.

There is also, especially in Illinois and Indiana, considerable discontent with the way state affairs have been conducted under Republican control.

All this might lead the reader to believe that this is a prediction of a sweep for Nixon. That is not to be assumed. For the election may well be decided in California, New York, and Pennsylvania, which present somewhat different equations.

Equal Time For U.S.

By David Lawrence

Official Reply Needed If Mr. K Goes On Air

Will the American people have "equal time" on the television and radio to reply to Nikita Khrushchev?

David Lawrence

The Moscow radio is telling the world that the Soviet premier has been "deluged" with invitations from television and broadcasting organizations in this country to speak while he is in New York City. Mr. Khrushchev's movements have been restricted to Manhattan by order of the U.S. Department of State but there can be no restriction on the distance his voice may travel through the air to distribute his propaganda.

The principle of "equal time" has become a symbol of fair play in political debate in this country. In fact, Congress has by law provided that the candidates of the two major parties must be given equal time over the air.

By analogy, it is equally important that in the middle of a political campaign some visitor from a foreign country, whose words are designed to influence the course of the presidential contest, shall not be permitted to make a presentation of his views without a rebuttal from an authoritative American source.

THE BROADCASTING and television companies naturally do not like to give up time unnecessarily and they usually like to fit rebuttal programs into schedules at their own convenienve.

But in a case as vital to the interest of the United States as an answer to the propaganda campaign carried on by Nikita Khrushchev, it is essential that the reply program be put on to the same audience and immediately after the Soviet propagandist has spoken.

It is quite possible that the broadcasting and television companies may deem it desirable to invite Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy to make separate replies after the Soviet premier has spoken.

Certainly there would be a big audience for such a dramatic rejoinder provided it followed directly after Mr. Khrushchev's appearance on the air.

It isn't important which nominee may gain an advantage from the reply programs, as each speech will be judged on its merits. But it is necessary that the American people be told instantly of the deceptions and false statements the Soviet premier is bound to make judging by the line he has taken in the past and his utter disregard of factual data in discussing international affairs.

It isn't enough to arrange for unofficial persons to comment on the Soviet premier's talks. There are large segments of the American people which will wish to get the United States government's own point of view.

Indeed, it would be a ten-strike if the U.S. secretary of state, Christian Herter, would agree to make an answer immediately after Nikita Khrushchev speaks.

One of the subjects, it is believed, that the the Soviet premier will dwell upon is the demand for admission of Red China into the United Nations.

It has been reported widely that the addition of several new countries in Africa — 15 have been approved by the Security Council for admission — will tip the voting balance in favor of the Soviets and that this will enable them to force the entrance of Red China into the U.N.

But this is an erroneous assumption. Actually, the United Nations General Assembly can vote to approve the admission of new members only after the Security Council has formally recommended such a step.

THE UNITED STATES possesses a veto power in the Security Council and so does Nationalist China.

There is no way by which Nationalist China can be "expelled" or forced out of the Security Council because China is designated in the U.N. charter as a permanent member.

If Nationalist China, which has obeyed the charter, can be fired from the Security Council, it would mean that the Soviet Union, which has repeatedly violated the obligations and decisions of the United Nations, could be similarly dismissed.

It would be risky for the Moscow government to try this procedure in the case of Nationalist China.

Also, if the question is raised as to whether the Nationalist government is the true representative of the Chinese people, this would open the way to an inquiry as to who represents whom all along the line in many countries now members of the U.N.

It would bring up, too, an interesting question with respect to the eligibility of Mr. Khrushchev to represent 200 million people, when there have been no free elections in his country and everyone knows he rules by dictatorship.

THE CHARTER, after designating the permanent members, says, "Membership in the United Nations is open to all other peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present charter and, in the judgment of the organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

But the Soviet Union actually made war on a United Nations military force in Korea from 1950 to 1953 by supplying arms to the North Korean and Red Chinese armies.

This is certainly not in any sense "peace-loving" or carrying out the obligations of the charter.

Maybe these are some of the points American spokesmen will discuss if the subject of Red China's admission to the Security Council is raised by Mr. Khruschev.

It may be timely to recall that in 1951 the United Nations General Assembly, by formal resolution, declared Red China an aggressor in the Korean War, in which many lives were lost by U.N. countries, including nearly 55,000 Americans.

Purely Personal

The rules in fouls committed in the back court in Olympic basketball are so much more sensible than those now enforced in the United States, where basketball was invented, that rules-makers in this country owe players and other basketball buffs an apology.

It may cause me to be asked to turn in my copy pencil, but my sympathy is with television in the squabble over asking newspapermen to appear with the presidential candidates when they make their joint TV appearances. I see no reason why TV personalities shouldn't hog this show, if they want to. Newspapers don't ask TV interviewers to help them.

If I were high commissioner of baseball or football, I would clamp a ban on statements about players' aches and pains as if these miseries were news. I do not want to know that my favorite halfback has a gimpy leg any more than I want to know that my favorite actress has a headache. Leave us, please, with our illusions. They're all we have.

People who squawk about the way other people behave, without acknowledging that their own behavior leaves much to be desired, invite close attention to their peculiarities. Such as politicians who whimper because their opponents are playing dirty. What could be dirtier than a bid for sympathy?

There aren't many experiences in a lifetime so memorable they would bear repeating. But one I could enjoy every September would be going away to college again — one that was repeated four times but would bear repeating 40 times.

I predict November will catch more voters by surprise this year than usual. Nothing about the presidential campaign this year is normal. First, the tail-end session of Congress. Then Nixon's foot. Then Kennedy's difficulty in projecting himself as a campaigner. Now the distraction at the United Nations. First thing we know, something will have happened to the rest of September and all of October.

My new brown cap is off to the crews of Polaris submarines, who must get their special missiles off and away while standing, go to speak, on the launching pad. Elsewhere, missilemen are snugged up in concrete blockhouses with walls thick enough to withstand a direct hit.

I have used long-distance dialing only once, which is not a reflection on the system but the result of having the younger members of our family at home all summer where toll telephoning isn't necessary to find out if they are still alive.

My worst gardening failure this year was with tuberoses, which never bloomed. My best success was with three beds of pansies, which bloomed continuously and are still outdoing themselves halfway through September.

A friend has just given me an excellent guide to familiar American trees, published by Golden Press. In five minutes I have learned more about the trees that grow around this part of the country than I ever found out before.

It gives me no pleasure to report that my convictions about taking Nikita Khrushchev in stride are not shared by the sensationalists of my profession, who are getting ready to have a newsprint hemorrhage over every leer and sneer of the visiting Big Brother.

Nixon For President

We have reread a passage in Vice President Nixon's acceptance speech at Chicago that said:

"I am sure you will understand why I do not say that I alone am the man who can furnish . . . leadership. That question is not for me to decide, but for you—and I only ask that the thousands of you in this hall and the millions of you listening to me on television make that decision in the most thoughtful way you possibly can, because what you decide this November will not only affect your lives and your future, it will affect the future of millions throughout the world."

This appeal for personal consideration by voters has been repeated within the last few days by Richard Nixon. It is a vital point in his campaign.

It is Mr. Nixon's way of saying that his chance of winning the 1960 election depends on the thoughtfulness of his fellow citizens over and above political partisanship.

He has special reasons for thinking this.

His opponent is the favorite on a partisan basis. The Democratic party has not only an edge in the South and the Border States but is the majority party in big-city registration and in industrial-state voting.

If Vice President Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge cannot convert voters otherwise inclined to favor Democratic candidates, they haven't a chance.

They must persuade great numbers of men and women to be thoughtful enough, long enough, to compare them with Sen. Kennedy and Sen. Johnson.

WHAT DO VOTERS need to think about?

In behalf of Vice President Nixon, whom it is our privilege to endorse, and in behalf of his running mate, Ambassador Lodge, we suggest these special points for thoughtfulness by voters:

1. PRESIDENT EISENHOWER gave Vice President Nixon the first opportunity in the history of the American presidency to understudy the job. For the first time, Americans have a man groomed for acceptance of presidential responsibility.

If this precedent is spurned by voters, it is not likely to be followed by future presidents. The only reason for spurning it would be widespread dissatisfaction with the administration that made it possible. We do not believe there is widespread dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Kennedy and his fellow campaigners are dissatisfied with it, as could be expected when their purpose is to discredit it. But their dissatisfaction is beginning to sound so much like the dissatisfaction expressed by Premier Khrushchev, Prime Minister Castro and their kind that voters are beginning to resent the similarity of complaints.

2. VICE PRESIDENT Nixon reacted to his opportunity to understudy President Eisenhower with intelligence, tact and a degree of political savvy that have restored the respectability which professional politics lost during the Truman administration. Sen. Kennedy, too, has a professional touch, but he is by no means the "old pro" that Nixon has become in the last eight years.

3. MR. NIXON is the nominee of an integrated political party, whereas Mr. Kennedy is the nominee of a coalition of irreconcilable minorities.

Mr. Nixon does not have to appease such weirdly assorted backers as AFL-CIO executives who want Mr. Kennedy in the White House for their purposes and conservative southerners who want him in the White House so they may continue to dominate the Democratic politics of their one-party state.

We do not believe Sen. Kennedy's coalition deserves a popular mandate. It has done nothing to prove it was worthy of a mandate to control Congress. We do not think Kennedy or any other Democrat can pull together its separate and quarreling elements.

4. VICE PRESIDENT Nixon, next to President Eisenhower and former President Truman, is the best known American in the world today. Millions have seen him, in the countries he has visited while he was vice president. He is identified with a point of view that has won respect for the United States as the bastion of defense against communism.

Sen. Kennedy would be just as zealous as Mr. Nixon in his fight to save mankind from oppression by the self-appointed god-men of the Communist Conspiracy. But the fact is, Mr. Kennedy is a comparative stranger to a world that already knows what Mr. Nixon stands for. He would be at a disadvantage in a nip-and-tuck fight that doesn't let the contestants take time out to catch their breath.

5. IN DOMESTIC POLICY, where Americans will make the ultimate decision whether to chase the Old World down the road of collectivism or keep blazing a New World trail to new heights of individualism and dignity, there simply is no comparison between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy. Kennedy has sold out to the American socialists in all their assorted disguises. He has prettied up socialism with bright voter-baiting promises. But there is nothing bright about the dismal prospect of more federal power, more federal debt, more controls and finally the ultimate end of all socialism — seizure of all private enterprise by political grabsters.

We cannot believe that the way to beat communism is to imitate it.

We believe the way to beat communism is to renew our dedication to the ideals of the American Revolution. Vice President Nixon called it, in his acceptance speech at Chicago, the revolution that "caught the imagination of the world 180 years ago and still lives in the minds and hearts of people everywhere."

And because in 1960 the presidential ticket is being hyphenated in voters' thoughts, is Nixon-Lodge to be preferred over Kennedy-Johnson?

If Democratic voters in the South and the machine-bossed cities of the East, North and West answer these questions objectively, Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge will be the next president and vice president of the United States.

The turning point of the campaign will be the ability of the Nixon-Lodge campaign to persuade Democratic voters to put national interest ahead of partisanship.

At that time 75 rank-and-file leaders—some of them the heads of powerful Steel Union locals in the Pittsburgh area —ran a two - day anti-McDonald conference.

Now, four months later, at the Steelworkers biennial convention, the "Oh, Mister" coalition appears to have considerable support among the thousands of delegates.

Every convention has its built-in rumors. The scuttlebut here is that Dan Rarick, the fellow who rolled up hundreds of thousands of votes against McDonald in the 1957 race, will run again against the urbane Steel Union leader in February.

But Rarick will have an additional ally this time. The son of the late CIO chief, Phil Murray, by the name of Joe, will be running for vice president.

This is not just union politics, this is a story involving the state of the union known as the United States.

Certainly, the story is obscured by the Nixon - Kennedy race. But some of us up close see far more than a contest between rank-and-filers and the man who loves to drop into New York's Colony Restaurant for a drink with Ben Fairless, head of the Iron and Steel Institute.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that Dave McDonald administers his 1.25 million - member union with IBM efficiency. But that has not kept foreign competition and automation from chopping over 130,000 steel workers from their jobs and shoving 350,000 on part time.

That's why McDonald has been pounding away at Dick Nixon, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John Kennedy for support of a 30-hour week.

The "Oh, Mister" opposition says that's fine but it's away in the distance. What they want now, say Dan Rarick and his allies, is a real get-tough-with-management policy.

And they are being listened to by many regional leaders who still remember and love Phil Murray and psychically resent McDonald's stepping into his place.

The importance of this sentiment is that it might actually beat or come close to beating McDonald and trigger a chain reaction in other unions hit by automation.

Pressure from below would force the more cautious national union chiefs to reach back into their youthful militancy. Typical is what Mike Quill did with his private war on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Everywhere the issues are the same.

THE OPPOSITION inside steel, for example, has a six-point program demanding in part, a ban on something called "contracting out."

Steel industrialists take a dim view of this, for it would mean that they would have to use only Steelworkers on extension of buildings, repairs, etc., instead of simply going to a contractor and saying, the job and its headaches are all yours.

Also the "Oh, Mister" coalition wants a six-hour day at eight hours pay; local ratification of contracts by some 2,995 locals (McDonald's international headquarters now makes these pacts); contractual guarantees on hiring members of minority groups; easier and earlier retirement rights; changes in grievance procedures which would give local leaders greater power in dealing with management and a veto over the decision of the new Human Relations Committee set up after the last strike to avert future walkouts.

Remember, on this front it is also true that as steel goes so goes the nations.

Topsy-Turvy Politics

By Raymond Moley

Like the late hurricane Donna and her many sisters before her, political directions have unpredictable, capricious ways.

Of all campaigns of recent years, this one offers the most in novelty. Whether the present indications will prevail in November involves entering an area of speculation which this writer is too experienced to enter.

My correspondent in Chicago, who is a close observer of politics in the Midwest, writes this in a letter:

"Last night I talked with some of the Evanston workers in what is called 'Non-Partisans for Nixon.' One of them said, 'I am for Nixon. I am not for the rest of the Republican ticket.' Probings in Wisconsin indicate the same trend.

In Indiana and Illinois there are incumbent Republican governors, one of whom, Gov. Stratton of Illinois, is a candidate for re-election.

THE ODDS are that, if the election were held now, both state houses would be carried by Democrats. But Nixon would carry both states.

A fine, stalwart Republican newspaper, the Rockford (Ill.) Morning Star, recently editorially urged the defeat of Gov. Stratton. But it is strongly supporting Nixon-Lodge.

The Indianapolis Star has charged that the Democratic national committeeman is trading off his national ticket for support of the state ticket, including the candidate for governor.

The word is being passed among Democrats that while certain Democratic candidates for high state offices voted for the Democratic platform in Los Angeles, they really don't believe in all that socialistic stuff.

In Iowa the situation is similar. In the usually reliable poll by the farm paper Wallace's Farmer, the latest returns show that among farmers Gov. Loveless, a Democrat running for the Senate, is ahead and Nixon is ahead of Kennedy.

In the South there seems to be no defection in support of Democratic candidates, from sheriff to governor. But in several areas Nixon-Lodge seems more appealing than Kennedy-Johnson.

In Texas, if the arrangements held by which Johnson runs for vice president and Senate too, the tall man from Johnson City may well remain the majority leader in January.

In Oregon the switch is the other way. The Republican governor, while not a candidate this year, is quite popular but the Nixon forces are badly organized.

IN EARLIER YEARS a successful presidential candidate carried through the bulk of his ticket. But the days of the coat-tails are gone. That was shown in 1948 when Truman ran behind his candidates for Congress.

It is difficult to generalize about this situation. Some may believe that party loyalty is in the decline with a new generation.

If so, it is regrettable, because a strong two - party system is an essential to a stable political system. But what some believe as a principle may not be understood by the mass of voters.

A Citizens for Nixon or for Kennedy organization is a direct invitation to split the ticket. But those who wish it that way cannot be stopped and since it is their right to organize as they choose, they will continue regardless of what happens to the party as a whole.

On the Republican side the weakness of so many state and local organizations seems to make such groups necessary. A candidate for president is a material fact easily understood.

The party may be, to many, a vague abstraction. But there is a danger there, because without hard work by the regulars, Nixon might lose some vital states.

It may be, as one shrewd observer has it, that this year the presidency is being weighed on different scales than candidacies for lesser offices.

There is also, especially in Illinois and Indiana, considerable discontent with the way state affairs have been conducted under Republican control.

All this might lead the reader to believe that this is a prediction of a sweep for Nixon. That is not to be assumed. For the election may well be decided in California, New York, and Pennsylvania, which present somewhat different equations.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Cecil Finney and Ralph Chaney were qualified as presidents of the Chester junior and sophomore classes, respectively.

The Board of Education decided to close the two-room elementary school at Walkers and the one-room Trenivale School.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Columbiana County Board of Elections, which was to supervise the registration in October for an expected 13,500 county men for Uncle Sam's selective military service, appealed to judges and clerks in the county's 112 voting precincts to serve without pay in the one-day task.

East Liverpool City Hospital had one of 15 "iron lung" respirators in use in Ohio.

TEN YEARS AGO — A survey showed an 89 per cent increase in payrolls during a sharp recovery in district business and industry during August.

The 105th Columbiana County Fair ended with a total attendance of 12,300.

Equal Time For U.S.

By David Lawrence

Official Reply Needed If Mr. K Goes On Air

Will the American people have "equal time" on the television and radio to reply to Nikita Khrushchev?

David Lawrence

The Moscow radio is telling the world that the Soviet premier has been "deluged" with invitations from television and broadcasting organizations in this country to speak while he is in New York City. Mr. Khrushchev's movements have been restricted to Manhattan by order of the U.S. Department of State but there can be no restriction on the distance his voice may travel through the air to distribute his propaganda.

The principle of "equal time" has become a symbol of fair play in political debate in this country. In fact, Congress has by law provided that the candidates of the two major parties must be given equal time over the air.

By analogy, it is equally important that in the middle of a political campaign some visitor from a foreign country, whose words are designed to influence the course of the presidential contest, shall not be permitted to make a presentation of his views without a rebuttal from an authoritative American source.

THE BROADCASTING and television companies naturally do not like to give up time unnecessarily and they usually like to fit rebuttal programs into schedules at their own convenience.

But in a case as vital to the interest of the United States as an answer to the propaganda campaign carried on by Nikita Khrushchev, it is essential that the reply program be put on to the same audience and immediately after the Soviet propagandist has spoken.

It is quite possible that the broadcasting and television companies may deem it desirable to invite Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy to make separate replies after the Soviet premier has spoken.

Certainly there would be a big audience for such a dramatic rejoinder provided it followed directly after Mr. Khrushchev's appearance on the air.

It isn't important which nominee may gain an advantage from the reply programs, as each speech will be judged on its merits. But it is necessary that the American people be told instantly of the deceptions and false statements the Soviet premier is bound to make judging by the line he has taken in the past and his utter disregard of factual data in discussing international affairs.

It isn't enough to arrange for unofficial persons to comment on the Soviet premier's talks. There are large segments of the American people which will wish to get the United States government's own point of view.

Indeed, it would be a ten-strike if the U.S. secretary of state, Christian Herter, would agree to make an answer immediately after Nikita Khrushchev speaks.

One of the subjects, it is believed, that the the Soviet premier will dwell upon is the demand for admission of Red China into the United Nations.

It has been reported widely that the addition of several new countries in Africa — 15 have been approved by the Security Council for admission — will tip the voting balance in favor of the Soviets and that this will enable them to force the entrance of Red China into the U.N.

But this is an erroneous assumption. Actually, the United Nations General Assembly can vote to approve the admission of new members only after the Security Council has formally recommended such a step.

THE UNITED STATES possesses a veto power in the Security Council and so does Nationalist China.

There is no way by which Nationalist China can be "expelled" or forced out of the Security Council because China is designated in the U.N. charter as a permanent member.

If Nationalist China, which has obeyed the charter, can be fired from the Security Council, it would mean that the Soviet Union, which has repeatedly violated the obligations and decisions of the United Nations, could be similarly dismissed.

It would be risky for the Moscow government to try this procedure in the case of Nationalist China.

Also, if the question is raised as to whether the Nationalist government is the true representative of the Chinese people, this would open the way to an inquiry as to who represents whom all along the line in many countries now members of the U.N.

It would bring up, too, an interesting question with respect to the eligibility of Mr. Khrushchev to represent 200 million people, when there have been no free elections in his country and everyone knows he rules by dictatorship.

THE CHARTER, after designating the permanent members, says, "Membership in the United Nations is open to all other peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present charter and, in the judgment of the organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

But the Soviet Union actually made war on a United Nations military force in Korea from 1950 to 1953 by supplying arms to the North Korean and Red Chinese armies.

This is certainly not in any sense "peace-loving" or carrying out the obligations of the charter.

Maybe these are some of the points American spokesmen will discuss if the subject of Red China's admission to the Security Council is raised by Mr. Khrushchev.

It may be timely to recall that in 1951 the United Nations General Assembly, by formal resolution, declared Red China an aggressor in the Korean War, in which many lives were lost by U.N. countries, including nearly 35,000 Americans.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

The rules in fouls committed in the back court in Olympic basketball are so much more sensible than those now enforced in the United States, where basketball was invented, that rules-makers in this country owe players and other basketball buffs an apology.

It may cause me to be asked to turn in my copy pencil, but my sympathy is with television in the squabble over asking newspapermen to appear with the presidential candidates when they make their joint TV appearances. I see no reason why TV personalities shouldn't hog this show, if they want to. Newspapers don't ask TV interviewers to help them.

If I were high commissioner of baseball or football, I would clamp a ban on statements about players' aches and pains as if these miseries were news. I do not want to know that my favorite halfback has a gimpy leg any more than I want to know that my favorite actress has a headache. Leave us, please, with our illusions. They're all we have.

People who squawk about the way other people behave, without acknowledging that their own behavior leaves much to be desired, invite close attention to their peculiarities. Such as politicians who whimper because their opponents are playing dirty. What could be dirtier than a bid for sympathy?

There aren't many experiences in a lifetime so memorable they would bear repeating. But one I could enjoy every September would be going away to college again — one that was repeated four times but would bear repeating 40 times.

I predict November will catch more voters by surprise this year than usual. Nothing about the presidential campaign this year is normal. First, the tail-end session of Congress. Then Nixon's foot. Then Kennedy's difficulty in projecting himself as a campaigner. Now the distraction at the United Nations. First thing we know, something will have happened to the rest of September and all of October.

My new brown cap is off to the crews of Polaris submarines, who must get their special missiles off and away while standing, go to speak, on the launching pad. Elsewhere, missilemen are snugged up in concrete blockhouses with walls thick enough to withstand a direct hit.

I have used long-distance dialing only once, which is not a reflection on the system but the result of having the younger members of our family at home all summer where toll telephoning isn't necessary to find out if they are still alive.

My worst gardening failure this year was with tuberoses, which never bloomed. My best success was with three beds of pansies, which bloomed continuously and are still outdoing themselves halfway through September.

A friend has just given me an excellent guide to familiar American trees, published by Golden Press. In five minutes I have learned more about the trees that grow around this part of the country than I ever found out before.

It gives me no pleasure to report that my convictions about taking Nikita Khrushchev in stride are not shared by the sensationalists of my profession, who are getting ready to have a newsprint hemorrhage over every leer and sneer of the visiting Big Brother.

APPLES — 333,374 bushels (293,523); peaches — 47,094 bushels (53,401); Christmas trees sold—10,583; maple syrup made — 695 gallons; strawberries — 310,119 quarts (193,582).

Chicken eggs sold totaled 2,686,370, compared to 2,144,847 in 1954, while milk and cream sales totaled $3,273,060, compared to $2,769,477 in 1954.

OLIVER McADOO
He's Chosen As 'Cover Man'.

Wellsville Man's Picture Used On Crucible Annual

Oliver P. McAdoo, a long-time resident of Wellsville and a heater in the merchant mill at the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works, is featured on the cover of the annual edition of the company's employee publication, the Crucible Steelman.

McAdoo, a 33-year employe of the company, represents some 14,000 Crucible people. He was selected as "cover man" because this summer he, like the company, celebrated his 60th birthday. The firm was organized in 1900 when 13 steel companies joined together to form Crucible Steel Co. of America.

Pictured with McAdoo in the booklet are his wife and son, Kenneth, who works in the structural shop.

The annual Steelman is a 20-page booklet which tells the story of Crucible — its products, its facilities and its people. These details of the company's operations are told by means of stories and pictures of individual employes. The annual is being distributed to all employes.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo reside at 705 Broadway.

Mishaps Hurt 13 From Area Over Weekend

Thirteen persons, injured in various minor mishaps, were treated at City Hospital over the weekend.

Nine were hurt Saturday. Miss Cynthia Martin, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, 1421 St. Clair Ave., cut her leg on a trunk at home Saturday morning.

Miss Ruth Ann Hughes, 12, daughter of Mrs. Clinton Hughes of Lisbon St., suffered a possible fracture and dislocation of a finger of her right hand when she fell at home Saturday afternoon.

Clyde Smith, 39, of Glenmoor received a laceration of the right wrist when a wrench slipped as he was working.

Richard Lee Jones, 6, son of Richard Jones of R. D. 1, lacerated his scalp when he fell and struck his head on a heater at home.

Mary Robinson, 11, daughter of Raymond Robinson of Globe St., cut her finger on a milk bottle.

Stephen Bobolick, 3, son of Mrs. John Bobolick, 1700 Clark Ave., Wellsville, lacerated his forehead when he fell while playing Saturday night.

Arthur Blackhurst, 57, of Grant St. also suffered a laceration of the scalp in a fall.

Robert Myers, 18, son of Walter Myers, 1155 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a puncture wound of the right foot when he stepped on a nail Saturday night.

While working on a truck, Elmer Garn, 17, son of Elmer Garn of Hookstown, cut his left wrist.

Four were treated Sunday. Michaelene Patricia Lovett of 5th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a bruise of the face when she fell down steps at home Sunday afternoon.

James Allison, 18, son of Cecil Allison, 934 Peake St., cut his right eye while playing football in the afternoon.

Darlene Flemming, 10, daughter of Malcolm Flemming, 890 Valley Ave., suffered lacerations of the right arm and the palm of her hand when she fell with a bottle.

Paul Downard, 30, of Wellsville R. D. 1 cut his wrist while working on a car motor Sunday night.

2 Drivers Forfeit Bonds At Chester

Two motorists forfeited $15.50 bonds Saturday before Chester Mayor Ray Collins.

Clarence L. Bishop of Hookstown was due a hearing on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a muffler. He was cited Friday night by Patrolman Clarence Lennens.

Norman Seckman, 876 Grandview Ave., East Liverpool, forfeited on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street. He was cited Thursday night, also by Lennens.

Charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace were dropped against Mrs. Nancy Clay of Fairview St., Chester, by Miss Dorothy Mikeals of Carolina Ave., her sister, who had filed them. Miss Mikeals paid the costs.

Mrs. Clay was arrested Friday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edna Mikeals, 414 Carolina Ave.

Motorist Hurt Slightly When Auto Overturns

L. R. Smith, 55, of R. D. 2 escaped with minor injuries Saturday at 4 p. m. when hs auto overturned down a 25-foot embankment on Dewey Ave. Ext. about midway between Pennsylvania Ave. and Dixonville.

Smith's 1957 model auto was a total loss, according to Constables Richard Barnes and Clifford Owens of Liverpool Township, who investigated. Smith told the constables he was driving north on the township road when his car got close to the edge of the road and rolled over the hillside.

Smith suffered abrasions of the right leg and contusions of the hip and right arm. Admitted to City Hospital overnight, he was released Sunday.

Youths Face Quizzing On Auto's Ownership

LISBON — Three Pennsylvania youths who fled a $2 gasoline bill early Sunday at the Friendly Four Restaurant on Route 30 south of Lisbon are to be questioned by the FBI today at the County Jail.

The youths were apprehended by Minerva police and Carroll County Sheriff Dean Yager 23 minutes after Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan issued a radio alert at 4:35 a. m.

Authorities checked on the boys' 1953 Lincoln and learned it was reported stolen Saturday at McKees Rocks, Pa. Two of the youths are juveniles, 16 and 17, from McKees Rocks. The other is Charles E. Hawk, 20, of Pittock, Pa.

Intruders Get Fixin's For Mammoth Feast

LISBON — Sheriff's deputies spent most of Sunday morning looking without success for signs of an all-night party in the Calcutta area after the ingredients for a mammoth feast were taken in a burglary.

James Sitler of Calcutta, opening the Bright Spot at 8 a. m., found the rear window pried open and his stock depleted by two five-gallon cans of ice cream, 14 pounds of hamburger, ham, bologna, potato chips, three pounds of cheese, candy and gum. Even the silverware was taken.

OLIVER McADOO
He's Chosen As 'Cover Man'.

Wellsville Man's Picture Used On Crucible Annual

Oliver P. McAdoo, a long-time resident of Wellsville and a heater in the merchant mill at the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works, is featured on the cover of the annual edition of the company's employee publication, the Crucible Steelman.

McAdoo, a 33-year employe of the company, represents some 14,000 Crucible people. He was selected as "cover man" because this summer he, like the company, celebrated his 60th birthday. The firm was organized in 1900 when 13 steel companies joined together to form Crucible Steel Co. of America.

Pictured with McAdoo in the booklet are his wife and son, Kenneth, who works in the structural shop.

The annual Steelman is a 20-page booklet which tells the story of Crucible — its products, its facilities and its people. These details of the company's operations are told by means of stories and pictures of individual employes. The annual is being distributed to all employes.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo reside at 705 Broadway.

2 Drivers Forfeit Bonds At Chester

Two motorists forfeited $15.50 bonds Saturday before Chester Mayor Ray Collins.

Clarence L. Bishop of Hookstown was due a hearing on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a muffler. He was cited Friday night by Patrolman Clarence Lennens.

Norman Seckman, 876 Grandview Ave., East Liverpool, forfeited on a charge of driving the wrong way on a one-way street. He was cited Thursday night, also by Lennens.

Charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace were dropped against Mrs. Nancy Clay of Fairview St., Chester, by Miss Dorothy Mikeals of Carolina Ave., her sister, who had filed them. Miss Mikeals paid the costs.

Mrs. Clay was arrested Friday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. Edna Mikeals, 414 Carolina Ave.

Intruders Get Fixin's For Mammoth Feast

LISBON — Sheriff's deputies spent most of Sunday morning looking without success for signs of an all-night party in the Calcutta area after the ingredients for a mammoth feast were taken in a burglary.

James Siller of Calcutta, opening the Bright Spot at 8 a. m., found the rear window pried open and his stock depleted by two five-gallon cans of ice cream, 14 pounds of hamburger, ham, bologna, potato chips, three pounds of cheese, candy and gum. Even the silverware was taken.

Mishaps Hurt 13 From Area Over Weekend

Thirteen persons, injured in various minor mishaps, were treated at City Hospital over the weekend.

Nine were hurt Saturday. Miss Cynthia Martin, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, 1421 St. Clair Ave., cut her leg on a trunk at home Saturday morning.

Miss Ruth Ann Hughes, 12, daughter of Mrs. Clinton Hughes of Lisbon St., suffered a possible fracture and dislocation of a finger of her right hand when she fell at home Saturday afternoon.

Clyde Smith, 39, of Glenmoor received a laceration of the right wrist when a wrench slipped as he was working.

Richard Lee Jones, 6, son of Richard Jones of R. D. 1, lacerated his scalp when he fell and struck his head on a heater at home.

Mary Robinson, 11, daughter of Raymond Robinson of Globe St., cut her finger on a milk bottle.

Stephen Bobolick, 3, son of Mrs. John Bobolick, 1700 Clark Ave., Wellsville, lacerated his forehead when he fell while playing Saturday night.

Arthur Blackhurst, 57, of Grant St. also suffered a laceration of the scalp in a fall.

Robert Myers, 18, son of Walter Myers, 1155 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a puncture wound of the right foot when he stepped on a nail Saturday night.

While working on a truck, Elmer Garn, 17, son of Elmer Garn of Hookstown, cut his left wrist.

Four were treated Sunday. Michaelene Patricia Lovett of 5th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a bruise of the face when she fell down steps at home Sunday afternoon.

James Allison, 18, son of Cecil Allison, 934 Peake St., cut his right eye while playing football in the afternoon.

Darlene Flemming, 10, daughter of Malcolm Flemming, 890 Valley Ave., suffered lacerations of the right arm and the palm of her hand when she fell with a bottle.

Paul Downard, 30, of Wellsville R. D. 1 cut his wrist while working on a car motor Sunday night.

Motorist Hurt Slightly When Auto Overturns

L. R. Smith, 35, of R. D. 2 escaped with minor injuries Saturday at 4 p. m. when hs auto overturned down a 25-foot embankment on Dewey Ave. Ext. about midway between Pennsylvania Ave. and Dixonville.

Smith's 1957 model auto was a total loss, according to Constables Richard Barnes and Clifford Owens of Liverpool Township, who investigated. Smith told the constables he was driving north on the township road when his car got close to the edge of the road and rolled over the hillside.

Smith suffered abrasions of the right leg and contusions of the hip and right arm. Admitted to City Hospital overnight, he was released Sunday.

Youths Face Quizzing On Auto's Ownership

LISBON — Three Pennsylvania youths who fled a $2 gasoline bill early Sunday at the Friendly Four Restaurant on Route 30 south of Lisbon are to be questioned by the FBI today at the County Jail.

The youths were apprehended by Minerva police and Carroll County Sheriff Dean Yager 23 minutes after Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan issued a radio alert at 4:35 a. m.

Authorities checked on the boys' 1953 Lincoln and learned it was reported stolen Saturday at McKees Rocks, Pa. Two of the youths are juveniles, 16 and 17, from McKees Rocks. The other is Charles E. Hawk, 20, of Pittock, Pa.

Driver Jailed On 3rd Arrest For No Permit

Arrested for the third time for driving without a license, an East End man was given a 10-day term in the County Jail today when he appeared before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Demple Smith, 2100 Crawford Ave., pleaded guilty to the charge filed by police after his arrest early this morning at W. 5th and Jackson Sts.

Smith told Judge Chertoff he was afraid to take a driver's examination because he couldn't read but admitted under questioning he could understand traffic signs and read unemployment checks.

Court records showed Smith was arrested in August 1957 and February 1959 on similar charges and drew fines of $25 and costs for each offense. Smith also admitted he hadn't paid either fine.

Gevene C. Sprecacenere of Warren, arrested early today on a similar charge, was fined $10 and costs, but the fine was suspended when he returned to court with a valid permit.

Sentencing of Darrell N. Leak, 1723 Cleveland Ave., on charges of driving without an operator's permit and operating a car with an expired 10-day tag was continued until Oct. 14 by Judge Chertoff.

Cited late Saturday on Oakland Ave., Leak pleaded guilty to both charges.

Robert Meyers, 1165 Pennsylvania Ave., forfeited a $56 bond on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. He was cited Saturday afternoon on Anderson Blvd.

Paul Bergert of Salineville R. D. 2 forfeited $31 on a charge of operating a car with illegal mufflers. He was cited Saturday afternoon on W. 5th St.

Ronald Dean Tice, 928 Center St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a speeding charge. Police halted Tice at E. 5th and Broadway after he traveled 65 miles an hour over the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." early Sunday.

John H. Diddle of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs after pleading guilty to crashing a traffic signal at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts. Sunday night.

'Arts, Crafts' Classes Fixed By Girl Scouts

Plans have been completed for an "Arts and Crafts Caravan" to be sponsored by the East Liverpool Area Girl Scout Council.

Set up for all registered adult Girl Scout workers, the 4 weekly sessions will begin Wednesday from 1:30 until 3 at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville. Succeeding sessions will be held Sept. 28 and Oct. 5 and 12.

A basic approach to two-and three-dimensional arts in paper, needlework and prints will be featured, along with simple weaving techniques, puppetry and working with brush and paint.

There also will be included the arts of music and games — such aspects as singing games, teaching songs and making and using simple instruments. Progressive skills, adaptable to the three program levels of Brownie, Intermediate and Senior, will be stressed.

The instructors will be the neighborhood chairmen who attended a National Arts Caravan last spring in Wheeling. They are: Mrs. Mary Galloway, Mrs. Beverly Bayley and Mrs. Peg Eddy, for music and games, and Mrs. Betty French, Mrs. Luella Myers, Mrs. Dorothy Koenig and Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, arts and crafts.

Grange Wins Award

LISBON — The Lisbon Grange won a $50 government savings bond for its entry in the State Grange community service projects, according to Jack Pozenel of West Point, Columbiana County Grange deputy. Lisbon was the only Grange in the county to win in this category. Its project was cleaning up the Arter Cemetery at Jordanville.

Bamboo is one of the fastest growing of all plants. Six or eight weeks after it pushes through the ground, the bamboo towers 50 feet or more above the ground.

The sheriff said he expected a mother of one of the youths to sign a complaint that the bar had been open after the closing deadline. The sheriff also issued a warning to another bar along Route 2 on the closing deadline. Autos are not permitted to be parked along the highway without dimmer or dome lights burning, the sheriff said.

Acting on a complaint of a nearby resident, deputies pulled the cord on a juke box from the electrical plug in the Stutz Bar on Washington St. at midnight Sunday. Doors of the tavern also were closed an hour ahead of schedule, the sheriff said.

Meanwhile, William A. Watson, owner of the Cactus Bar, and three employes arrested on charges of keeping and exhibiting gaming devices after a raid Aug. 30 by state police, were to be arraigned today at 3 p. m. in Circuit Court.

Watson was indicted along with Martha Nola, 35, of Hookstown, Hazel Shovlin, 31, and Lambrose Louis Fellouzis, 28, both of East Liverpool.

Donald Eugene Saunders, 31, of Wellsburg, indicted on charges of attempted murder and felonious assault, also was scheduled for arraignment today before Judge J. Harold Brennan.

County's Youth Grange Awaits Annual Banquet

LISBON—The Columbiana County Youth Grange will hold its annual prince and princess banquet tonight at 7 at the Yellow Creek Grange Hall, according to Jack Pozenel of West Point, county deputy.

A royal couple will be selected to represent the county at the state Grange meeting in October at Columbus. James Ross of Adams Mills, state Grange steward, will be guest speaker. Some 100 are expected to attend.

Hearing Fixed On Prices For Milk Markets

The Department of Agriculture has scheduled a joint public hearing at Youngstown Oct. 4 to consider establishing a federal order to regulate the handling of milk in the Greater Youngstown-Warren marketing area and in some of the territory currently covered by the Northeastern Ohio federal milk order.

The hearing will open at 10 a.m. in the Cascade Room of the Pick-Ohio Hotel.

The proposed marketing order would establish minimum prices to be paid by handlers to producers supplying milk distributed in the marketing area. It would not regulate retail prices.

A co-operative association has proposed that the marketing area include Trumbull and Mahoning Counties (except Smith township) and Perry Township in Columbiana County. Interested handlers have proposed that the marketing area also take in additional Ohio territory, including Ashtabula County. The city of Ashtabula in Ashtabula County currently is covered by the Northeastern Ohio milk order and amendment of that order would be necessary to add it to the proposed new marketing area.

Under the proposed order, handlers would be charged for milk according to the use made of it. Class I would be all milk and cream distributed in fluid form and Class II would be milk and cream used for manufactured dairy products. The Class I price would be computed each month by adding a differential to a basic formula price. The annual average of the differentials would be $1.90.

The Class II price would be the basic formula price. Payments due from all handlers for both classes of milk would be pooled and paid out to producers at a uniform or "blend" price per hunderweight. This arrangement is known as a "marketwide pool."

Chester Burglars Get Property Worth $180

Property worth $180 was reported missing after a breaking and entering of the Hobbs Chevrolet Sales of 2nd St., Chester, during the weekend.

Driver Jailed On 3rd Arrest For No Permit

Arrested for the third time for driving without a license, an East End man was given a 10-day term in the County Jail today when he appeared before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Demple Smith, 2100 Crawford Ave., pleaded guilty to the charge filed by police after his arrest early this morning at W. 5th and Jackson Sts.

Smith told Judge Chertoff he was afraid to take a driver's examination because he couldn't read but admitted under questioning he could understand traffic signs and read unemployment checks.

Court records showed Smith was arrested in August 1957 and February 1959 on similar charges and drew fines of $25 and costs for each offense. Smith also admitted he hadn't paid either fine.

Gevene C. Sprecacenere of Warren, arrested early today on a similar charge, was fined $10 and costs, but the fine was suspended when he returned to court with a valid permit.

Sentencing of Darrell N. Leak, 1723 Cleveland Ave., on charges of driving without an operator's permit and operating a car with an expired 10-day tag was continued until Oct. 14 by Judge Chertoff.

Cited late Saturday on Oakland Ave., Leak pleaded guilty to both charges.

Robert Meyers, 1165 Pennsylvania Ave., forfeited a $56 bond on a charge of driving without an operator's permit. He was cited Saturday afternoon on Anderson Blvd.

Paul Bergert of Salineville R. D. 2 forfeited $31 on a charge of operating a car with illegal mufflers. He was cited Saturday afternoon on W. 5th St.

Ronald Dean Tice, 928 Center St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a speeding charge. Police halted Tice at E. 5th and Broadway after he traveled 65 miles an hour over the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." early Sunday.

John H. Diddie of Wellsville R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs after pleading guilty to crashing a traffic signal at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts. Sunday night.

'Arts, Crafts' Classes Fixed By Girl Scouts

Plans have been completed for an "Arts and Crafts Caravan" to be sponsored by the East Liverpool Area Girl Scout Council.

Set up for all registered adult Girl Scout workers, the 4 weekly sessions will begin Wednesday from 1:30 until 3 at the Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville. Succeeding sessions will be held Sept. 28 and Oct. 5 and 12.

A basic approach to two-and three-dimensional arts in paper, needlework and prints will be featured, along with simple weaving techniques, puppetry and working with brush and paint.

There also will be included the arts of music and games — such aspects as singing games, teaching songs and making and using simple instruments. Progressive skills, adaptable to the three program levels of Brownie, Intermediate and Senior, will be stressed.

The instructors will be the neighborhood chairmen who attended a National Arts Caravan last spring in Wheeling. They are: Mrs. Mary Galloway, Mrs. Beverly Bayley and Mrs. Peg Eddy, for music and games, and Mrs. Betty French, Mrs. Luella Myers, Mrs. Dorothy Koenig and Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, arts and crafts.

The sheriff said he expected a mother of one of the youths to sign a complaint that the bar had been open after the closing deadline. The sheriff also issued a warning to another bar along Route 2 on the closing deadline. Autos are not permitted to be parked along the highway without dimmer or dome lights burning, the sheriff said.

Acting on a complaint of a nearby resident, deputies pulled the cord on a juke box from the electrical plug in the Stutz Bar on Washington St. at midnight Sunday. Doors of the tavern also were closed an hour ahead of schedule, the sheriff said.

Meanwhile, William A. Watson, owner of the Cactus Bar, and three employes arrested on charges of keeping and exhibiting gaming devices after a raid Aug. 30 by state police, were to be arraigned today at 3 p. m. in Circuit Court.

Watson was indicted along with Martha Nola, 35, of Hookstown, Hazel Shovlin, 31, and Lambrose Louis Fellouzis, 28, both of East Liverpool.

Donald Eugene Saunders, 31, of Wellsburg, indicted on charges of attempted murder and felonious assault, also was scheduled for arraignment today before Judge J. Harold Brennan.

County's Youth Grange Awaits Annual Banquet

LISBON—The Columbiana County Youth Grange will hold its annual prince and princess banquet tonight at 7 at the Yellow Creek Grange Hall, according to Jack Pozenel of West Point, county deputy.

A royal couple will be selected to represent the county at the state Grange meeting in October at Columbus. James Ross of Adams Mills, state Grange steward, will be guest speaker. Some 100 are expected to attend.

Arrives In Germany

SALINEVILLE — Spcl. 5C William H. Thomas, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Thomas, 400 Water St., has arrived in Germany as a member of the 10th Transportation Group. A personnel specialist in the group's Headquarters Detachment in Karlsruhe, he entered the Army in 1948. His wife, Irmagard, and son, John Robert, are with him in Germany. Thomas attended Salineville High School.

Grange Wins Award

LISBON — The Lisbon Grange won a $50 government savings bond for its entry in the State Grange community service projects, according to Jack Pozenel of West Point, Columbiana County Grange deputy. Lisbon was the only Grange in the county to win in this category. Its project was cleaning up the Arter Cemetery at Jordanville.

Hearing Fixed On Prices For Milk Markets

The Department of Agriculture has scheduled a joint public hearing at Youngstown Oct. 4 to consider establishing a federal order to regulate the handling of milk in the Greater Youngstown-Warren marketing area and in some of the territory currently covered by the Northeastern Ohio federal milk order.

The hearing will open at 10 a.m. in the Cascade Room of the Pick-Ohio Hotel.

The proposed marketing order would establish minimum prices to be paid by handlers to producers supplying milk distributed in the marketing area. It would not regulate retail prices.

A co-operative association has proposed that the marketing area include Trumbull and Mahoning Counties (except Smith township) and Perry Township in Columbiana County. Interested handlers have proposed that the marketing area also take in additional Ohio territory, including Ashtabula County. The city of Ashtabula in Ashtabula County currently is covered by the Northeastern Ohio milk order and amendment of that order would be necessary to add it to the proposed new marketing area.

Under the proposed order, handlers would be charged for milk according to the use made of it. Class I would be all milk and cream distributed in fluid form and Class II would be milk and cream used for manufactured dairy products. The Class I price would be computed each month by adding a differential to a basic formula price. The annual average of the differentials would be $1.90.

The Class II price would be the basic formula price. Payments due from all handlers for both classes of milk would be pooled and paid out to producers at a uniform or "blend" price per hunderweight. This arrangement is known as a "marketwide pool."

No Signup Set For Soil Bank

There will be no signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, Hancock County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation committee chairman, said today in response to inquiries from farmers on the status of the program.

Herron also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended.

"Under the soil Bank act enacted in May 1956, the secretary of agriculture was authorized to enter into conservation reserve contracts with producers during the 5-year period 1956-60," he said.

"The signup under the 1960 program was held last fall so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the Conservation Reserve," he said. "Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no signup period this fall."

There are 12 conservation reserve contracts in effect this year in the county, involving a total of 551 acres, Herron said. Contract periods range from 3 to 10 years and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $10,970.

Children Of Brothers Arrive Only Day Apart

Two area brothers, employed together, became fathers a day apart.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry R. Joy, 524 9th St., Wellsville, are parents of a baby daughter born Sunday at Osteopathic Hospital.

His brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Joy, 501 10th St., Wellsville, became the parents of another daughter today at the same hospital.

The brothers are employed by the Dravo Corp. at Neville Island.

PREPARING FOR SHOW. A veteran dahlia exhibitor, Leo C. Lawrence, is shown placing a hood over one of the blooms he plans to enter in the annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society next weekend at Westgate School. Lawrence had 32 entries in the Ohio Dahlia Society show held last week at Cleveland, winning 19 firsts, 11 seconds and 7 special awards. The special awards included the best bloom in the open division, the largest bloom in the show, and the best three "A" size dahlias. Others attending the show were Mrs. Dorothy Kountz, John Eccleston and Harold Gallimore, all of East Liverpool, and Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, William Haugh and Mrs. Anna Patterson, all of Wellsville.

Propaganda Circus Due

'Cold War' Seen Focusing In United Nations Session

(Max Harrelson has covered the United Nations from its infancy. He gives this interpretation of what can be expected when the 1960 session of the General Assembly opens Tuesday.)

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The spotlight will be on the all-star cast, but the 1960 session of the General Assembly would have attracted unusual headlines even without the big names.

The real significance of the three-month meeting lies in two developments which have drastically affected the international picture in the past six months:

1. The acceleration of the cold war following the collapse of the Big Four summit conference last May.

2. The growing trend to channel world problems to the United Nations rather than deal with them independently.

Scanning the outlook for the coming session, it is difficult to see anything but a colossal propaganda circus.

Most of the 85 questions before the Assembly have been there in the past and will be there again. But the changed international atmosphere is reflected by one new item in particular. This is the Soviet item titled "The Menace to World Peace Created by Aggressive Actions of the United States of America against the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

The world already has had a sampling of what is coming when this question comes up. They can expect a slashing Soviet attack on the United States along the lines previously made in the Security Council on the U2 spy plane and RB47.

Another major issue, the problem of disarmament, has been discussed for years but it takes on special importance because of the breakdown of the 10-nation talks in Geneva which dumped the whole question back into the lap of the assembly.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower both are expected to submit arms proposals — and there is little doubt that they will exchange charges which will turn the debate into another major cold war battle.

One of Khrushchev's likely objectives is to administer a severe propaganda beating to the United States, to isolate it, if possible from the underdeveloped nations of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

He may seek to create the impression that the session is a sort of summit rally of "peace loving forces" at a critical turning point in history to defeat the forces of imperialism.

There is little optimism that any major achievements will be recorded by the Assembly under the circumstances. One of the few will be the admission of 14 or more new African nations, which will in the future add to the strength of the growing neutralist force in the world organization.

Kite With Fire Causes Strange 'Light In Sky'

SALEM — A strange lighted object drifting over the Salem area Saturday night turned out to be a homemade kite to which pranksters had attached a can of oil-soaked rags.

The kite was found on top of a large tree on E. 7th St. by a carload of teen-agers who had followed it from near Kelly's Park at Leetonia.

Salem police and state highway patrolmen were dispatched to the scene when the object continued to burn. An Ohio Edison Co. lineman climbed the tree and shook the kite from the limb.

Authorities said the kite was a crudely made affair covered with white tissue paper. It was about four feet high. The gallon can hanging on thin wire below the kite contained rags which were soaked with oil or some other slow-burning material.

Night Operations Set At Democratic Center

Democratic headquarters in the former Trotter Hardware Building on Dresden Ave. will be open every night until the Nov. 8 general election, James Flasco, city party chairman, announced today.

The office will be maintained by the Democratic Central Committee and the Men's and Women's Democratic Clubs, he said. Auto bumper stickers, literature and campaign buttons will be available.

Flasco said the Democratic organization plans "one of the most vigorous campaigns ever staged here."

A meeting for all Democrats is scheduled Tuesday night at 8 in the headquarters. James Moore, vice president, will preside.

Crashes Hurt 5 On Weekend

Five persons were injured in four auto accidents over the weekend, the Lisbon Barracks of the State Highway Patrol reported today. Two of the injured are hospitalized.

Lawrence Peters, 19, of Rogers R. D. 1, son of Joseph Peters, is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a two-car crash Sunday night at 6 on Route 170 south of Negley.

Peters was driving south at a high rate of speed when he lost control, went left of center, and crashed into a northbound auto driven by James Clark, 25, of Erie, Pa., the patrol said.

Peters received lacerations of the forehead and scalp. Clark was treated at the hospital for abrasions of the left side of the neck and left wrist. His wife, Mrs. Lillian Clark, 25, a passenger, was examined at the hospital, but suffered no apparent injuries.

The patrol said the Rogers youth was cited on a charge of reckless operation.

In a mishap at 1:30 a. m. today on Route 30, a mile west of Hanoverton, Edith Devereaux, 33, of Louisville lost control of her car, went off the right side of the road, and struck guardrails. She is in "good" condition at Salem Central Clinic with fractures of the left ribs and chest injuries. The mishap still is under investigation, the patrol said.

Anthony Capraruolo, 35, of 255 Center St., East Liverpool escaped injury when he fell asleep while driving south on County Rd. 416 a half-mile south of Route 164 Sunday at 3 a. m. The patrol said the car went left of center and hit a mailbox. Capraruolo was cited on a charge of driving left of center, the patrol reported. The mishap occurred near Columbiana.

A three-car accident Saturday night at 7:45 on the Y. & O. Rd. west of Route 30 resulted in injuries to Mrs. Naomi Dray, 35, of Park Way Ext.

The wife of Wallace Dray, she was treated at City Hospital for "whiplash" injuries of the neck. The other cars were driven by Nettie Marcum, 43, of the Y. & O. Rd., and Larry Davis, 19, of Annesley Rd., the patrol said. The mishap still is under investigation, the patrol added.

Meanwhile, William Wells, 47, of Lisbon R. D. 1 was injured when he lost control of his truck on slippery pavement and overturned into a ditch Saturday at 12:55 a.m. on Route 154 two miles east of Lisbon.

The patrol said Wells was treated by a Lisbon physician for a fracture of a rib and contusions and abrasions of the left leg. He was cited for driving left of center.

Two Alliance sisters, Barbara Melaney, 22, and Diane Melaney, 21, were injured when their auto went into a ditch and overturned Saturday at 12:10 a. m. on Route 172 two miles east of the Stark County line. The patrol said Barbara Melaney lost control on a curve. They were treated at Alliance City Hospital for contusions.

Hancock Farmers Stage ASC Ballot

Ten have been nominated as candidates for membership in the Hancock County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager, said elections are being held by mail and all ballots are to be returned to the County ASC office in New Cumberland by mail or in person no later than Oct. 4.

Any petitions for nominations other than those being announced must be made to Linn Troop of New Cumberland R. D. 2 no later than today, she added.

Nominated were C. C. Herron, chairman; Carl R. Allison, vice chairman; Shields H. Mayhew, regular member; Harry Nichol, first alternate, and Donald E. Allison, second alternate, all incumbent members.

Also nominated are Leslie Cuppy, Plummer Smith, W. C. (Chuck) Huff, William Hillyard and Dwight Wylie.

PTA At Pughtown Names Chairmen

Chairmen for the new term were named at an Executive Board meeting of the Pughtown Parent-Teacher Association Friday night at the home of Mrs. Lester Hill, president.

They are Mrs. Gerald Jones, program; Mrs. Ted Pryor, membership; Mrs. Ralph Huff, social; Mrs. Lenore Rector, magazine; Mrs. Richard Wright, hospitality; Mrs. James Gibson, Congress publication; Mrs. William Bailey, Mrs. James Swearingen, Mrs. Paul Obloy and Mrs. Robert Swain, ways and means; Mrs. Robert Mayhew and Mrs. Robert Rosich, publicity; Mrs. Rosich, historian; the Rev. William Flurkey, spiritual education; Mrs. Obloy and Mrs. Claudius Ford, budget and finance, and Mrs. Austin Ford and Mrs. Lester Ross, council delegates.

Plans were made to set up the budget for the year. It will be presented at the next meeting Oct. 3.

Other PTA officers are Mrs. James Gracie, vice president; Mrs. Obloy, treasurer, and Mrs. William Bailey, secretary. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hill.

No Signup Set For Soil Bank

There will be no signup this fall of additional land or contracts under the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve, C. C. Herron of Pughtown, Hancock County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation committee chairman, said today in response to inquiries from farmers on the status of the program.

Herron also said that program contracts which expire in 1960 or later are no longer eligible to be extended.

"Under the soil Bank act enacted in May 1956, the secretary of agriculture was authorized to enter into conservation reserve contracts with producers during the 5-year period 1956-60," he said.

"The signup under the 1960 program was held last fall so that farmers would know in advance of the cropping season whether their land would be accepted into the Conservation Reserve," he said. "Since the authorization to enter into new contracts has not been extended beyond 1960, there will be no signup period this fall."

There are 12 conservation reserve contracts in effect this year in the county, involving a total of 551 acres, Herron said. Contract periods range from 3 to 10 years and annual rental payments for 1960 amount to approximately $10,970.

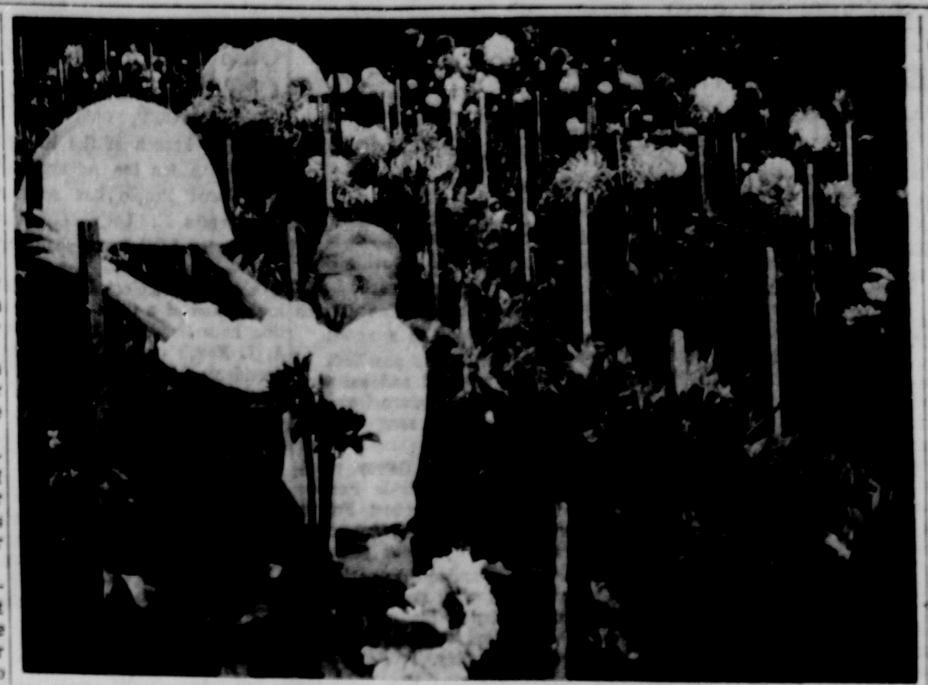
Children Of Brothers Arrive Only Day Apart

Two area brothers, employed together, became fathers a day apart.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry R. Joy, 524 9th St., Wellsville, are parents of a baby daughter born Sunday at Osteopathic Hospital.

His brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Joy, 501 10th St., Wellsville, became the parents of another daughter today at the same hospital.

The brothers are employed by the Dravo Corp. at Neville Island.



PREPARING FOR SHOW. A veteran dahlia exhibitor, Leo C. Lawrence, is shown placing a hood over one of the blooms he plans to enter in the annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society next weekend at Westgate School. Lawrence had 32 entries in the Ohio Dahlia Society show held last week at Cleveland, winning 19 firsts, 11 seconds and 7 special awards. The special awards included the best bloom in the open division, the largest bloom in the show, and the best three "A" size dahlias. Others attending the show were Mrs. Dorothy Kountz, John Eccleston and Harold Gallimore, all of East Liverpool, and Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, William Haugh and Mrs. Anna Patterson, all of Wellsville.

Propaganda Circus Due

'Cold War' Seen Focusing In United Nations Session

(Max Harrelson has covered the United Nations from its infancy. He gives this interpretation of what can be expected when the 1960 session of the General Assembly opens Tuesday.)

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The spotlight will be on the all-star cast, but the 1960 session of the General Assembly would have attracted unusual headlines even without the big names.

The real significance of the three-month meeting lies in two developments which have drastically affected the international picture in the past six months:

1. The acceleration of the cold war following the collapse of the Big Four summit conference last May.

2. The growing trend to channel world problems to the United Nations rather than deal with them independently.

Scanning the outlook for the coming session, it is difficult to see anything but a colossal propaganda circus.

Most of the 85 questions before the Assembly have been there in the past and will be there again. But the changed international atmosphere is reflected by one new item in particular. This is the Soviet item titled "The Menace to World Peace Created by Aggressive Actions of the United States of America against the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

The world already has had a sampling of what is coming when this question comes up. They can expect a slashing Soviet attack on the United States along the lines previously made in the Security Council on the U2 spy plane and RB47.

Another major issue, the problem of disarmament, has been discussed for years but it takes on special importance because of the breakdown of the 10-nation talks in Geneva which dumped the whole question back into the lap of the assembly.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower both are expected to submit arms proposals — and there is little doubt that they will exchange charges which will turn the debate into another major cold war battle.

One of Khrushchev's likely objectives is to administer a severe propaganda beating to the United States, to isolate it, if possible from the underdeveloped nations of Africa, Asia and Latin America.

He may seek to create the impression that the session is a sort of summit rally of "peace loving forces" at a critical turning point in history to defeat the forces of imperialism.

There is little optimism that any major achievements will be recorded by the Assembly under the circumstances. One of the few will be the admission of 14 or more new African nations, which will in the future add to the strength of the growing neutralist force in the world organizating.

Election of officers featured the business meeting of the Wesleyan Class of the First Methodist Church Friday night in the social rooms, following a coverdish dinner. About 28 attended.

Officers include Mrs. Victoria Willis, president; Mrs. Frances Shawke, vice president; Mrs. Grace McHenry, secretary; Mrs. Jessie Thompson, assistant secretary; Miss Edna Mase, corresponding secretary, and Miss Ann K. Allison, treasurer.

Fall flowers were used for the table decorations and miniature dolls, depicting all nations, and paper fans from Austria were favors.

The invocation was given by Dr. D. Finley Wood, pastor.

Mrs. Beth Ruckman was hostess and the committee included Mrs. Daisy Richmond, Mrs. Beryl Lightner, Mrs. Shawke and Mrs. Blanche Wilkinson.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Wood and Misses Maude Baum and Luella Thompson.

Business was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Nellie McLain, who used "The Incomparable Christ" as the devotion theme. Miss Margaret Baum led prayer.

Mrs. Lightner led group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Shawke at the piano.

The class voted to give $10 to the Child Counseling Center.

Mrs. Sue Boyce was program chairman and gave a reading on "Houses."

Miss Phyllis Crook and Mrs. McLain screened slides of a recent trip to Nova Scotia.

Miss Allison told of the damage in Florida from the recent hurricane, as reported by former members now residing there.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer by the group.

The date and place of the next meeting will be announced.

An article, "Fight the Good Fight," from the Presbyterian magazine, was read by Mrs. Bessie Clapsaddle at a meeting of the E. A. Walker Bible Class of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church Friday night at the home of Mrs. James Adams of Burrows Ave.

Mrs. Clapsaddle, president, led devotions and read another article, "The Everlasting Arms." A prayer was read.

She conducted business, including the secretary and treasurer report.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Arthur Smith.

Mrs. E. W. Tittle of Wyoming Ave. will entertain Oct. 21 and Mrs. Margaret Craft will be in charge of devotions.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

A stork shower was held for Mrs. Leah Kay Smith of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. Friday night at the home of her mother, Mrs. Floyd T. Cunningham, of Harrison St. About 20 attended.

Games were played under the supervision of Mrs. Cunningham, hostess, and prizes were awarded Mrs. Shirley Smith, Mrs. Jennie Cunningham and Mrs. Alice Bennett.

Chester Couple Establishes Residence At Huntington

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Franklin Parsons, who were married Aug. 27, are residing in a newly-furnished apartment in Huntington, W. Va., following a wedding trip to Pittsburgh.

The bride is the former Miss Bonnie Lou Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaw of Lawrenceville, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parsons of Indiana Ave., Chester.

The open church ceremony was held in the First United Presbyterian Church in Chester with the Rev. Alexander K. Davison, pastor of the East Liverpool First church, officiating. Vows were exchanged before an altar banked with palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra.

Ralph Falconer of East Liverpool, organist, presented a half-hour of traditional nuptial music. Mrs. Ray Shaw sang "O, Perfect Love," "Calm Is the Night," "Song of Ruth" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attired in a floor-length gown of skinner satin trimmed with seed pearls and lace appliques.

The fitted bodice was styled with a scooped neckline and tiny covered buttons to the wrist. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train and her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was held in place by a tiara of iridescent sequins and seed pearls, which she borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald Shaw Jr.

The bride observed the familiar traditions, including the sixpence in her shoe, a gift from Miss Sara Thomas. She carried a handkerchief that belonged to her grandmother.

Her cascade bouquet was of white roses, stephanotis and ivy with matching streamers. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Alice Ann Shaw, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a street - length gown of turquoise peau satin styled princess line. Her tiny feather hat had a circular veil matching her gown. She wore white gloves and pearl earrings, a gift from the bride, and carried a nosegay of talisman roses and carnations.

Bridesmaids, Miss Carolyn Allen and Miss Joyce Mosser, friends of the bride, were attired identically to the maid of honor.

Richard Parsons served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Donald Shaw, brother of the bride, and Richard Ambrose.

MRS. H. F. PARSONS

She Was Bonnie Lou Shaw.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a white silk suit with red accessories and a white corsage.

The bride's mother wore a light blue and white eyelet embroidered dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a sheath dress of Wedgewood blue and black and white accessories and her corsage was of white roses.

A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melott, of Orion Ave., Chester.

Aides included Mrs. James Klein, Mrs. Charles Glendenning, Mrs. Dave Shaw and Misses Barbara Parsons, Janice Parsons and Jeannie Bailey. Mrs. Jennie Powell, great aunt of the bridegroom, poured.

The bridal table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bridal couple. Pink carnations surrounded the cake and lighted tapers were in silver holders.

The bride is a graduate of Chester High School and is employed as receptionist for a Huntington attorney. Her husband was graduated from Chester high and attended Westminster College in New Wilmington and is now enrolled in the first year at Marshall College in Huntington.

Church Society Heads Discuss Presbyterial Goal

Estimating of the goal was discussed at the meeting of presidents of missionary societies of District 1 of the Steubenville Presbytery Thursday night at the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church of Calcutta. Some 22 attended.

Mrs. Lee Myers, president of District 1, presided and led worship. She read Scripture from Ps. 103 and the group sang "Open My Eyes."

Mrs. Bray Toot of Delroy, president of the Steubenville Presbyterial, and Mrs. Herbert Frischkorn of Wellsville, program chairman, led the discussion period.

A question-and-answer period on Presbyterial work was held. Mrs. Toot distributed the goal sheets and presented the goals of the General Assembly.

Mrs. Frischkorn announced the traveling literature basket is available and may be placed in each church for a month.

Mrs. Allen Pepin, secretary of District 1, gave her report. Prayer pals were requested for Mr. and Mrs. Allen Webb, missionaries in the Sudan. Bandages are needed by Dr. and Mrs. Dan Reynolds, who are stationed in Ethiopia.

The fall meeting for the district will be Oct. 7 at the Bethel Church, with registration opening at 9:30 o'clock. A sack lunch will be featured. Those not able to attend a daytime meeting may go to Salineville at 7:30 o'clock on Oct. 6.

Miss Ruth Harman, home on furlough from Iran, will be the speaker.

The group were reminded of the missionaries supported by the Steubenville Presbytery. They include Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Hazlett of India, Miss Ruth Nolan of Egypt, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Anderson, along with the Webbs of Sudan, and Miss Harmon of Iran.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. H. D. Chaney and Mrs. Frischkorn presided at the buffet table decorated with an arrangement of white mums and silver candelabra.

Wong Clan Holds Family 'Reunion' At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was a typical family reunion — Wong style.

Some 2,000 members of America's biggest Chinese-American family got together in San Francisco Sunday. They represented 35,000 to 40,000 others bearing the ancient name of Wong.

They met in a $100,000 building —the Wong family headquarters— in colorful Chinatown. It was designed by architect Paul Wong and built by contractor Jack Lee Wong.

Several thousand years ago, somewhere around Canton, the Wong family began. Nobody knows much about the man responsible for it all.

Family President Jack Wong called the members to order. There were brief speeches by him, Eastern President George Wong and Western National Chairman Albert W. Wong.

On the agenda were such topics as the Western ways of the younger generation, family disputes, the Wong scholarship program and family public relations.

The men — elders representing 15 regions of the United States— met in the fourth-floor auditorium. The room was shrouded by silk draperies—a gift from the Wongs of Hong Kong. Firecrackers, gongs and Chinese musicians combined to chase away evil spirits.

The women met two floors below. They heard the proceedings by loudspeakers. At the last reunion, in Boston three years ago, the ladies were barred altogether.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a sheath dress of Wedgewood blue and black and white accessories and her corsage was of white roses.

A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meloit, of Orion Ave., Chester.

Aides included Mrs. James Klein, Mrs. Charles Glendenning, Mrs. Dave Shaw and Misses Barbara Parsons, Janice Parsons and Jeannie Bailey, Mrs. Jennie Powell, great aunt of the bridegroom, poured.

The bridal table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bridal couple. Pink carnations surrounded the cake and lighted tapers were in silver holders.

The bride is a graduate of Chester High School and is employed as receptionist for a Huntington attorney. Her husband was graduated from Chester high and attended Westminster College in New Wilmington and is now enrolled in the first year at Marshall College in Huntington.

Former Local Couple Plans 50th Wedding Observance

MR. AND MRS. R. F. BETTERIDGE

They'll Hold Open House At Hillcrest Community Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Betteridge of Youngstown, former local residents will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house from 2 to 6 o'clock at the Hillcrest Community Hall near Wellsville.

They were married Sept. 21, 1910, by the Rev. Robert Keil of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Betteridge was the former Minnie Simpson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, and her husband's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Betteridge. He retired two years ago from the Republic Steel Co. at Youngstown.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Catherine Ammon, 1724 Glitie St., and Mrs. La Verne Simms, 2116 Ohio Ave., and two sons, William Betteridge of Hillcrest and Raymond Betteridge, 1147 Ohio Ave.

There are 11 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

K May Trim Jail Term

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Rumors in diplomatic circles today said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will shortly announce a reduction of the sentence passed on U.S. U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers. The reports said the 10-year sentence on espionage charges would be reduced to five years.

Church Society Heads Discuss Presbyterial Goal

Estimating of the goal was discussed at the meeting of presidents of missionary societies of District 1 of the Steubenville Presbytery Thursday night at the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church of Calcutta. Some 22 attended.

Mrs. Lee Myers, president of District 1, presided and led worship. She read Scripture from Ps. 103 and the group sang "Open My Eyes."

Mrs. Bray Toot of Delroy, president of the Steubenville Presbyterial, and Mrs. Herbert Frischkorn of Wellsville, program chairman, led the discussion period.

A question-and-answer period on Presbyterial work was held. Mrs. Toot distributed the goal sheets and presented the goals of the General Assembly.

Mrs. Frischkorn announced the traveling literature basket is available and may be placed in each church for a month.

Mrs. Allen Pepin, secretary of District 1, gave her report. Prayer pals were requested for Mr. and Mrs. Allen Webb, missionaries in the Sudan. Bandages are needed by Dr. and Mrs. Dan Reynolds, who are stationed in Ethiopia.

The fall meeting for the district will be Oct. 7 at the Bethel Church, with registration opening at 9:30 o'clock. A sack lunch will be featured. Those not able to attend a daytime meeting may go to Salineville at 7:30 o'clock on Oct. 6.

Miss Ruth Harman, home on furlough from Iran, will be the speaker.

The group were reminded of the missionaries supported by the Steubenville Presbytery. They include Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Hazlett of India, Miss Ruth Nolan of Egypt, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Anderson, along with the Webbs of Sudan, and Miss Harmon of Iran.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. H. D. Chaney and Mrs. Frischkorn presided at the buffet table decorated with an arrangement of white mums and silver candelabra.

Wong Clan Holds Family 'Reunion' At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was a typical family reunion — Wong style.

Some 2,000 members of America's biggest Chinese-American family got together in San Francisco Sunday. They represented 25,000 to 40,000 others bearing the ancient name of Wong.

They met in a $100,000 building —the Wong family headquarters— in colorful Chinatown. It was designed by architect Paul Wong and built by contractor Jack Lee Wong.

Several thousand years ago, somewhere around Canton, the Wong family began. Nobody knows much about the man responsible for it all.

Family President Jack Wong called the members to order. There were brief speeches by him, Eastern President George Wong and Western National Chairman Albert W. Wong.

On the agenda were such topics as the Western ways of the younger generation, family disputes, the Wong scholarship program and family public relations.

The men — elders representing 15 regions of the United States— met in the fourth-floor auditorium. The room was shrouded by silk draperies—a gift from the Wongs of Hong Kong. Firecrackers, gongs and Chinese musicians combined to chase away evil spirits.

The women met two floors below. They heard the proceedings by loudspeakers. At the last reunion, in Boston three years ago, the ladies were barred altogether.

Ohio NAACP Re-Elects Clevelander President

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has renamed Dr. James E. Levy, Cleveland dentist, for another one-year term as president.

Other officers elected at the closing session of a three-day convention here Sunday were the Rev. A. I. Roach of Toledo, first vice president; Abe Goldhagen of Cincinnati, second vice president; Miss Virginia All of Akron, secretary; and Dr. N. K. Christopher of Cleveland, treasurer. Executive board members include Harold Moss, Toledo; Barbee Durham, Columbus; Thomas Tipler, Kent; Marguerite Nash, Akron; Nathaniel Lee, Youngstown, and the Rev. John H. Wright, Warren.

Telethon At Pittsburgh Nets Total Of $93,000

A telethon Saturday night and Sunday on KDKA-TV netted $93,000 in cash and pledges to help finance a summer camp for handicapped Pittsburgh children.

Late receipts are expected to push the total to $95,000, just $5,000 short of the $100,000 goal. The telethon was sponsored by the Pittsburgh Variety Club.

Reds Ship Cuban Aid

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet ship Kirovsk left the Latvian port of Riga today for Havana with more than 300 tractors, bulldozers and other machines for Fidel Castro's regime, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. The Kirovsk will take on a cargo of sugar for the return trip.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's boss is a telephone drunk. He phones us at all hours of the night and wakes up the entire family.

The boss usually wants to sing a few songs and then he puts some other drunks on the line—stray characters he meets up with at bars.

The calls come on Friday and Saturday nights and we are sick of having our sleep interrupted. My husband is afraid to mention it because the boss is a very formal person when he's sober.

Can you suggest a solution?—DARK CIRCLES.

Dear Dark: The telephone company can install either a jacktype phone which can be plugged out or a bell control which will shot off the bell by merely flicking a lever. The cost is nominal considering what a night's sleep is worth to a family.

Out Of Control

Dear Ann: Our daughter is 16 and running wild. She paints herself up like a woman of the streets and yesterday she went downtown in the top of a bikini bathing suit and a skirt. She called it a midriff. I said it was a shameless get-up but she ignored me.

Dolly sleeps till noon, then goes over to a girl friend's house for the day. She never helps me with the housework and I can't even depend on her to stay with the younger children so I can take a day off.

We don't know who her boy friends are because they pick her up elsewhere. Her dad told her if she gets into trouble he'll put her out of the house.

I'm worried sick that she'll come to no good. What can I do?—WEARY AND WORRIED.

-:-

Dear Weary: Dolly didn't get this way overnight. In the early years when she should have been accepting responsibilities she was running off — and getting away with it. Now the chickens are coming home to roost.

Contact a guidance center and get outside help. You need an outside professional who can reach her. She's been out of your ear-shot for years.

Senile Romeo

Dear Ann: My widowed father will be 67 in December. In May he started to take out a girl who is at least 40 years his junior. She is divorced, has two children and is a notorious golddigger. She driving dad's big car and wearing my mother's diamond earrings, which makes my brother and me sick.

We don't want anything from Dad. We just hate to see him make a fool of himself.

The little snip has been charging clothes to Dad's account and he has taken her and her children shopping. She dates another fellow secretly (he is her own age).

My brother and I talked to Dad and his answer was: "I'm old enough to know what I'm doing. This girl could be my little Bluebird of Paradise."

What do you think, Ann?—WORRIED KIDS.

Dear Kids: If your father marries a girl who is 40 years his junior the only part of that bluebird of paradise he'll see is the bill.

From your report he is not receptive to your advice, so, having spoken your piece, say no more.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lionettes Fete Crile Patients

The Lisbon Lionettes took its entertainment unit to Crile Veterans Hospital near Cleveland Saturday to entertain patients with a variety show.

In addition to the members, Mrs. Harry Detwiler, sister of Mrs. Viola Reynolds, a member, who lives near Cleveland, joined the group to help with the show.

Misses Judy Therion and Diana May presented tap dances and Kenny Morris played the guitar and sang. Harry Morris and Ed Hutchison, on guitar and violin, furnished the instrumental music. Mrs. Grace Johnson was at the piano.

The group also took 32 dozen homemade cookies to treat the patients.

Native Of Lisbon Gets 5th Term For Bigamy

A 44-year-old Lisbon man has started serving a fifth term at Burwash Industrial Farm at Sudbury, Ontario, on a bigamy charge.

Seward Garwood was sent back to the industrial farm Friday after he was convicted of bigamy. He already was serving sentences on four other charges of bigamy.

The latest sentence will be concurrent with previous terms. Garwood, born in Lisbon, is expected to be deported after completing the terms. The state of California has a warrant for his arrest for a breach of probation.

He was admitted to Burwash last October on three counts of bigamy, and in June this year pleaded guilty to a bigamy charge brought in British Columbia. The latest conviction arose from a bigamous marriage in 1947 at Port Arthur.

Garwood said he wants to legally marry his second wife. The first one is divorcing him.

Officers Seek Driver After Chester Mishap

Area police have been alerted after a hit and run accident Saturday night at 11:25 involving a Chester motorist's car.

A 1959 sedan, owned by Cyrus Smith, 249 Louisiana Ave., parked on Carolina Ave. near 4th St. was hit by a 1956 sedan registered to a Paden City woman.

Rex Cowey, special officer on duty at the Hi-Teen dance at City Hall, got the license number of the auto. Cowey notified the Hancock County Sheriff's office at New Cumberland and East Liverpool police.

East Liverpool police later reported they had spotted the car, but lost it in traffic. It is believed to have its right front fender pushed against a tire and its bumper loose. Considerable damage was reported to Smith's auto.

400,000 More To Benefit

Social Security Changes Ease Rules On Coverage

The 1960 amendments to the Social Security law reduce by about one-third the length of time a person has to work under Social Security to become insured for the payment of benefits to himself and his family.

Some 400,000 people will become eligible immediately for cash benefits because of this change in the law, including many wives, widows, and dependent husbands and widowers already at or beyond retirement age. First payments to newly - eligible persons will be for the month of October.

Under the new rule, persons reaching retirement age (65 for men, 62 for women) this year need only about 3 years of work under Social Security instead of the 4½ to 5 years required by the old law.

If you reach retirement age any time next year, you will need to have worked under Social Security for only 3¼ years instead of the 5 to 5¼ years required before the change in the law. There is, however, a minimum requirement of a year and a half of work under Socal Security — without which no benefits can become payable. The changes were explained today by the district office at Youngstown.

There is, for example, the woman who called at the district office last year just a couple of months before her 62nd birthday. Her husband had died in 1957 after a long illness. She brought with her the stub of his Social Security card.

In checking his account, the office found that at the time of death he had 2½ years of work under Social Security.

Under the old law, he would need to have 3 years of work in order for his widow to qualify for widow's benefits. Under the new law, however, he would be considered fully insured at the time of death with only 2 years of work under Social Security.

Widows as well as workers now at or over retirement age who have been told in the past that they were not eligible for payments for lack of work under Social Security are urged to visit the office to inquire about their rights.

In terms of future eligibility, the reduction in the amount of work required means that many more wage earners and their widows and dependent widowers will be able to qualify for Social Security benefits when they reach retirement age.

For example, if you are a man now 60 and planning to retire at the end of 1965, under the old law you would have needed a total of about 7 years of work to draw the benefits. Under the new rule, you will need only 4½ years Social Security employment or self-employment to draw monthly old-age benefits. If you are a 60-year-old woman planning retirement in 1962, you need only 3½ years of work to be eligible for Social Security.

Hearing Planned On Road's Route

Proposals to re-route State Route 45 through Salem will be discussed at a public hearing Thursday afternoon at 2 in the Memorial Building in Salem, according to an announcement by the State Highway Department.

The plan advanced by state and municipal officials would extend Route 45 south of State St. along Ellsworth Ave. and Depot Rd., then east along Pigeon Rd. to Lincoln Ave. At present, it enters Salem from the north on Ellsworth Ave., follows State St. east to Lincoln Ave., then runs southeast along Lincoln Ave.

If approved, the re-routing would eliminate two turns in downtown Salem which are presently required of heavy Route 45 traffic and would allow it to follow a single straight thoroughfare between the north and south corporation lines.

Part of the present routing would remain on the state system as an extension of Route 558, while the remainder would revert to city and county jurisdiction.

William P. McKenna, Division 11 engineer, will preside at the hearing to explain details of the proposal.

Social Security Changes Ease Rules On Coverage

The 1960 amendments to the Social Security law reduce by about one-third the length of time a person has to work under Social Security to become insured for the payment of benefits to himself and his family.

Some 400,000 people will become eligible immediately for cash benefits because of this change in the law, including many wives, widows, and dependent husbands and widowers already at or beyond retirement age. First payments to newly - eligible persons will be for the month of October.

Under the new rule, persons reaching retirement age (65 for men, 62 for women) this year need only about 3 years of work under Social Security instead of the 4½ to 5 years required by the old law.

If you reach retirement age any time next year, you will need to have worked under Social Security for only 3¼ years instead of the 5 to 5¼ years required before the change in the law. There is, however, a minimum requirement of a year and a half of work under Socal Security — without which no benefits can become payable. The changes were explained today by the district office at Youngstown.

There is, for example, the woman who called at the district office last year just a couple of months before her 62nd birthday. Her husband had died in 1957 after a long illness. She brought with her the stub of his Social Security card.

In checking his account, the office found that at the time of death he had 2½ years of work under Social Security.

Under the old law, he would need to have 3 years of work in order for his widow to quality for widow's benefits. Under the new law, however, he would be considered fully insured at the time of death with only 2 years of work under Social Security.

Widows as well as workers now at or over retirement age who have been told in the past that they were not eligible for payments for lack of work under Social Security are urged to visit the office to inquire about their rights.

In terms of future eligibility, the reduction in the amount of work required means that many more wage earners and their widows and dependent widowers will be able to qualify for Social Security benefits when they reach retirement age.

For example, if you are a man now 60 and planning to retire at the end of 1965, under the old law you would have needed a total of about 7 years of work to draw the benefits. Under the new rule, you will need only 4½ years Social Security employment or self-employment to draw monthly old-age benefits. If you are a 60-year-old woman planning retirement in 1962, you need only 3½ years of work to be eligible for Social Security.

Lionettes Fete Crile Patients

The Lisbon Lionettes took its entertainment unit to Crile Veterans Hospital near Cleveland Saturday to entertain patients with a variety show.

In addition to the members, Mrs. Harry Detwiler, sister of Mrs. Viola Reynolds, a member, who lives near Cleveland, joined the group to help with the show.

Misses Judy Therion and Diana May presented tap dances and Kenny Morris played the guitar and sang. Harry Morris and Ed Hutchison, on guitar and violin, furnished the instrumental music. Mrs. Grace Johnson was at the piano.

The group also took 32 dozen homemade cookies to treat the patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Barberton were Friday visitors in Lisbon.

Mrs. Helen Pilmer and Mrs. Genesta Barr visited Friday with Mrs. Helen O'Brine at Alliance City Hospital. Mrs. O'Brine is reported improving following eye surgery Tuesday. She is expected to return to her home on E. Lincoln Way early this week.

Larry Lafferty, who is employed in Lorain, spent the weekend with his parents, Atty. and Mrs. George Lafferty of E. Lincoln Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hephner of E. High St. have returned to their home after visiting last week with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clem McGoogan and family at Cheshire, Conn.

Police Officer Roy Patterson, who underwent surgery at Youngstown North Side Hospital last Monday, is reported in satisfactory condition.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGrew of East Liverpool called on her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Peppel of E. Washington St., on Sunday.

Hearing Planned On Road's Route

Proposals to re-route State Route 45 through Salem will be discussed at a public hearing Thursday afternoon at 2 in the Memorial Building in Salem, according to an announcement by the State Highway Department.

The plan advanced by state and municipal officials would extend Route 45 south of State St. along Ellsworth Ave. and Depot Rd., then east along Pigeon Rd. to Lincoln Ave. At present, it enters Salem from the north on Ellsworth Ave., follows State St. east to Lincoln Ave., then runs southeast along Lincoln Ave.

If approved, the re-routing would eliminate two turns in downtown Salem which are presently required of heavy Route 45 traffic and would allow it to follow a single straight thoroughfare between the north and south corporation lines.

Part of the present routing would remain on the state system as an extension of Route 558, while the remainder would revert to city and county jurisdiction.

William P. McKenna, Division 11 engineer, will preside at the hearing to explain details of the proposal.

Wellsville Serviceman Receives Promotion

Rocco D. Vallera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Vallera, 1210 Parshall St., Hillcrest, Wellsville, has been promoted to lieutenant with the Navy.

He serves on the staff of the commander at the Key West Test and Evaluation Detachment, as a torpedo evaluation officer in Key West, Fla.

A 1944 graduate of Wellsville High School, he enlisted Jan. 26, 1945, in Steubenville and received his commission in June 1956. He is making a career of the Navy.

Former Chester Woman Chosen Centennial Queen

A former Chester woman reigned as queen of the centennial last week at East Brunswick, N. J.

Mrs. Robert Sheehan, the former Cynthia Boyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Boyce of the Lincoln Highway, Chester, was chosen by a popularity vote.

She was crowned queen by Sen. Clifford Case at the Centennial ball. Mrs. Sheehan was busy all week, leading the parades and activities and presiding at the governor's dinner. The event closed Saturday night.

Her prize was an expense-paid trip to Bermuda for two. Her husband is a co-pilot for United Airlines. They have two children, Heather and Mike. The family has been residing at Old Bridge, near East Brunswick, for three years.

Mrs. Boyce visited during the week, doing the "baby sitting" while her daughter reigned.

Native Of Lisbon Gets 5th Term For Bigamy

A 44-year-old Lisbon man has started serving a fifth term at Burwash Industrial Farm at Sudbury, Ontario, on a bigamy charge.

Seward Garwood was sent back to the industrial farm Friday after he was convicted of bigamy. He already was serving sentences on four other charges of bigamy.

The latest sentence will be concurrent with previous terms. Garwood, born in Lisbon, is expected to be deported after completing the terms. The state of California has a warrant for his arrest for a breach of probation.

He was admitted to Burwash last October on three counts of bigamy, and in June this year pleaded guilty to a bigamy charge brought in British Columbia. The latest conviction arose from a bigamous marriage in 1947 at Port Arthur.

Garwood said he wants to legally marry his second wife. The first one is divorcing him.

Officers Seek Driver After Chester Mishap

Area police have been alerted after a hit and run accident Saturday night at 11:25 involving a Chester motorist's car.

A 1959 sedan, owned by Cyrus Smith, 249 Louisiana Ave., parked on Carolina Ave. near 4th St. was hit by a 1956 sedan registered to a Paden City woman.

Rex Cowey, special officer on duty at the Hi-Teen dance at City Hall, got the license number of the auto. Cowey notified the Hancock County Sheriff's office at New Cumberland and East Liverpool police.

East Liverpool police later reported they had spotted the car, but lost it in traffic. It is believed to have its right front fender pushed against a tire and its bumper loose. Considerable damage was reported to Smith's auto.

New 'Pioneers' May Find Their Problems Are Many

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY
Written For Bell Syndicate

NEW YORK — Beyond the official limits of many cities, towns and villages in this country, vast areas of former farm land and open countryside are being developed into residential areas.

Streets are cut through and the former fields divided into building plots. In many instances model homes are erected, furnished and decorated in plush style. Fast - talking salesmen hold forth on the future of the tract and the improvements which are bound to come, yet many a young couple who have bought one or more lots are still waiting for the improvements.

In this day and age most of us are used to the service supplied by public utility companies and municipal governments. Without them, living is below standard, so the less you know about what to look for in buying property, the more cautious you should be.

The utilities you need for a comfortable home are water mains, electric light, telephone, street lighting and good roads. You might add schools within reaching distance, gas mains, proper drainage and police protection plus convenient shopping centers. Naturally, these are all to be found in government - approved developments opened by reputable builders.

To buy land which is without public utilities is liable to be a very costly matter. People have bought lots beyond the end of a well built-up street, only to find that the electric service does not go that far, and they are confronted with paying the cost of getting it to their house or doing without it.

Other with houses getting their water from a well and pump have found themselves without heat, light or water when storms have interrupted the service.

Don't pioneer in opening the country and become a modern settler. There is plenty of well-developed land around.

'Cluster Plan' Being Pushed In Rural Area

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

How many of you bought a house in the suburbs and found, years later, that the rural atmosphere which prompted your original move had disappeared?

Because this condition is not uncommon, it has caused much concern among individuals, groups and communities interested in preserving the beauty of the countryside.

Oddly enough, it is not possible to categorize those favoring this preservation by their relationship to the development of living areas. Architects, builders and municipal authorities are found in the ranks of the concerned individuals — but there are just as many who display no interest in the subject.

Some architects and builders have been giving considerable attention to what has been called the "cluster principle" of house planning.

Under this system, houses are built closer together but large areas of land are left in their natural state or made into parks, picnic areas, playgrounds, gardens, etc. The home buyers become joint owners of the rural land, although some alternative plans call for it to be taken over by a civic association or the town itself.

In any case, the objective is to provide legal guarantees that will prevent this so-called "green belt" from being broken up and used for additional housing at a later date.

Detractors of the idea say that many prospective home owners would rather have a little extra land on their own individual sites than a community interest in a lot of land several hundred feet or more from their houses.

On this angle of more land and more privacy for the individual home owner, we questioned architect Victor Gurne, a leading advocate of the cluster plan.

"It is a misconception," said Gruen, "that a little more land around a house necessarily means more privacy. We have proved that by skillful planning, it is possible to arrange the houses closer together and yet give the owners more privacy."

Zoning restrictions provide a formidable obstacle in some communities.

Gruen believes that, eventually, many of them will see what he calls "the wisdom of changing their zoning regulations" to permit operation of the cluster principle. He says the plan does not increase the total number of houses in a given area, provides higher tax revenues, cuts maintenance costs and, above all, prevents the countryside from losing its rural flavor.

Do You Have Trouble With 'Ghost Marks'?

A house haunted by "ghost marks" is a house haunted by discomfort, especially in winter.

Ghost marks are wide, shadowy lines of dirt that cling to walls and ceilings between joist and stud spaces.

They are caused by dust in warm air drawn to these areas in homes that are improperly insulated.

Mineral wool insulation, properly installed, not only eliminates "ghost marks," but cuts down on fuel bills and makes a house more comfortable by equalizing interior temperatures.

The national drink of Turkey is raki. It is made of distilled grape juice flavored with anise.

Some architects and builders have been giving considerable attention to what has been called the "cluster principle" of house planning.

Under this system, houses are built closer together but large areas of land are left in their natural state or made into parks, picnic areas, playgrounds, gardens, etc. The home buyers become joint owners of the rural land, although some alternative plans call for it to be taken over by a civic association or the town itself.

In any case, the objective is to provide legal guarantees that will prevent this so-called "green belt" from being broken up and used for additional housing at a later date.

Detractors of the idea say that many prospective home owners would rather have a little extra land on their own individual sites than a community interest in a lot of land several hundred feet or more from their houses.

On the angle of more land and more privacy for the individual home owner, we questioned architect Victor Gurne, a leading advocate of the cluster plan.

"It is a misconception," said Gruen, "that a little more land around a house necessarily means more privacy. We have proved that by skillful planning, it is possible to arrange the houses closer together and yet give the owners more privacy."

Zoning restrictions provide a formidable obstacle in some communities.

Gruen believes that, eventually, many of them will see what he calls "the wisdom of changing their zoning regulations" to permit operation of the cluster principle. He says the plan does not increase the total number of houses in a given area, provides higher tax revenues, cuts maintenance costs and, above all, prevents the countryside from losing its rural flavor.

Do You Have Trouble With 'Ghost Marks'?

A house haunted by "ghost marks" is a house haunted by discomfort, especially in winter.

Ghost marks are wide, shadowy lines of dirt that cling to walls and ceilings between joist and stud spaces.

They are caused by dust in warm air drawn to these areas in homes that are improperly insulated.

Mineral wool insulation, properly installed, not only eliminates "ghost marks," but cuts down on fuel bills and makes a house more comfortable by equalizing interior temperatures.

The national drink of Turkey is raki. It is made of distilled grape juice flavored with anise.

HERE IS A POWDER ROOM that has that "custom" look, thanks to the handsome fixtures and the modern decor. Feature of the room is the attractive cabinet-lavatory. A one-piece china bowl and counter top make cleaning easy. The wood cabinet is accented by brass trim on doors and legs. Underneath is an abundance of storage space needed for powder rooms.

Here Are Decorating Tips For One-Room Apartment

NEW YORK — Decorating the one-room apartment poses quite a challenge. It must efficiently function as living room, dining area and sleeping quarters, without looking cluttered.

Easy maintenance is required because neatness is an absolute must. Comfort and attractiveness are naturally essential for your own pleasure, but the room is also a single display of your personal taste. Because of the size limitations, even the minor details of the apartment will be under the scrutiny of your guests. This is a large order, but it can be achieved easily and economically with paint techniques and the right colors.

Before selecting paint colors, choose your fabrics. While you are rather restricted in your selection of fabrics, your choice of paint colors is practically unlimited.

You always will be able to find a paint color to match or blend with upholstery or rugs. When choosing your fabrics, keep in mind that it is easy to tire of large, busy patterns which can be distracting, even in the largest room. Vivid hues are attractive in small areas, but can be overpowering when used extensively in one room.

Painted furniture blends handsomely with natural woods and is ideal for the one-room apartment. First of all, for necessary storage space, some large pieces of furniture are necessary. A double chest or breakfront will not crowd a room when painted the same color as the walls.

It will become a part of the background. When odd pieces do not match and it is desirable for them to do so, a coat of paint will provide the uniformity. There are also inexpensive unpainted furniture units of cabinets, chests and shelves, which can be arranged together very attractively. When painted to match the wall, such pieces have a built-in look that is particularly effective in the one-room apartment.

Of course, it goes without saying that a coat of paint is the perfect camouflage for furniture that has seen better days. Finally, maintenance couldn't be easier: just a quick wipe with a damp cloth will keep painted pieces bright.

Your wall color is important. Whether you're a college professor or a career girl, the wall coloring should flatter your personality. Of course, it also should flatter the size and shape of the apartment. A small room will look larger when the walls are painted a light color and the woodwork is painted to match the walls.

A deep wall hue will look attractive in a spacious room; however, here, too, it is best to paint the woodwork the same color, unless it is particularly decorative. All four walls need not be the same color. Painting one wall in a different color, either a lighter or darker version of the other three or a completely contrasting color, gives interest to a room.

This wall can provide the background for your favorite painting or figurine collection. Or it can be the setting for your sofa and chairs to form a "conversation area". It's also very effective to have the dining section against this different colored wall.

You can change the height of your ceiling by painting it the right color. If it seems too high for the room, a darker color than the walls will make it look lower. To make a low ceiling seem higher, paint it white or a very pale color. Paint can solve any floor problems, too.

If the floor is not in good condition, give it a coat of quick drying floor and deck enamel. You have a wide variety of colors and by painting the floor to match your rug will create a color flow that will give additional spaciousness.

Entire Family Can Help In Installing Insulation

One do - it - yourself project around the house that isn't limited to the man of the house alone is installing insulation.

Putting mineral wool in place in attic floors and in walls and ceilings that are accessible is a job the entire family can tackle.

Batts or blankets of mineral wool are light and easy to handle. Husband and wife working together can make the job go fast, one measuring and cutting, the other stapling.

Tips Offered On Paint For Metal Cabinet

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We want to repaint the metal cabinets in our kitchen. What kind of paint should we use?

Answer: Use a semi - gloss or gloss enamel, depending on whether you like a moderately shiny or very shiny finish. If the old paint still has a gloss to it, it must be removed before the new paint is applied.

This can be done by sanding, steel wooling or putting on a special liquid designed for that purpose. If the old paint is worn down to the metal, it should be primed with an anti-corrosive metal primer before applying the enamel.

Question: We recently bought a house with an FHA-insured mortgage, basing our purchase on the fact that an FHA appraiser found the house in good condition. Now we find termites in the place — and the exterminator says they apparently have been there for some time. Is there any action we can take against the FHA for not discovering the presence of the termites?

Answer: A Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in North Carolina recently upheld a Federal District Court decision holding the FHA responsible for losses incurred by home buyers relying on faulty appraisals. But this may not apply in this specific case. Only a lawyer can advise you.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average near or slightly above normal, with minor day-to-day changes. Normal high 74, low 52. Precipitation will average about one-half inch, as showers tonight and again Thursday and Friday.

Red-Held Bishop Dies

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced Saturday the death of the Most Rev. Peter Pavel Cojdic, 72, Roman Catholic bishop of Presov, Czechoslovakia, two months ago in a Communist jail. Bishop Cojdic was jailed for life in 1951 on treason charges and his whereabouts had been kept secret by the Czech government.

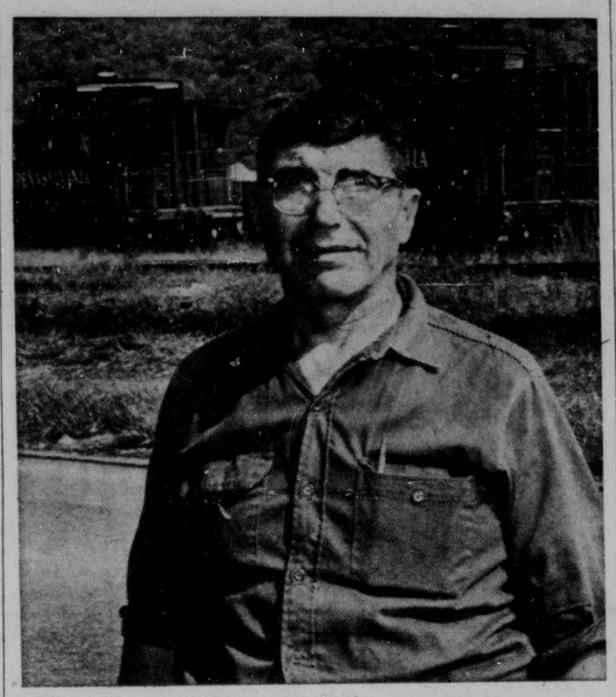
Railroad Vet To Travel



John Carosiello spent his life working on the railroad, but now that he's retired he wants to see something of the United States.

The 71-year-old Wellsville man, the last of the steam locomotive machinists whose home at 1637 Main St. is opposite the once-thriving "yards," wants to begin traveling about the first of November — if he can persuade Mrs. Carosiello.

They returned recently from visiting a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Lester, in Wytheville, Va., following his retirement Aug. 1.

Official records of the Pennsylvania Railroad show Carosiello had nearly 51 years' service, but the veteran machinist claims 9 years more, pointing out he started in 1900 as a waterboy.

Railroad records show he began as a member of the Cleveland Division work train Oct. 15, 1909. Late in January 1910, he started as an engineer cleaner and preparer, continuing in the post for 3½ years.

Carosiello continued to work in the shop, maintaining the big steam locomotives which rumbled through Wellsville, the center of the Cleveland Division.

When the "Pennsy" switched to diesel engines some 10 years ago, Carosiello was sent to school in Pittsburgh to learn the methods to be used on the new engines.

Born in Italy, Carosiello made five trans-Atlantic voyages before settling down in Wellsville.

When he came to the United States originally in 1900 as a lad of 11, he lived with an uncle in Bridgeport, Conn., and went to work for the railroad as a waterboy.

Unable to decide his future, Carosiello sailed back to his native land but remained only a few months before returning again to America. He again stayed with his uncle, this time in New York City, and secured another job with the railroad.

He again returned to Italy and his home, but soon sailed back to the United States and settled in Wellsville in 1907 where he met his future wife. They were married Sept. 8, 1912.

They have another daughter, Mrs. Roma Ciccarrelli of Chester, and three sons, Victor, Ance and Attilio, all of Wellsville.

Principal Talks To Fairview PTA For Inaugural Meeting

"Your Child Attends School" was the topic by Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal of the Western Beaver County Jointure, when the Fairview Parent - Teacher Association resumed monthly meetings Thursday night in the Ohio Township school.

George Vliach, conducting his first meeting, introduced officers and chairmen. Mrs. William Coble, program chairman, led the opening prayer and introduced Meredith, who presented the school directors, faculty and office personnel to the 102 parents present.

Mrs. Gen Gianvito reported on the Fairview Youth Canteen activities and Mrs. Robert Higginbotham on PTA magazine sales.

A budget review was given by Mrs. John Dawson. Last year's books have been audited by Mrs. Willard McGaffick and Mrs. John Flasco.

Mrs. Paul Laughlin, homeroom mothers' chairman, announced her committee as follows:

First grade, Mrs. Dan Borato; first and second, Mrs. Charles Cindrich; second, Mrs. Pete Krizan; Mrs. Ruth Reynolds' third grade, Mrs. Adam Dorn; Mrs. Winifred Ambrose's third grade, Mrs. Paul Walters; Miss Judith Kay's fourth grade, Mrs. Frank Meredith; Mrs. Florence Pfeifer's fourth grade, Mrs. James Whitt; fifth, Mrs. Nick Auskscunas; fifth and sixth, Mrs. McGaffick; sixth, Mrs. John Mahovalich.

Miss Kay's fourth grade won the Blue Boy award.

Mrs. John Radella announced projects including a bake sale Oct. 18 at the Basinger & Gifford offices in Midland, a public card party in November and a Christmas candy sale in December.

Refreshments, furnished by the sixth grade mothers, were served by members of the Executive Board.

"Your Child In the World of Safety" will be presented by a Pennsylvania state patrolman at the next meeing Oct. 20. The board will meet Oct. 12.

Cedar Point Closes

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Cedar Point closed Sunday after a season in which the number of visitors reached 1.3 million, up 34 per cent from last summer. John E. Connolly of Fremont was tagged the 1,300,000th guest and received a check for $100.

PTA To Hear State Officer

A talk by a West Virginia State Police officer will feature the opening program of the Jefferson Parent - Teacher Association Sept. 28 at 7:30 in the Newell school.

George Vukas, president, has completed naming of committee chairmen for the new year. Other officers are Bruce Wheatley, vice president; Gertrude Carson, secretary, and Nancy Mosher, treasurer.

Cpl. A. A. Barney of the Weirton Barracks of the state police will speak on "What To Do In Case of an Auto Accident."

Chairmen for activities and projects include: Audrey Lugano, health; Doris Durham, invocation; Jean Thornberry, hospitality, Helen Rayburn and Eileen Daugherty, refreshments; Mrs. Carson, publicity; Wheatley, PTA magazine; Dorothy Gogol, homeroom mothers; Arlene Copestick, membership.

Man In 1937 Murder Eligible For Parole

LISBON — A Cleveland man convicted with a Youngstown hoodlum in Columbiana County's "briar patch" murder of a Mahoning County racketeer in 1937 is now eligible for consideration for parole.

Herbert Ross, 57, convicted with Solly Hart of the murder of Roy (Happy) Marino, has been granted a commutation from first-degree murder to second-degree by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Ross has been an honor prisoner since 1944 and a driver of various cars for 13 years.

Hart was the penitentiary warden's driver for a long time before his parole last winter. He was the leader of the murder gang.

Marino was machine - gunned on Route 7 near Rogers and his body left in a briar patch. Thomas Galati, also convicted in the murder, still is in the penitentiary.

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Warren Feathers, Claysburg, Penna. (near Altoona), shows he regrew hair by the Lesley Home Treatment Method.

Hair Specialist Here Tomorrow; Will Show How To Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, on TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1960 only. MR. W. A. CLARK, representing the Lesley Hair and Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 P.M. tomorrow at the TRAVELERS HOTEL.

The Lesley Specialists point out that remarkable results have been attained by means of a personal examination followed by simple individual treatments that anyone can easily carry out in the privacy of his or her own home. Regular checkups in your city by a Lesley Specialist assure success in the minimum period of time.

EXAMINE YOU FREE

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE

The Lesley Organization gives a written guarantee when you are accepted for a scalp treatment. You must be satisfied within Guarantee Period or money will be refunded.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED

Lesley Hair and Scalp Specialists have established a very high reputation in the field for refusing any case that does not fall under the scope of its work. In the majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss (a condition sometimes described as male pattern baldness — has been identified as such), Lesley treatment is of little or no value, and again we state LESLEY WILL CONTINUE ITS POLICY OF REFUSING ALL HOPELESS CASES.

DON'T PUT IT OFF

Do yourself a favor. It takes less than 20 minutes for your free examination.

60 Years With Pennsy

Railroad Vet To Travel

John Carosiello spent his life working on the railroad, but now that he's retired he wants to see something of the United States.

The 71-year-old Wellsville man, the last of the steam locomotive machinists whose home at 1637 Main St. is opposite the once-thriving "yards," wants to begin traveling about the first of November — if he can persuade Mrs. Carosiello.

They returned recently from visiting a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Lester, in Wytheville, Va., following his retirement Aug. 1.

Official records of the Pennsylvania Railroad show Carosiello had nearly 51 years' service, but the veteran machinist claims 9 years more, pointing out he started in 1909 as a waterboy.

Railroad records show he began as a member of the Cleveland Division work train Oct. 15, 1909. Late in January 1910, he started as an engineer cleaner and preparer, continuing in the post for 3½ years.

Carosiello continued to work in the shop, maintaining the big steam locomotives which rumbled through Wellsville, the center of the Cleveland Division.

When the "Pennsy" switched to diesel engines some 10 years ago, Carosiello was sent to school in Pittsburgh to learn the methods to be used on the new engines.

Born in Italy, Carosiello made five trans-Atlantic voyages before settling down in Wellsville.

When he came to the United States originally in 1909 as a lad of 11, he lived with an uncle in Bridgeport, Conn., and went to work for the railroad as a waterboy.

Unable to decide his future, Carosiello sailed back to his native land but remained only a few months before returning again to America. He again stayed with his uncle, this time in New York City, and secured another job with the railroad.

He again returned to Italy and his home, but soon sailed back to the United States and settled in Wellsville in 1907 where he met his future wife. They were married Sept. 8, 1912.

They have another daughter, Mrs. Roma Ciccarrelli of Chester, and three sons, Victor, Ance and Attilio, all of Wellsville.

Principal Talks To Fairview PTA For Inaugural Meeting

"Your Child Attends School" was the topic by Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal of the Western Beaver County Jointure, when the Fairview Parent - Teacher Association resumed monthly meetings Thursday night in the Ohio Township school.

George Vliach, conducting his first meeting, introduced officers and chairmen. Mrs. William Coble, program chairman, led the opening prayer and introduced Meredith, who presented the school directors, faculty and office personnel to the 102 parents present.

Mrs. Gen Gianvito reported on the Fairview Youth Canteen activities and Mrs. Robert Higginbotham on PTA magazine sales.

A budget review was given by Mrs. John Dawson. Last year's books have been audited by Mrs. Willard McGaffick and Mrs. John Flasco.

Mrs. Paul Laughlin, homeroom mothers' chairman, announced her committee as follows:

First grade, Mrs. Dan Borato, first and second, Mrs. Charles Cindrich; second, Mrs. Pete Krisan; Mrs. Ruth Reynolds' third grade, Mrs. Adam Dorn; Mrs. Winifred Ambrose's third grade, Mrs. Paul Walters; Miss Judith Kay's fourth grade, Mrs. Frank Meredith; Mrs. Florence Pfeifer's fourth grade, Mrs. James Whitt; fifth, Mrs. Nick Auskocunas; fifth and sixth, Mrs. McGaffick; sixth, Mrs. John Mahovalich.

Miss Kay's fourth grade won the Blue Boy award.

Mrs. John Radella announced projects including a bake sale Oct. 18 at the Basinger & Gifford offices in Midland, a public card party in November and a Christmas candy sale in December.

Refreshments, furnished by the sixth grade mothers, were served by members of the Executive Board.

"Your Child In the World of Safety" will be presented by a Pennsylvania state patrolman at the next meeting Oct. 20. The board will meet Oct. 12.

Man In 1937 Murder Eligible For Parole

LISBON — A Cleveland man convicted with a Youngstown hoodlum in Columbiana County's "briar patch" murder of a Mahoning County racketeer in 1937 is now eligible for consideration for parole.

Herbert Ross, 57, convicted with Solly Hart of the murder of Roy (Happy) Marino, has been granted a commutation from first-degree murder to second-degree by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Ross has been an honor prisoner since 1944 and a driver of various cars for 13 years.

Hart was the penitentiary warden's driver for a long time before his parole last winter. He was the leader of the murder gang.

Marino was machine - gunned on Route 7 near Rogers and his body left in a briar patch. Thomas Galati, also convicted in the murder, still is in the penitentiary.

Hair Specialist Here Tomorrow; Will Show How To Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, on TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1960 only. MR. W. A. CLARK, representing the Lesley Hair and Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:00 P.M. tomorrow at the TRAVELERS HOTEL.

The Lesley Specialists point out that remarkable results have been attained by means of a personal examination followed by simple individual treatments that anyone can easily carry out in the privacy of his or her own home. Regular checkups in your city by a Lesley Specialist assure success in the minimum period of time.

EXAMINE YOU FREE

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost. We do not accept cases that will not respond.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE

The Lesley Organization gives a written guarantee when you are accepted for a scalp treatment. You must be satisfied within Guarantee Period or money will be refunded.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED

Lesley Hair and Scalp Specialists have established a very high reputation in the field for refusing any case that does not fall under the scope of its work. In the majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss (a condition sometimes described as male pattern baldness — has been identified as such), Lesley treatment is of little or no value, and again we state LESLEY WILL CONTINUE ITS POLICY OF REFUSING ALL HOPELESS CASES.

Wellsville Misses Victory By Inches, Ties Freedom, 7-7

JOHN EUILL

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Undaunted by a terrific weight disadvantage and forced to battle the breaks, scrappy Wellsville High fought strong Freedom to a 7-7 tie Saturday night in the second game of the season.

Coach Ken Woods' Tigers missed victory by the width of a matchstick in a bruising encounter with one of the top teams in the Beaver Valley.

Less than six minutes remained in the deadlocked struggle when Wellsville halfback Dick Brown scooted to the Freedom goal line on a fourth-down attempt.

Nonetheless the Tigers filed off the soft turf of Freedom's new gridiron with a moral victory over one of the heaviest opponents in many years. The game was the first on the field and was seen by several thousand, including a large delegation of Wellsville fans.

The Pennsylvanians scored first, catching Wellsville's pass defenders napping in the second quarter. Quarterback Joe LaValle flipped a rollout pass to left end John Bashaar for the score, with the play covering 11 yards.

The big end left his position long enough to boot the conversion, which appeared low of the crossbars but was ruled successful after a conference by the officials.

Euill Scores Lone TD Against Heavy Foe In Thriller

FOLLOWING the kickoff, Wellsville marched about 60 yards for a touchdown shortly before the half ended. Fullback John Euill crashed over from one-yard out for the score.

The Tigers went for a run on the extra point attempt and Brown delivered on a right end sweep to tie the game. Quarterback Roger Ours faked beautifully to Euill on the play and enabled Brown to plunge into the end zone.

The second half found Wellsville outplaying Freedom and threatening twice for touchdowns. Ours, though a good passer, wasn't called upon to throw much with Euill, Brown and Doug Thomas faring well on the ground attack.

Ours completed two of three passes and a 31-yarder to end Will Mobley helped the Tigers in the fourth-quarter threat. Mobley made an over-the-shoulder catch as the third period was ending and was finally hauled down on the Freedom 6-yard line.

Thomas on a buck crashed to the two and Brown got one more yard on a plunge. The next play found Ours stumbling and being caught for a three-yard loss. The quarter ended at this point and the teams exchanged goals.

On the next play, a fourth down, Brown broke loose around right end and carried Freedom tacklers to the goal line. He was ruled short of the tie-breaking score by less than an inch and the threat ended.

FOUR MINUTES were left in the game when the second Wellsville threat stalled at the Freedom 17-yard line.

Wellsville had moved from its own 45 to the Freedom 15 in eight plays. Euill bucked to the 11 on first down. Ours was trapped back at the 17 on the second play. The remaining two downs were incomplete passes.

Euill, playing his best game yet on both offense and defense, intercepted a Freedom pass at midfield as the final whistle blew.

The Wellsville line, anchored by tackles Alvin Jackson and Ralph Culp, guards Roger Merriman and Bill Long and center Phil Baldwin, gave a good account of itself.

The Tiger front wall worked hard to open the holes and had to move such king-sized opponents as tackle Al DeDominicis (230), guards Dan Linta (210) and Jim Karwoski (215) and center Bill Fabinich (210).

Merriman was shaken up in the second half but was not injured, Woods said. Freedom, which opened the season with a 7-0 victory over Monaca, was without the services of Ken Haglan, Beaver County sprint champion, who was out with an injured hand. Anthony Ciani subbed for the halfback and turned in a creditable performance, gaining most of Freedom's yardage.

Wellsville's pass defense, leaky against Lisbon last week, allowed Freedom only one completion in five attempts, but it was for a touchdown. Mike Thompson and Euill each made an interception.

Beaver Local Rolls Over Chester, 28-0

4 Backs Get Touchdowns In Second Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Beaver Local's gridders returned to the practice field today and began preparing for their battle with Stanton Local next Saturday fresh from rolling over rival Chester, 28-0.

Some 500 fans, protected by umbrellas throughout the rainy afternoon, watched the Beavers stage a powerful running attack at Williamsport.

It was a sharp performance by the Beaver Local eleven, which turned in its second straight victory of the season.

Coach Dom Amedeo of Chester said after the game the 28 points registered by Beaver Local were the most any team has scored on his squad in several seasons.

—:—

THE FORCES of coach Jack O'Rourke drew first blood in the opening quarter, tallied 8 more points in the second and capped the afternoon with 12 in the fourth.

Beaver Local's ground attack, which featured the running of all four backs — Ron McLaughlin, Dale Beagle, Carl Hoppel and Mike Klembara — netted 236 yards and 14 first downs.

Amedeo was disappointed with the performance of his team, which suffered a letdown in losing its first game of the season after winning the opener against South Side.

The Panthers were held to a net of 81 yards on the ground, while recording only four first downs.

The skill of quarterback Klembara was something to watch. His ball handling and faking was flawless and he completed one touchdown pass and scored another himself.

The best all-around performer on the field Saturday, however, was turned in by McLaughlin. He was listed at halfback for the Beavers, but usually was all over defensively.

A JACK of all trades, McLaughlin also did the punting for the Beavers. He added the final touchdown of the game with a 15-yard sweep around the right side late in the fourth quarter.

The return of Hoppel to the lineup gave Beaver Local its fourth backfield man. Hoppel scored Beaver Local's first touchdown by ripping off the right side from two yards away late in the first period.

Dale Beagle played another stellar roll at halfback and tallied the third Beaver Local touchdown when he took a 15-yard pass from Klembara in the fourth quarter.

The defensive play of Dave Myers also was outstanding. Myers, a 145-pound guard, and tackle Francis Campbell made the majority of the stops.

The Panthers, banking on speed, might have been hampered by the wet field, but its offense was stopped. Chuck Mullen, a sophomore halfback, was the leading ground gainer for the Panthers, chalking up several short gains. Mullen and Keith Sayre were the two workhorses for Chester.

Beaver Local marched 70 yards for its first touchdown with Hoppel carrying seven times and finally going over from the two-yard line. The two big gains in the drive were a 17-yard run by Hopel on a fake punt and Klembara's rollout for 12 yards.

The Beavers added two extra points on a fine catch by end George Williams, who pulled the ball out of the arms of a Chester defender as they both leaped for the pigskin.

ANOTHER march of 60 yards netted O'Rourke's team its second touchdown. Klembara rolled out nicely to the right side for seven yards and the score. Beagle shot over for the extra points and Beaver Local took a 16-0 lead at halftime.

In the third period, Chester stopped the home team on the Panther 11-yard line, but late in the third quarter the Beavers began another march.

On the third play of the fourth quarter, Klembara threw to Beagle for another six-pointer. McLaughlin's placement for the extra point was blocked by center Bill Yoakum.

Myers set up Beaver Local's fourth touchdown when he blocked Don Reese's punt and the Beavers took over on the Chester 15-yard line.

After a first-down pass failed, McLaughlin sprinted around the right side and into paydirt. A key block by end Pete Wilkinson broke McLaughlin loose.

The closest Chester came to the Beaver Local end zone was in the second quarter when the Panthers drove to the 20-yard line.

Beaver Local travels to Stanton Local Saturday, while Chester hosts United in a Friday night game.

BEAVER LOCAL—28
Ends — Reed, G. Williams, Possage, Wilkenson.
Tackles — Westover, Campbell, McKinney.
Guards — Myers, Berhar, Bontempt, Hickman.
Centers — Hall, Carroll.
Backs — Klembara, R. McLaughlin, Beagle, Hoppel, Broadbent, Gaydos, Bockman.

CHESTER—0
Ends — Pinney, Lyons.
Tackles — Eberhart, Mackall, Williams.
Guards — Cosgrove, Price.
Center — Yoakum.
Backs — G. Pugh, Bickerstaff, Myers, Sayre, Mullen, Jarvis.

BEAVER LOCAL	8	8	0	12	—28

Beaver Local scoring: Touchdowns — Hoppel, Klembara, Beagle, McLaughlin. Points after touchdowns — Williams (pass), Beagle (run).

Beaver Local Gridder Injured During Game

Bill Reed, 145-pound end for Beaver Local, suffered a sprained left knee during action in the second quarter of the Chester-Beaver Local game Saturday. He was taken to East Liverpool City Hospital where he was treated and released.

United Drops 2nd Straight

HANOVERTON—Invading Randolph scored a touchdown in each period here Saturday and handed United its second setback of the season 24-8.

Quarterback Roger Cugini scored the first touchdown from one-yard away then tossed to halfback Jerry Stapleton for a 27-yard scoring pass in the second period.

United came back and shaved the lead to 12-8 when quarterback John Hanna and Dave Metzger clicked for a 20-yard touchdown pass. Bill Schroyer took a pass from Larry Marks for the two extra points.

Randolph added another six-pointer in the third quarter when Tom Spangler went over from the 9-yard line and Dan Schuck tallied in the fourth period from 6 yards away.

Pat Connor's "Dark Lady" won the 100-mile pigeon race from Newark Sunday sponsored by the East Liverpool Homing Club.

Second was "Smokey" owned by Charles Papendry who also saw his "Red Top" place third. The winning time was 3 hours, 22 minutes and 59 seconds.

Fairfield Rolls To 2nd Straight Victory, 34-14

NEW WATERFORD — Coach Bruce Weber's Fairfield - Waterford combine scored in every period to roll over Greenford, 34-14 here Saturday afternoon.

After a 6-6 tie in the first period, Fairfield-Waterford shot in front with two touchdowns in the second quarter and added one each in the third and fourth.

Larry Webber hit paydirt twice for the Rebels, once on a 13-yard run and the other from 4 yards away.

Paul Messinger scored the first Rebel touchdown when he ran over from the 3-yard line.

Slavens traveled 35 yards for a touchdown and Peppel ran one over from the 5-yard line.

The victory marked the second straight victory for the Rebels and avenged a 42-6 setback suffered last season.

U.S. Is Closer To Tilt With Australians

CLEVELAND (AP)—With a victory over Venezuela safely tucked away, America's Davis Cup youngsters were only two matches away today from a crack at Australia's champions.

The Philippines, Eastern Zone champions, and Italy's European victors still stand in America's path—but the U. S. and Australia have reached the challenge round every year since 1938 and are favored to meet again.

Australia, winner over the U. S. eight of the last 10 years, holds a 9-7 edge over the Americans since they started their exclusive matches 22 years ago. None were held during the war.

Earl Buchholz and Chuck McKinley, both of St. Louis wrapped up the American Zone title Sunday as they defeated Venezuela's Iyo Pimentel and Marcos Gambus in the doubles, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

There are 1,226 Americans listed as permanent residents of Berlin, Germany.

Euill, playing his best game yet on both offense and defense, intercepted a Freedom pass at midfield as the final whistle blew.

The Wellsville line, anchored by tackles Alvin Jackson and Ralph Culp, guards Roger Merriman and Bill Long and center Phil Baldwin, gave a good account of itself.

The Tiger front wall worked hard to open the holes and had to move such king-sized opponents as tackle Al DeDominicis (230), guards Dan Linta (210) and Jim Karwoski (215) and center Bill Fabinich (210).

Merriman was shaken up in the second half but was not injured, Woods said. Freedom, which opened the season with a 7-0 victory over Monaca, was without the services of Ken Haglan, Beaver County sprint champion, who was out with an injured hand. Anthony Ciani subbed for the halfback and turned in a creditable performance, gaining most of Freedom's yardage.

Wellsville's pass defense, leaky against Lisbon last week, allowed Freedom only one completion in five attempts, but it was for a touchdown. Mike Thompson and Euill each made an interception.

Beaver Local Rolls Over Chester, 28-0

4 Backs Get Touchdowns In Second Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Beaver Local's gridders returned to the practice field today and began preparing for their battle with Stanton Local next Saturday fresh from rolling over rival Chester, 28-0.

Some 500 fans, protected by umbrellas throughout the rainy afternoon, watched the Beavers stage a powerful running attack at Williamsport.

It was a sharp performance by the Beaver Local eleven, which turned in its second straight victory of the season.

Coach Dom Amedeo of Chester said after the game the 28 points registered by Beaver Local were the most any team has scored on his squad in several seasons.

—:—

THE FORCES of coach Jack O'Rourke drew first blood in the opening quarter, tallied 8 more points in the second and capped the afternoon with 12 in the fourth.

Beaver Local's ground attack, which featured the running of all four backs — Ron McLaughlin, Dale Beagle, Carl Hoppel and Mike Klembara — netted 236 yards and 14 first downs.

Amedeo was disappointed with the performance of his team, which suffered a letdown in losing its first game of the season after winning the opener against South Side.

The Panthers were held to a net of 81 yards on the ground, while recording only four first downs.

The skill of quarterback Klembara was something to watch. His ball handling and faking was flawless and he completed one touchdown pass and scored another himself.

The best all-around performer on the field Saturday, however, was turned in by McLaughlin. He was listed at halfback for the Beavers, but usually was all over defensively.

A JACK of all trades, McLaughlin also did the punting for the Beavers. He added the final touchdown of the game with a 15-yard sweep around the right side late in the fourth quarter.

The return of Hoppel to the lineup gave Beaver Local its fourth backfield man. Hoppel scored Beaver Local's first touchdown by ripping off the right side from two yards away late in the first period.

Dale Beagle played another stellar roll at halfback and tallied the third Beaver Local touchdown when he took a 15-yard pass from Klembara in the fourth quarter.

The defensive play of Dave Myers also was outstanding. Myers, a 145-pound guard, and tackle Francis Campbell made the majority of the stops.

The Panthers, banking on speed, might have been hampered by the wet field, but its offense was stopped. Chuck Mullen, a sophomore halfback, was the leading ground gainer for the Panthers, chalking up several short gains. Mullen and Keith Sayre were the two workhorses for Chester.

Beaver Local marched 70 yards for its first touchdown with Hoppel carrying seven times and finally going over from the two-yard line. The two big gains in the drive were a 17-yard run by Hoppel on a fake punt and Klembara's rollout for 12 yards.

The Beavers added two extra points on a fine catch by end George Williams, who pulled the ball out of the arms of a Chester defender as they both leaped for the pigskin.

ANOTHER march of 60 yards netted O'Rourke's team its second touchdown. Klembara rolled out nicely to the right side for seven yards and the score. Beagle shot over for the extra points and Beaver Local took a 16-0 lead at halftime.

In the third period, Chester stopped the home team on the Panther 11-yard line, but late in the third quarter the Beavers began another march.

On the third play of the fourth quarter, Klembara threw to Beagle for another six-pointer. McLaughlin's placement for the extra point was blocked by center Bill Yonkum.

Myers set up Beaver Local's fourth touchdown when he blocked Don Reese's punt and the Beavers took over on the Chester 15-yard line.

After a first-down pass failed, McLaughlin sprinted around the right side and into paydirt. A key block by end Pete Wilkinson broke McLaughlin loose.

The closest Chester came to the Beaver Local end zone was in the second quarter when the Panthers drove to the 20-yard line.

Beaver Local travels to Stanton Local Saturday, while Chester hosts United in a Friday night game.

U.S. Is Closer To Tilt With Australians

CLEVELAND (AP)—With a victory over Venezuela safely tucked away, America's Davis Cup youngsters were only two matches away today from a crack at Australia's champions.

The Philippines, Eastern Zone champions, and Italy's European victors still stand in America's path—but the U. S. and Australia have reached the challenge round every year since 1938 and are favored to meet again.

Australia, winner over the U. S. eight of the last 10 years, holds a 9-7 edge over the Americans since they started their exclusive matches 22 years ago. None were held during the war.

Earl Buchholz and Chuck McKinley, both of St. Louis wrapped up the American Zone title Sunday as they defeated Venezuela's Iyo Pimentel and Marcos Gambus in the doubles, 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

There are 1,226 Americans listed as permanent residents of Berlin, Germany.

United Drops 2nd Straight

HANOVERTON—Invading Randolph scored a touchdown in each period here Saturday and handed United its second setback of the season, 24-6.

Quarterback Roger Cugini scored the first touchdown from one-yard away then tossed to halfback Jerry Stapleton for a 27-yard scoring pass in the second period.

United came back and shaved the lead to 12-6 when quarterback John Hanna and Dave Metzger clicked for a 20-yard touchdown pass. Bill Schroyer took a pass from Larry Marks for the two extra points.

Randolph added another six-pointer in the third quarter when Tom Spangler went over from the 9-yard line and Dan Schuck tallied in the fourth period from 6 yards away.

Dark Lady Captures Homing Club Race

Pat Connor's "Dark Lady" won the 100-mile pigeon race from Newark Sunday sponsored by the East Liverpool Homing Club.

Second was "Smokey" owned by Charles Papendry who also saw his "Red Top" place third. The winning time was 3 hours, 22 minutes and 59 seconds.

Fairfield Rolls To 2nd Straight Victory, 34-14

NEW WATERFORD — Coach Bruce Weber's Fairfield - Waterford combine scored in every period to roll over Greenford, 34-14 here Saturday afternoon.

After a 6-6 tie in the first period, Fairfield-Waterford shot in front with two touchdowns in the second quarter and added one each in the third and fourth.

Larry Webber hit paydirt twice for the Rebels, once on a 13-yard run and the other from 4 yards away.

Paul Messinger scored the first Rebel touchdown when he ran over from the 3-yard line.

Slavens traveled 35 yards for a touchdown and Peppel ran one over from the 5-yard line.

The victory marked the second straight victory for the Rebels and avenged a 42-6 setback suffered last season.

Law Wins 20th Game, Mizell Hurls 3-Hitter Over Cincinnati

Yanks Throw AL Race Wide Open After Sweeping Orioles

Magic Number Reduced To 7; 11 Contests Remaining

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roll out the barrel you Pirate fans. The fighting Bucs are practically in. Only another baseball miracle can rob Pittsburgh of its first National League pennant since 1927.

With 11 games to go, Danny Murtaugh's Pirates led by six full games over St. Louis and 6½ over Milwaukee. The Cardinals have 13 to play, the Braves only 10. The "magic number" is seven.

Vern Law and Vinegar Bend Mizell did the strong arm jobs Sunday that gave the Pirates a doubleheader sweep over Cincinnati 5-3 and 1-0. For Law it was victory No. 20 on the fourth try. Mizell, the ex-Cardinal, chimed in with a neat three-hit shutout for his 12th triumph.

The Cards also won,, edging San Francisco 4-3 as Ernie Broglio joined Law and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as 20-game winners. Milwaukee thumped Philadelphia 7-1 on Joey Jay's four-hitter and homers by Bill Bruton and Joe Adcock. The game was called in the bottom of the eighth by rain.

Chicago hit three homers in a five-run sixth inning and hung a 5-2 defeat on Los Angeles. The defeat left the defending champion Dodgers mathematically eliminated from anything better than a tie.

Don Hoak was the big man for the Pirates at Cincinnati. The fiery third baseman drove in two decisive runs in the opener and scored the only run of the second game on Dick Schofield's double after hitting a double off Bob Purkey.

Broglio had beaten every other club in the league but the Giants who traded him to St. Louis last year. He became the Cards' first 20-game winner since Harvey Haddix in 1953. Stan Musial drove in two Card runs and Ken Boyer and Daryl Spencer each knocked in one to beat Mike McCormick.

Milwaukee knocked out rookie Art Mahaffey in the second inning. It was his third straight defeat after winning his first five. Only 10,561, smallest ever for a Sunday game, turned out at County Stadium in Milwaukee.

Teammates Mob Law After He Posts No. 20

CINCINNATI (AP)— Pittsburgh teammates mobbed Vern Law with congratulations Sunday after the Mormon sharpshooter finally won his 20th game with a nine-hitter over Cincinnati.

It was the first 20-game season ever for the veteran right-hander who worked his way through lean years to pitching maturity.

Cincinnati gave him a bit of trouble before succumbing 5-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. He had tried three times since Aug. 29 for the coveted 20th victory. Law's best previous mark was 18 triumphs last year.

Teammate Wilmer Mizell took some of the glory Sunday by pitching a three-hit 1-0 victory in the nightcap.

With those two triumphs and 11 games to go, the Pirates have the National League flag virtually in the bag.

The Reds tried hard to make trouble for Law, and Willie Jones was especially pesky.

Two hits and an intentional pass to Jones filled the bases in the second inning, but Law got Roy McMillan on an easy liner and struck out Pitcher Cal McLish.

Two hits in the fourth and another in the fifth kept things interesting for Law. But the Reds could not score until his teammates had punched out all five runs.

Jones finally hit a home run in the seventh and Frank Robinson did the same, good for two runs, in the eighth.

Jones was the last to cast doubt on the issue with a one-out single in the ninth. Law calmly set down the last two batters.

Law helped himself with a bases loaded sacrifice fly that produced a run in the fourth. Dick Stuart had led off the inning with a home run.

In the fifth Stuart drove in Roberto Clemente with a double and scored on Don Hoak's home run.

The nightcap was a tighter pitcher's struggle, with Bob Purkey giving up only six Pirate hits. But with the Reds helpless against Mizell, Purkey took a ninth defeat instead of the 18th victory he sought.

The only score came in the seventh inning when Hoak led off with a double and Dick Schofield doubled him home.

Syracuse Opens Defense Of National Grid Title

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

National champion Syracuse rolls its heavy artillery into firing position Saturday when it opens its 1960 football operations against battered and bruised Boston University.

Steve Sinko's Terriers bit off more than they could chew when they scheduled Penn State and Syracuse for their first two opponents. The Nittany Lions, usually a power in the east, shut out BU in the opener for both schools last Saturday, 20-0.

The Orange should do even better. They were voted No. 1 in the country in the pre-season Associated Press poll, and against BU they should do no more than flex their mighty muscles in preparation for more important future business.

About half the teams in the country opened last week. The rubble that remained of some of the big boys was still being picked up after some of the opening day shockers.

Texas, Southern California and Pitt, ranked Nos. 4, 6 and 7, respectively, in the pre-season poll, were rudely dumped. Texas, the Southwest Conference co-champion, lost to Nebraska, 14-13; Southern Cal fell before Oregon State, 14-0, and Pitt was humbled by UCLA, 8-7.

Texas could be in for more trouble this week. The Longhorns play Maryland, a sleeper that chopped down West Virginia, 31-8. The Terps, who have been having rough sledding since the glory days of 1955, think they have a winner this year.

Southern Cal will try to pick up the pieces against Texas Christian, while Pitt entertains Michigan State, another rough customer, and No. 8 in the pre-season poll.

Nebraska's victory over Texas and Kansas' surprising 21-6 triumph over TCU, the other Southwest Conference co-champion, bodes no good for Oklahoma, which has won the Big Eight title the last 12 years.

The Sooners open this week against Northwestern. Nebraska will be at home to Minnesota and Kansas will try to make it two in a row at the expense of Kansas State.

Alabama provided another eye-opener by whipping Georgia, 21-6, in the national television game of the week. Georgia stormed through the tough Southeastern Conference undefeated last year. Alabama takes on Tulane this week while Georgia tackles Vanderbilt.

Other important Saturday scores included Navy 22, Boston College 7; Army 37, Buffalo 0; Missouri 20, Southern Methodist 0; Arkansas 9, Oklahoma State 0; Georgia Tech 23, Kentucky 13; Louisiana State 9, Texas A&M 0; Washington State 15, Stanford 14.

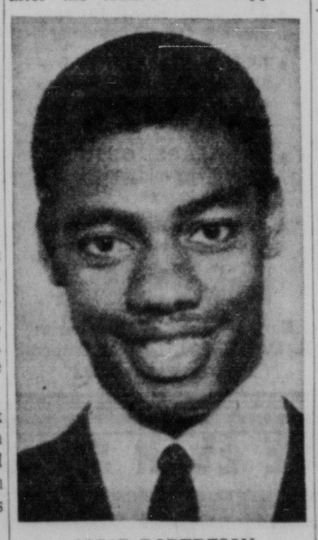
Oscar Signs With Royals

CINCINNATI (AP) — All-America Oscar Robertson Sunday signed a three-year agreement with the pro basketball Cincinnati Royals, ending vague reports he was considering other offers.

Robertson, three times a major college scoring record leader for the University of Cincinnati, was the No. 1 target of the Royals after the team's two disappointing past seasons. He's expected to perk up team play and attendance.



OSCAR ROBERTSON
In Cincinnati Fold.

Robertson, fresh from Olympic competition, declined to say how much pay he'll get, but reports indicated the contract includes an incentive clause based on attendance.

Robertson said he liked the agreement because "there are a few benefits in it, but it's mainly the money."

Three-times an All-America, Robertson's 2,972 points in 88 varsity games and his 33.8 points per game average are both national marks.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Edwin D. Forney, 22, of Youngstown, was in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today after losing an eye in a hunting accident. James E. Stamm of Mineral Ridge told Trumbull County sheriff's deputies Sunday he fired a rifle shot at a squirrel near the bottom of a tree trunk and failed to see Forney in some bushes. At first Stamm had said the shot was fired by a stranger who ran away, the deputies reported.

Pike Pulled Out Of Beaver Creek

George Noah of Industry R. D. 1 proudly shows a Great Northern pike he caught Sunday in Beaver Creek to Deputy Sheriff Herman (Cy) Wellman.

Noah, who hooked the 32½-inch fish near Grimms Bridge, was happy to see Wellman along with Chief Deputy James Miller and St. Clair Township Constable John Jackson.

Landing the pike, which local fishermen say never has been seen previously in these waters, Noah was unable to spot anyone to witness his catch. The police officers drove in just as Noah was walking away from the bank.

The fish weighed 7 pounds, 9½ ounces and had a 12-inch girth.

Noah at first believed he had hooked a bass, but when the fish didn't break the water he realized he had something else. He was afraid of losing him on his light 4-pound test line with a spinning rod.

Noah said he was fishing for a muskellunge, which had broken his line after being hooked early this spring. "I'll get him one of these days," he commented.

Denver, Houston, Boston Pick Up Victories In AFL

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Patient Frank Filchock, a builder of champions at 43, has molded the unheralded Denver Broncos into a potent pro football aggregation with title aspirations in the Western Division of the fledgling American League.

Undaunted while his charges were pushed around in losing all five pre-season exhibitions, Filchock concentrated on providing the Denver club with a semblance of cohesion and balance by deftly analyzing his personnel, making the proper shifts and teaching his wing T offense.

With two games gone in the young AFL season, Filchock's Broncos have moved into first place in the west with an unblemished record after a 27-21 come-from-behind triumph over the Buffalo Bills Sunday.

Johnny Pyeatt's 33-yard run with an intercepted pass for a fourth quarter touchdown won it for Denver and Filchock, who brewed his coaching formula in the Canadian leagues where his teams finished in the playoffs eight of nine years.

Over 15,000 turned out to see the Broncos and Bills and 20,156 were on hand as Houston's Oilers riddled the vaunted Los Angeles Chargers 38-28. Another 19,200 saw the Boston Patriots edge the New York Titans 28-24 on the final play of a Saturday night thriller.

The National League—set to inaugurate its 41st season Friday night—wound up the exhibition season with the Green Bay Packers completing a 6-0 slate by walloping winless Washington 41-7 as Bart Starr passed for three touchdowns.

In other pre-season windups, Norm Van Brocklin pitched Philadelphia to a 35-21 victory over defending champion Baltimore; Bobby Mitchell went 10 yards for the deciding TD in Cleveland's 14-10 triumph over Detroit and St. Louis beat San Francisco 24-17.

Veteran quarterback George Blanda personally put the Oilers into first place in the east, setting up three touchdowns with his passes and scoring them on 1-yard plunges while adding a field goal and five conversions for 26 points. He was ably supported by a running attack led by Billy Cannon that overcame four TD strikes by Los Angeles' Jack Kemp.

Chuck Shonta, Boston defensive specialist, scooped up a loose ball that eluded a New York punter and scampered 25 yards for the winning score as time ran out. Al Dorow had passed the Titans into the lead with TD flips of 8, 16 and 38 yards and it stood up until the fatal kick play began with only 12 seconds left.

Goal-Line Stand Stops Indians In 6-0 Defeat

SALINEVILLE — A goal line stand by Tuscarawas on its own one-yard line in the fourth quarter gave the visitors a hard-fought 6-0 victory over Salineville here Saturday afternoon.

The only touchdown of the game came in the second period when Chester Summers climaxed a 73-yard drive by busting over from three yards away.

The contest played on a muddy field found both teams fumbling away opportunities.

Salineville received a break in the fourth quarter. Tuscarawas was faced with a fourth and 25 situation when a bad pass from center gave Salineville possession on the visitors 9-yard line.

The Indians drove to the one but couldn't cross the goal. Later in the fourth quarter, Salineville moved to the Tuscarawas 11 but lost the ball on a fumble.

Salineville lost its first game of the season after winning the opener over Jackson-Milton.

Lead Baltimore, Chisox By 4 Full Games; Sox Split

By The Associated Press

Suddenly the New York Yankees are in a position for "magic number" talk about pennant clinching instead of a nail-biting percentage lead.

The Yanks rose to the occasion to put down the Baltimore challenge over the weekend, sweeping all four games to break the American League race wide open.

Friday afternoon they led the Orioles by one percentage point. Today they sport a four-game lead over both Baltimore and Chicago.

The Yanks have 11 games to play. Baltimore and Chicago each have nine. Any combination of seven Yank victories or Oriole and White Sox defeats would nail it down.

There still is danger ahead for Manager Casey Stengel whose Yanks have found Washington their most troublesome rival. Five of their last 11 games are with the Senators, the other six with always tough Boston.

After beating Baltimore 7-3 with a slashing 12-hit attack in Sunday's opener, the Yanks came up with a gilt-edged pitching job by Ralph Terry in the 2-0 second game.

Terry had a perfect game going until he walked Brooks Robinson on a 3-2 count with two out in the seventh. Ronnie Hansen broke the no-hit spell by driving Terry's first pitch in the eighth over third base for a single. Jackie Brandt collected the other hit, a single with two out in the ninth.

Chicago missed a chance to take over second place all by itself. The White Sox whipped up a 15-hit attack, drubbing Detroit in the first game 8-4 with Nellie Fox chipping in three singles. The Tigers eked out a 7-6 margin in the second game.

Boston trimmed Washington 3-1 on a five-hit job by Bill Monbouquette and Mike Fornieles. Despite two-hit pitching by Cleveland's Bobby Locke and Don Newcombe, Kansas City edged the Tribe in the first game 3-2. Cleveland won the second 9-2 behind Barry Latman.

Despite homers by Rocky Colavito and Charlie Maxwell, the White Sox took charge of the first game at Detroit. They led in the long second game, too, but lost it in the seventh inning. The winning run scored from third while the Sox were running down Eddie Yost between third and second base, for the third out.

Willie Tasby's home run and a two-run single by Lu Clinton were the big blows for the Red Sox against Washington.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting, Don Hoak, Pirates — Drove in two decisive runs in 5-3 first game victory over Cincinnati and scored the only run of second game after hitting a double.

Pitching, Ralph Terry, Yanks—Held Orioles to two hits in 2-0 second game, pitching perfect game until he walked Brooks Robinson with two out in the seventh. A leadoff single by Ron Hansen in the eighth and a two-out single by Jackie Brandt in the ninth were the only Baltimore hits in second game after Yanks won opener 7-3.

Law Wins 20th Game, Mizell Hurls 3-Hitter Over Cincinnati

Yanks Throw AL Race Wide Open After Sweeping Orioles

Magic Number Reduced To 7; 11 Contests Remaining

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roll out the barrel you Pirate fans. The fighting Bucs are practically in. Only another baseball miracle can rob Pittsburgh of its first National League pennant since 1927.

With 11 games to go, Danny Murtaugh's Pirates led by six full games over St. Louis and 6½ over Milwaukee. The Cardinals have 13 to play, the Braves only 10. The "magic number" is seven.

Vern Law and Vinegar Bend Mizell did the strong arm jobs Sunday that gave the Pirates a doubleheader sweep over Cincinnati 5-3 and 1-0. For Law it was victory No. 20 on the fourth try. Mizell, the ex-Cardinal, chimed in with a neat three-hit shutout for his 12th triumph.

The Cards also won, edging San Francisco 4-3 as Ernie Broglio joined Law and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn as 20-game winners. Milwaukee thumped Philadelphia 7-1 on Joey Jay's four-hitter and homers by Bill Bruton and Joe Adcock. The game was called in the bottom of the eighth by rain.

Chicago hit three homers in a five-run sixth inning and hung a 5-2 defeat on Los Angeles. The defeat left the defending champion Dodgers mathematically eliminated from anything better than a tie.

Don Hoak was the big man for the Pirates at Cincinnati. The fiery third baseman drove in two decisive runs in the opener and scored the only run of the second game on Dick Schofield's double after hitting a double off Bob Purkey.

Broglio had beaten every other club in the league but the Giants who traded him to St. Louis last year. He became the Cards' first 20-game winner since Harvey Haddix in 1953. Stan Musial drove in two Card runs and Ken Boyer and Daryl Spencer each knocked in one to beat Mike McCormick.

Milwaukee knocked out rookie Art Mahaffey in the second inning. It was his third straight defeat after winning his first five. Only 10,561, smallest ever for a Sunday game, turned out at County Stadium in Milwaukee.

Teammates Mob Law After He Posts No. 20

CINCINNATI (AP)— Pittsburgh teammates mobbed Vern Law with congratulations Sunday after the Mormon sharpshooter finally won his 20th game with a nine-hitter over Cincinnati.

It was the first 20-game season ever for the veteran right-hander who worked his way through lean years to pitching maturity.

Cincinnati gave him a bit of trouble before succumbing 5-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. He had tried three times since Aug. 29 for the coveted 20th victory. Law's best previous mark was 18 triumphs last year.

Teammate Wilmer Mizell took some of the glory Sunday by pitching a three-hit 1-0 victory in the nightcap.

With those two triumphs and 11 games to go, the Pirates have the National League flag virtually in the bag.

The Reds tried hard to make trouble for Law, and Willie Jones was especially pesky.

Two hits and an intentional pass to Jones filled the bases in the second inning, but Law got Roy McMillan on an easy liner and struck out Pitcher Cal McLish.

Two hits in the fourth and another in the fifth kept things interesting for Law. But the Reds could not score until his teammates had punched out all five runs.

Jones finally hit a home run in the seventh and Frank Robinson did the same, good for two runs, in the eighth.

Jones was the last to cast doubt on the issue with a one-out single in the ninth. Law calmly set down the last two batters.

Law helped himself with a bases loaded sacrifice fly that produced a run in the fourth. Dick Stuart had led off the inning with a home run.

In the fifth Stuart drove in Roberto Clemente with a double and scored on Don Hoak's home run.

The nightcap was a tighter pitcher's struggle, with Bob Purkey giving up only six Pirate hits. But with the Reds helpless against Mizell, Purkey took a ninth defeat instead of the 18th victory he sought.

The only score came in the seventh inning when Hoak led off with a double and Dick Schofield doubled him home.

The Reds have a free day today before start of a two-game series at Milwaukee Tuesday.

Syracuse Opens Defense Of National Grid Title

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

National champion Syracuse rolls its heavy artillery into firing position Saturday when it opens its 1960 football operations against battered and bruised Boston University.

Steve Sinko's Terriers bit off more than they could chew when they scheduled Penn State and Syracuse for their first two opponents. The Nittany Lions, usually a power in the east, shut out BU in the opener for both schools last Saturday, 20-0.

The Orange should do even better. They were voted No. 1 in the country in the pre-season Associated Press poll, and against BU they should do no more than flex their mighty muscles in preparation for more important future business.

About half the teams in the country opened last week. The rubble that remained of some of the big boys was still being picked up after some of the opening day shockers.

Texas, Southern California and Pitt, ranked Nos. 4, 6 and 7, respectively, in the pre-season poll, were rudely dumped. Texas, the Southwest Conference co-champion, lost to Nebraska, 14-13; Southern Cal fell before Oregon State, 14-0, and Pitt was humbled by UCLA, 8-7.

Texas could be in for more trouble this week. The Longhorns play Maryland, a sleeper that chopped down West Virginia, 21-6. The Terps, who have been having rough sledding since the glory days of 1955, think they have a winner this year.

Southern Cal will try to pick up the pieces against Texas Christian, while Pitt entertains Michigan State, another rough customer, and No. 8 in the pre-season poll.

Nebraska's victory over Texas and Kansas' surprising 21-6 triumph over TCU, the other Southwest Conference co-champion, bodes no good for Oklahoma, which has won the Big Eight title the last 12 years.

The Sooners open this week against Northwestern. Nebraska will be at home to Minnesota and Kansas will try to make it two in a row at the expense of Kansas State.

Alabama provided another eye-opener by whipping Georgia, 21-6, in the national television game of the week. Georgia stormed through the tough Southeastern Conference undefeated last year. Alabama takes on Tulane this week while Georgia tackles Vanderbilt.

Other important Saturday scores included Navy 22, Boston College 7; Army 37, Buffalo 0; Missouri 20, Southern Methodist 0; Arkansas 9, Oklahoma State 0; Georgia Tech 23, Kentucky 13; Louisiana State 9, Texas A&M 0; Washington State 15, Stanford 14.

Oscar Signs With Royals

CINCINNATI (AP) — All-America Oscar Robertson Sunday signed a three-year agreement with the pro basketball Cincinnati Royals, ending vague reports he was considering other offers.

Robertson, three times a major college scoring record leader for the University of Cincinnati, was the No. 1 target of the Royals after the team's two disappointing past seasons. He's expected to perk up team play and attendance.

OSCAR ROBERTSON

Robertson, fresh from Olympic competition, declined to say how much pay he'll get, but reports indicated the contract includes an incentive clause based on attendance.

Robertson said he liked the agreement because "there are a few benefits in it, but it's mainly the money."

Three-times an All-America, Robertson's 2,972 points in 88 varsity games and his 33.8 points per game average are both national marks.

Hunter, 22, Loses Eye

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Edwin D. Forney, 22, of Youngstown, was in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital today after losing an eye in a hunting accident. James E. Stamm of Mineral Ridge told Trumbull County sheriff's deputies Sunday he fired a rifle shot at a squirrel near the bottom of a tree trunk and failed to see Forney in some bushes. At first Stamm had said the shot was fired by a stranger who ran away, the deputies reported.

Pike Pulled Out Of Beaver Creek

George Noah of Industry R. D. 1 proudly shows a Great Northern pike he caught Sunday in Beaver Creek to Deputy Sheriff Herman (Cy) Wellman.

Noah, who hooked the 22½-inch fish near Grimms Bridge, was happy to see Wellman along with Chief Deputy James Miller and St. Clair Township Constable John Jackson.

Landing the pike, which local fishermen say never has been seen previously in these waters, Noah was unable to spot anyone to witness his catch. The police officers drove in just as Noah was walking away from the bank.

The fish weighed 7 pounds, 9½ ounces and had a 12-inch girth.

Noah at first believed he had hooked a bass, but when the fish didn't break the water he realized he had something else. He was afraid of losing him on his light 4-pound test line with a spinning rod.

Noah said he was fishing for a muskellunge, which had broken his line after being hooked early this spring. "I'll get him one of these days," he commented.

Denver, Houston, Boston Pick Up Victories In AFL

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Patient Frank Filchock, a builder of champions at 43, has molded the unheralded Denver Broncos into a potent pro football aggregation with title aspirations in the Western Division of the fledgling American League.

Undaunted while his charges were pushed around in losing all five pre-season exhibitions, Filchock concentrated on providing the Denver club with a semblance of cohesion and balance by deftly analyzing his personnel, making the proper shifts and teaching his wing T offense.

With two games gone in the young AFL season, Filchock's Broncos have moved into first place in the west with an unblemished record after a 27-21 come-from-behind triumph over the Buffalo Bills Sunday.

Johnny Pyeatt's 33-yard run with an intercepted pass for a fourth quarter touchdown won it for Denver and Filchock, who brewed his coaching formula in the Canadian leagues where his teams finished in the playoffs eight of nine years.

Over 13,000 turned out to see the Broncos and Bills and 20,156 were on hand as Houston's Oilers riddled the vaunted Los Angeles Chargers 30-28. Another 19,200 saw the Boston Patriots edge the New York Titans 28-24 on the final play of a Saturday night thriller.

The National League—set to inaugurate its 41st season Friday night—wound up the exhibition season with the Green Bay Packers completing a 6-0 slate by walloping winless Washington 41-7 as Bart Starr passed for three touchdowns.

In other pre-season windups, Norm Van Brocklin pitched Philadelphia to a 35-21 victory over defending champion Baltimore; Bobby Mitchell went 10 yards for the deciding TD in Cleveland's 14-10 triumph over Detroit and St. Louis beat San Francisco 24-17.

Veteran quarterback George Blanda personally put the Oilers into first place in the east, setting up three touchdowns with his passes and scoring them on 1-yard plunges while adding a field goal and five conversions for 26 points. He was ably supported by a running attack led by Billy Cannon that overcame four TD strikes by Los Angeles' Jack Kemp.

Chuck Shonta, Boston defensive specialist, scooped up a loose ball that eluded a New York punter and scampered 25 yards for the winning score as time ran out. Al Dorow had passed the Titans into the lead with TD flips of 8, 16 and 38 yards and it stood up until the fatal kick play began with only 12 seconds left.

Goal-Line Stand Stops Indians In 6-0 Defeat

SALINEVILLE — A goal line stand by Tuscarawas on its own one-yard line in the fourth quarter gave the visitors a hard-fought 6-0 victory over Salineville here Saturday afternoon.

The only touchdown of the game came in the second period when Chester Summers climaxed a 73-yard drive by busting over from three yards away.

The contest played on a muddy field found both teams fumbling away opportunities.

Salineville received a break in the fourth quarter. Tuscarawas was faced with a fourth and 25 situation when a bad pass from center gave Salineville possession on the visitors 9-yard line.

The Indians drove to the one but couldn't cross the goal. Later in the fourth quarter, Salineville moved to the Tuscarawas 11 but lost the ball on a fumble.

Salineville lost its first game of the season after winning the opener over Jackson-Milton.

Lead Baltimore, Chisox By 4 Full Games; Sox Split

By The Associated Press

Suddenly the New York Yankees are in a position for "magic number" talk about pennant clinching instead of a nail-biting percentage lead.

The Yanks rose to the occasion to put down the Baltimore challenge over the weekend, sweeping all four games to break the American League race wide open.

Friday afternoon they led the Orioles by one percentage point. Today they sport a four-game lead over both Baltimore and Chicago.

The Yanks have 11 games to play. Baltimore and Chicago each have nine. Any combination of seven Yank victories or Oriole and White Sox defeats would nail it down.

There still is danger ahead for Manager Casey Stengel whose Yanks have found Washington their most troublesome rival. Five of their last 11 games are with the Senators, the other six with always tough Boston.

After beating Baltimore 7-3 with a slashing 12-hit attack in Sunday's opener, the Yanks came up with a gilt-edged pitching job by Ralph Terry in the 2-0 second game.

Terry had a perfect game going until he walked Brooks Robinson on a 3-2 count with two out in the seventh. Ronnie Hansen broke the no-hit spell by driving Terry's first pitch in the eighth over third base for a single. Jackie Brandt collected the other hit, a single with two out in the ninth.

Chicago missed a chance to take over second place all by itself. The White Sox whipped up a 15-hit attack, drubbing Detroit in the first game 8-4 with Nellie Fox chipping in three singles. The Tigers eked out a 7-6 margin in the second game.

Boston trimmed Washington 3-1 on a five-hit job by Bill Monbouquette and Mike Fornieles. Despite two-hit pitching by Cleveland's Bobby Locke and Don Newcombe, Kansas City edged the Tribe in the first game 3-2. Cleveland won the second 9-2 behind Barry Latman.

Despite homers by Rocky Colavito and Charlie Maxwell, the White Sox took charge of the first game at Detroit. They led in the long second game, too, but lost it in the seventh inning. The winning run scored from third while the Sox were running down Eddie Yost between third and second base, for the third out.

Willie Tasby's home run and a two-run single by Lu Clinton were the big blows for the Red Sox against Washington.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting, Don Hoak, Pirates — Drove in two decisive runs in 5-3 first game victory over Cincinnati and scored the only run of second game after hitting a double.

Pitching, Ralph Terry, Yanks—Held Orioles to two hits in 2-0 second game, pitching perfect game until he walked Brooks Robinson with two out in the seventh. A leadoff single by Ron Hansen in the eighth and a two-out single by Jackie Brandt in the ninth were the only Baltimore hits in second game after Yanks won opener 7-3.

Gunwielder Charged

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Gilbert Kilcoin, 43, of St. Marys, Pa., has been charged with shooting with intent to wound or kill for firing a shotgun in a local bar. Police say Kilcoin walked into the Thomas Cafe Saturday night armed with a shotgun, fired at and missed his wife and wounded four other persons, none seriously. Kilcoin was arrested later at the house of a married man who had been seeing Kilcoin's wife, Sue Ellen, police said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Jealous Child Needs Special Attention

"We have three children, 2½, 13 months and seven weeks. "I'm having trouble with my two-year-old. I know he is jealous of his little sister and also of the baby, but he is driving me insane. "All day long he picks on Susy, takes toys away from her, hits her and just picks on her all the time.

Garry C. Meyers

When he gets a chance, he loves and kisses the baby, but then he gets rough and I tell him to be nice and he hauls off and hits her in the head. "When I tell him to stop doing something bad or to stop teasing his sister, he keeps on doing it until I find myself screaming at him and getting the belt. I tell him not to throw the tops or not to touch the TV and he keeps throwing or touching until I hit him.

"I TRY NOT to holler and yell and scream at him, but I find myself losing control and screaming. Then when I'm through, I'm sorry I yelled at him. But I never know how to let him know I'm sorry because he doesn't let me get close to him.

"The minute I sit down to feed the baby, he gets into everything. I have to stay right behind him all day, yelling and hitting. He has got so whenever I come near him or walk toward him, he blinks because he thinks I'm going to hit him.

"Please help me. I do want so to be a good mother."

My reply in part:

It's not easy for you with those three little children. In the evening you might put the younger ones to bed and let the eldest boy stay up half an hour longer, when you could rock him, cuddle him and read and talk to him and have fun with him.

—:—

AT OTHER TIMES during the day, you might, in like manner, devote special attention to him; so might his dad. Both you parents and your relatives and neighbors should try to help this little fellow feel he is your big boy.

But you do need to teach him to respect "No", said by you once. You don't need a strap. Just use your bare flat hand on his thigh after barnig it.

You must, of course, protect the younger children. Be sure, also, they do not take or mess up his things.

When he bothers the younger ones as you feed them, sit him without amusement in a chair, where you can see him, until they have finished. Let him learn that when he gets down too soon he will get an instant sound smacking.

If he would like to feed himself while they eat, why not let him do so?

My bulletins, "Jealousy," "How to Teach Tot Meaning of No" and "Stubborness," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Doctor Says Runnels Has Stomach Ulcer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pete Runnels, the American League batting leader, has played the last month for the Boston Red Sox with a stomach ulcer.

The Red Sox second baseman disclosed his ailment Sunday before slamming out two singles in four trips to hold his average at .321.

Runnels found out what had been bothering him after an examination at the clinic of Dr. George Resta, Washington Senators' team physician.

"I imagine I'll be put on a milk diet with medication and I'm sure I'll be okay," Runnels said.

Drink Permit Refused

SALEM — The State Board of Liquor Control said today at Columbus it has rejected an application for a carry-out beer and wine permit for Stephen A. Bartha, operator of Stephen's Super Market at 1460 Southeast Plaza. The plaza is in an area which formerly was part of Perry Township, annexed in May 1952 by the city of Salem.

LISBON — Alex Margosiak, 46, of Youngstown, cited here Wednesday for failure to yield the right-of-way, forfeited a $25 appearance bond Saturday in Mayor's court.

Sweden Backing Welfare System, Socialistic Plans

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Sweden decided Sunday to march ahead to a care-for-all welfare state under the command of Socialist Premier Tage Erlander.

General elections to the powerful second chamber of the Swedish Parliament gave the head of the world's oldest Labor government a strong vote of confidence.

Preliminary figures showed the Social-Democratic Labor party, which has dominated the Swedish Parliament since 1932, outpolled the Conservatives and Communists.

Central campaign issues were:

1. The 4.2 per cent turnover tax imposed by the government to pay for the steadily rising costs of the social welfare system.

2. The compulsory pension bill, adopted by Parliament last year, which will give every Swede, retiring at age 67, 65 per cent of his average salary during his 15 best working years.

Jerry Lucas Marries OSU Coed At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's All - America basketball star Jerry Lucas and his bride of one day, 18-year-old Treva Jane Geib, were honeymooning today at an undisclosed spot.

A campus courtship that started after they met at a party, and later in the same botany class, matured Sunday night into a wedding at Clinton Heights Lutheran Church here.

A crowd of some 400 well-wishers witnessed the marriage of the 20-year-old cage star from Middletown and the bride he romanced this past school year.

At 6-foot-8, Lucas towers a foot taller than his wife, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Geib of Columbus.

The newlyweds—he's a junior and she's a sophomore at OSU—will live in an apartment near the campus when they return from their honeymoon.

Lucas' basketball prowess at Middletown High School brought him state and national fame even before he entered Ohio State. He led the Buckeyes to the Big Ten and NCAA titles earlier this year. Recently he returned from the Olympics in Rome where he starred on the championship United States basketball team.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ervin E. Krebs. The bride's 16-year - old sister, Becky, was maid of honor, and the groom's best man was his brother, Roy, a sophomore at Morehead State College in Kentucky.

Two other members of the Ohio State basketball team, John Havlicek and Richie Hoyt, were ushers.

Gunwielder Charged

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Gilbert Kilcoin, 43, of St. Marys, Pa., has been charged with shooting with intent to wound or kill for firing a shotgun in a local bar. Police say Kilcoin walked into the Thomas Cafe Saturday night armed with a shotgun, fired at and missed his wife and wounded four other persons, none seriously. Kilcoin was arrested later at the house of a married man who had been seeing Kilcoin's wife, Sue Ellen, police said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Jealous Child Needs Special Attention

"We have three children, 2½, 13 months and seven weeks. "I'm having trouble with my two-year-old. I know he is jealous of his little sister and also of the baby, but he is driving me insane. "All day long he picks on Susy, takes toys away from her, hits her and just picks on her all the time.

Garry C. Meyers

When he gets a chance, he loves and kisses the baby, but then he gets rough and I tell him to be nice and he hauls off and hits her in the head. "When I tell him to stop doing something bad or to stop teasing his sister, he keeps on doing it until I find myself screaming at him and getting the belt. I tell him not to throw the tops or not to touch the TV and he keeps throwing or touching until I hit him.

"I TRY NOT to holler and yell and scream at him, but I find myself losing control and screaming. Then when I'm through, I'm sorry I yelled at him. But I never know how to let him know I'm sorry because he doesn't let me get close to him.

"The minute I sit down to feed the baby, he gets into everything. I have to stay right behind him all day, yelling and hitting. He has got so whenever I come near him or walk toward him, he blinks because he thinks I'm going to hit him.

"Please help me. I do want so to be a good mother."

My reply in part:

It's not easy for you with those three little children. In the evening you might put the younger ones to bed and let the eldest boy stay up half an hour longer, when you could rock him, cuddle him and read and talk to him and have fun with him.

—:—

AT OTHER TIMES during the day, you might, in like manner, devote special attention to him; so might his dad. Both you parents and your relatives and neighbors should try to help this little fellow feel he is your big boy.

But you do need to teach him to respect "No", said by you once. You don't need a strap. Just use your bare flat hand on his thigh after barnig it.

You must, of course, protect the younger children. Be sure, also, they do not take or mess up his things.

When he bothers the younger ones as you feed them, sit him without amusement in a chair, where you can see him, until they have finished. Let him learn that when he gets down too soon he will get an instant sound smacking.

If he would like to feed himself while they eat, why not let him do so?

My bulletins, "Jealousy," "How to Teach Tot Meaning of No" and "Stubborness," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Doctor Says Runnels Has Stomach Ulcer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pete Runnels, the American League batting leader, has played the last month for the Boston Red Sox with a stomach ulcer.

The Red Sox second baseman disclosed his ailment Sunday before slamming out two singles in four trips to hold his average at .321.

Runnels found out what had been bothering him after an examination at the clinic of Dr. George Resta, Washington Senators' team physician.

"I imagine I'll be put on a milk diet with medication and I'm sure I'll be okay," Runnels said.

Drink Permit Refused

SALEM — The State Board of Liquor Control said today at Columbus it has rejected an application for a carry-out beer and wine permit for Stephen A. Sweden Backing Welfare System, Socialistic Plans

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Sweden decided Sunday to march ahead to a care-for-all welfare state under the command of Socialist Premier Tage Erlander.

General elections to the powerful second chamber of the Swedish Parliament gave the head of the world's oldest Labor government a strong vote of confidence.

Preliminary figures showed the Social-Democratic Labor party, which has dominated the Swedish Parliament since 1932, outpolled the Conservatives and Communists.

Central campaign issues were:

1. The 4.2 per cent turnover tax imposed by the government to pay for the steadily rising costs of the social welfare system.

2. The compulsory pension bill, adopted by Parliament last year, which will give every Swede, retiring at age 67, 65 per cent of his average salary during his 15 best working years.

Jerry Lucas Marries OSU Coed At Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's All - America basketball star Jerry Lucas and his bride of one day, 18-year-old Treva Jane Geib, were honeymooning today at an undisclosed spot.

A campus courtship that started after they met at a party, and later in the same botany class, matured Sunday night into a wedding at Clinton Heights Lutheran Church here.

A crowd of some 400 well-wishers witnessed the marriage of the 20-year-old cage star from Middletown and the bride he romanced this past school year.

At 6-foot-8, Lucas towers a foot taller than his wife, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Geib of Columbus.

The newlyweds—he's a junior and she's a sophomore at OSU—will live in an apartment near the campus when they return from their honeymoon.

Lucas' basketball prowess at Middletown High School brought him state and national fame even before he entered Ohio State. He led the Buckeyes to the Big Ten and NCAA titles earlier this year. Recently he returned from the Olympics in Rome where he starred on the championship United States basketball team.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ervin E. Krebs. The bride's 16-year - old sister, Becky, was maid of honor, and the groom's best man was his brother, Roy, a sophomore at Morehead State College in Kentucky.

Two other members of the Ohio State basketball team, John Havlicek and Richie Hoyt, were ushers.

Democrats End Session

DiSalle Planks Supported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won support from the Democratic state convention on three of his four proposals which he said should be included as planks in the party platform.

The 4,000-word platform, adopted unanimously Saturday by only a handful of delegates as the final act of the two-day convention, includes DiSalle - requested planks providing:

Support for his administrative edict against conflict of interest involving state officials.

Support for his plea for more truthful reporting of election campaign spending and limiting such expenditures.

Firm backing for his fight to supplant the present "replacement cost new" formula—for figuring rate bases of utility companies—with a "fair value" formula.

But DiSalle failed to get convention backing on a proposed plank to make criminal conspiracy a felony under state law. The 1959 legislature also turned him down on that proposal.

The platform asked: "What better proof could be offered on a party's trustworthiness" than to compare its 1958 platform with its record in office in the following two years?

The 1958 platform, the Democratic document asserted, made 34 specific pledges. And, it went on, 31 are in effect either through changes in the law or by executive order.

The 1960 platform did not make any apologies for the 1959 tax increases approved by the Democratic-controlled legislature. Rather, it noted:

"We are proud of (our) accomplistments. We are equally proud that in fulfilling our pledges of 1958 we have rescued Ohio from the fiscal irresponsibility into which the previous administration and legislature had plunged it."

The platform added:

"We have not contended and do not contend now that these gains did not require money. They required a great deal of money. We proudly include in our record of accomplishments the political courage not only to support these programs, but also to raise the money required to implement them."

In surveying the record of the last 18 months, the platform found:

"Our Democratic governor and legislature have laid a solid foundation for schools which will enable children to meet the challenge flung by Soviet imperialism abroad and the 20th Century problems at home; for mental hospitals which are something more than decrepit places where hapless human beings grow old and die; for juvenile delinquency and penal programs which lead youthful and adult offenders into constructive citizenship; for programs for the unemployed, the destitute and the ill which reflect the rising cost of living and rising standards of human dignity; for a society in which the brotherhood of man is a fact for people of all races, creeds and national origins."

Looking toward the future, the platform makes these pledges:

Education

"We favor constant administrative and legislative attention to the organization problems of education, at all of its echelons, so that the maximum efficiency in school administration consistent with good education is achieved. We also pledged adequate financial support to education at all levels."

Public Welfare

". . . There are significant problems which yet demand attention. A health care program for dependent children is an unmet need in Ohio. A health care program for those who are 65 years of age or older but not recipients of aid for the aged must be planned and placed into effect so Ohio can participate in the federal medical assistance program.

Civil Rights

"In 1961 we shall continue our battle for the rights of man. . .. Our laws which forbid discrimination in places of public accommodation should be strengthened. We will extend the jurisdiction of the Ohio Civil Rights Commission to discrimination in places serving the public. . . ."

Agriculture

". . . We pledge our assistance and increased efforts toward the improvement of farm services and facilities on a state level by such means as research, marketing, water and soil conservation, agricultural education and experimentation. . . . We will continue to support and improve the Ohio State Fair. . . ."

Conservation of Natural Resources

"Long-range programming of Ohio's resources development is essential. Recreational facilities must be planned and developed well in advance of use. We favor strict enforcement of our strip mining and pollution laws. They should be strengthened wherever necessary for proper conservation and use of our resources. The activities of the new Ohio Water Commission should be encouraged and expanded."

Highways

"We . . . have an annual $300 million highway construction program in operation and shall continue to work for congressional action in 1961 to fulfill the commitments of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956. . . . We shall continue cooperation with local governments and associated agencies in re-evaluating the needs of the metropolitan and rural areas of the state, and in carrying out a comprehensive program for the orderly development of transportation facilities. . . . We will increase the number of roadside parks on state as well as interstate highways. . . . Our highway traffic laws should be strengthened as an aid to reduce the slaughter and damage occurring on our highways. We favor an increase in the manpower of the State Highway Patrol. . .

Law and Order

"Too often local enforcement officials are unable to reach the powerful individuals who pull the strings and are the real profiteers from commercialized vice and syndicated crime. We propose to give local law enforcement officials the weapons needed to curb such lawlessness without jeopardizing the rights of innocent persons."

Conflict of Interests

"We are opposed to the acceptance of any gifts by public employes and officials when the gifts are obviously intended to influence, directly or indirectly, official action. The governor already has formulated a code of ethics for public employes and officials in the executive branch of government. We pledge our best efforts to see that a code of ethics is adopted for employes and officials in all branches of the government."

Hancock House Member Attacks Crime Quiz Cost

Charging that money spent on the West Virginia Crime Commission investigations was "wasted," Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester, member of the House of Delegates from Hancock County, is awaiting the proposals the commission will make in the coming legislative session.

Miss Tsapis, who fought the formation of the crime probe group through the last sessions of the Legislature, said that the bill for the commission prior to the Wheeling hearings was $12,000, and that the "price tags on those sessions has not been announced as yet."

"I am still of the opinion that the money was wasted and could have been better spent to get rid of crime and vice," she added.

When asked if she thought the commission would recommend liquor-by-the-drink at the next session, she said, "This I doubt, knowing the opinions of many legislators, liquor-by-the-drink is not in the foreseeable future."

She pointed to the fact that the co-chairman of the commission, J. C. Cruikshank of Clay County, is considered a leading opponent of the sale of whisky over the bar.

Jap Prince Confesses To Diaper Aid For Son

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito said today that he sometimes changes his 7-month-old son's diapers and bathes him "when no one else is around."

The heir to Japan's ancient throne made the disclosure at an unusual news conference when the palace set a precedent by admitting foreign newsmen for the first time.

Film Leader Taken

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Benjamin B. Kahane, 68, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and a vice president of Columbia Pictures Corp., died in his sleep Sunday of a heart attack. In 1958, he won an honorary Oscar for distinguished service to the motion picture industry.

India, Pakistan Ready To Sign Water Treaty

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India arrived today to sign the Indus water treaty with Pakistan—a treaty made possible by a billion-dollar investment for peace by the World Bank and six of its members.

After the signing, Nehru will stay in Pakistan five days to talk with President Mohammad Ayub Khan about the Kashmir dispute and other problems between the two countries.

Ayub has expressed the hope the division of waters of the Indus Basin will lead to a settlement of other issues between the two countries. Nehru and Ayub were cheered as they rode together through the streets in an open car.

An estimated one million Chinese built the 715-mile Burma Road in a year, using hammers and hoes and carrying gravel surfacing in wicker baskets.

TST Announces New Yellow Ware Coloring

A "first" in yellow dinnerware coloring has been announced by the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., with the introduction of a new pattern, "Shannon Rose."

John Gilkes, director of design said, "A yellow of this purity and clarity has long been sought but never before quite captured by the ceramics industry."

To introduce this sunshine yellow, Gilkes created a rose motif pattern called "Shannon Rose." It picks up the yellow of the holloware interiors in a full-blown rose with soft green foliage.

Shapes in the "Ever Yours Collection" blend equally well with either traditional or contemporary furnishings, Gilkes said.

Pope's Envoy Barred By East German Reds

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist regime of East Germany has barred the Pope's envoy from East Berlin.

Archbishop Corrado Bafile says he was prevented from attending a prayer service in a Roman Catholic church in East Berlin Saturday night. The archbishop is an Italian national with ambassadorial rank as the papal nuncio to West Germany.

Democrats End Session

DiSalle Planks Supported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won support from the Democratic state convention on three of his four proposals which he said should be included as planks in the party platform.

The 4,000-word platform, adopted unanimously Saturday by only a handful of delegates as the final act of the two-day convention, includes DiSalle - requested planks providing:

Support for his administrative edict against conflict of interest involving state officials.

Support for his plea for more truthful reporting of election campaign spending and limiting such expenditures.

Firm backing for his fight to supplant the present "replacement cost new" formula—for figuring rate bases of utility companies—with a "fair value" formula.

But DiSalle failed to get convention backing on a proposed plank to make criminal conspiracy a felony under state law. The 1959 legislature also turned him down on that proposal.

The platform asked: "What better proof could be offered on a party's trustworthiness" than to compare its 1958 platform with its record in office in the following two years?

The 1958 platform, the Democratic document asserted, made 34 specific pledges. And, it went on, 31 are in effect either through changes in the law or by executive order.

The 1960 platform did not make any apologies for the 1959 tax increases approved by the Democratic-controlled legislature. Rather, it noted:

"We are proud of (our) accomplishments. We are equally proud that in fulfilling our pledges of 1958 we have rescued Ohio from the fiscal irresponsibility into which the previous administration and legislature had plunged it."

The platform added:

"We have not contended and do not contend now that these gains did not require money. They required a great deal of money. We proudly include in our record of accomplishments the political courage not only to support these programs, but also to raise the money required to implement them."

In surveying the record of the last 18 months, the platform found:

"Our Democratic governor and legislature have laid a solid foundation for schools which will enable children to meet the challenge flung by Soviet imperialism abroad and the 20th Century problems at home; for mental hospitals which are something more than decrepit places where hapless human beings grow old and die; for juvenile delinquency and penal programs which lead youthful and adult offenders into constructive citizenship; for programs for the unemployed, the destitute and the ill which reflect the rising cost of living and rising standards of human dignity; for a society in which the brotherhood of man is a fact for people of all races, creeds and national origins."

Looking toward the future, the platform makes these pledges:

Education

"We favor constant administrative and legislative attention to the organization problems of education, at all of its echelons, so that the maximum efficiency in school administration consistent with good education is achieved. We also pledged adequate financial support to education at all levels."

Public Welfare

". . . There are significant problems which yet demand attention. A health care program for dependent children is an unmet need in Ohio. A health care program for those who are 65 years of age or older but not recipients of aid for the aged must be planned and placed into effect so Ohio can participate in the federal medical assistance program.

Civil Rights

"In 1961 we shall continue our battle for the rights of man. . .. Our laws which forbid discrimination in places of public accommodation should be strengthened. We will extend the jurisdiction of the Ohio Civil Rights Commission to discrimination in places serving the public. . . ."

Agriculture

". . . We pledge our assistance and increased efforts toward the improvement of farm services and facilities on a state level by such means as research, marketing, water and soil conservation, agricultural education and experimentation. . . . We will continue to support and improve the Ohio State Fair. . . ."

Conservation of Natural Resources

"Long-range programming of Ohio's resources development is essential. Recreational facilities must be planned and developed well in advance of use. We favor strict enforcement of our strip mining and pollution laws. They should be strengthened wherever necessary for proper conservation and use of our resources. The activities of the new Ohio Water Commission should be encouraged and expanded."

Highways

"We . . . have an annual $300 million highway construction program in operation and shall continue to work for congressional action in 1961 to fulfill the commitments of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956. . . . We shall continue cooperation with local governments and associated agencies in re-evaluating the needs of the metropolitan and rural areas of the state, and in carrying out a comprehensive program for the orderly development of transportation facilities. . . . We will increase the number of roadside parks on state as well as interstate highways. . . . Our highway traffic laws should be strengthened as an aid to reduce the slaughter and damage occurring on our highways. We favor an increase in the manpower of the State Highway Patrol. . .

Law and Order

"Too often local enforcement officials are unable to reach the powerful individuals who pull the strings and are the real profiteers from commercialized vice and syndicated crime. We propose to give local law enforcement officials the weapons needed to curb such lawlessness without jeopardizing the rights of innocent persons."

Conflict of Interests

"We are opposed to the acceptance of any gifts by public employes and officials when the gifts are obviously intended to influence, directly or indirectly, official action. The governor already has formulated a code of ethics for public employes and officials in the executive branch of government. We pledge our best efforts to see that a code of ethics is adopted for employes and officials in all branches of the government."

Hancock House Member Attacks Crime Quiz Cost

Charging that money spent on the West Virginia Crime Commission investigations was "wasted," Miss Callie Tsapis of Chester, member of the House of Delegates from Hancock County, is awaiting the proposals the commission will make in the coming legislative session.

Miss Tsapis, who fought the formation of the crime probe group through the last sessions of the Legislature, said that the bill for the commission prior to the Wheeling hearings was $12,000, and that the "price tags on those sessions has not been announced as yet."

"I am still of the opinion that the money was wasted and could have been better spent to get rid of crime and vice," she added.

When asked if she thought the commission would recommend liquor-by-the-drink at the next session, she said, "This I doubt, knowing the opinions of many legislators, liquor-by-the-drink is not in the foreseeable future."

She pointed to the fact that the co-chairman of the commission, J. C. Cruikshank of Clay County, is considered a leading opponent of the sale of whisky over the bar.

Jap Prince Confesses To Diaper Aid For Son

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito said today that he sometimes changes his 7-month-old son's diapers and bathes him "when no one else is around."

The heir to Japan's ancient throne made the disclosure at an unusual news conference when the palace set a precedent by admitting foreign newsmen for the first time.

Film Leader Taken

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Benjamin B. Kahane, 68, president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and a vice president of Columbia Pictures Corp., died in his sleep Sunday of a heart attack. In 1958, he won an honorary Oscar for distinguished service to the motion picture industry.

India, Pakistan Ready To Sign Water Treaty

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India arrived today to sign the Indus water treaty with Pakistan—a treaty made possible by a billion-dollar investment for peace by the World Bank and six of its members.

After the signing, Nehru will stay in Pakistan five days to talk with President Mohammad Ayub Khan about the Kashmir dispute and other problems between the two countries.

Ayub has expressed the hope the division of waters of the Indus Basin will lead to a settlement of other issues between the two countries. Nehru and Ayub were cheered as they rode together through the streets in an open car.

An estimated one million Chinese built the 715-mile Burma Road in a year, using hammers and hoes and carrying gravel surfacing in wicker baskets.

TST Announces New Yellow Ware Coloring

A "first" in yellow dinnerware coloring has been announced by the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., with the introduction of a new pattern, "Shannon Rose."

John Gilkes, director of design said, "A yellow of this purity and clarity has long been sought but never before quite captured by the ceramics industry."

To introduce this sunshine yellow, Gilkes created a rose motif pattern called "Shannon Rose." It picks up the yellow of the hollowware interiors in a full-blown rose with soft green foliage.

Shapes in the "Ever Yours Collection" blend equally well with either traditional or contemporary furnishings, Gilkes said.

Pope's Envoy Barred By East German Reds

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist regime of East Germany has barred the Pope's envoy from East Berlin.

Archbishop Corrado Bafile says he was prevented from attending a prayer service in a Roman Catholic church in East Berlin Saturday night. The archbishop is an Italian national with ambassadorial rank as the papal nuncio to West Germany.
